Chrysler, Auto Union Reach Agreement

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union reached agreement today on a new three-year contract just minutes short of a scheduled 10 a.m. (EST) strike deadline for 74,000 company hourly rated employes.

UAW President Walter Reuther termed the contract agreement "the most historic agreement in the history of the American labor movement."

Reuther told newsmen the settlement included a pension plan calling for up to $400 a month payment in benefits at the age of 60 years for workers with 30 years service.

Reuther said negotiators still were working on language technicalities but that a three-year agreement had been reached on all major issues.

Without a contract, a crippling walkout would have hit Chrysler's 40 plants in 12 states and shut down production just as the new 1965 models have started rolling off the assembly lines.

Reuther said he had notified all local units across the nation of the settlement.

There still was a remote possibility of scattered walkouts on local plant agreements — but more than half of the 106 UAW bargaining units already have reported settlement of their problems.

Reuther said the agreement added two new paid holidays for each worker — Good Friday and the birthday of each employe. The auto company previously granted six full holidays and two half days.

He said the UAW had achieved an historic pension agreement which under certain conditions would give a worker 60 years old with 30 years service a $400-a-month pension. The agreement also included an increase in current pensions for those already retired. Reuther estimated the over-all economic package at 15 cents more than the offer which Chrysler made to the UAW on Aug. 17.

That offer originally was evaluated by the UAW at 39 cents an hour.

The UAW leader said his International Executive Board will meet tonight to chart its course of action at Ford and General Motors.

Chrysler Vice President-Management John D. Leary expressed satisfaction with the settlement. He said, "We are glad Chrysler will now be able to have the stability it needs to continue uninterrupted production."

Strike placards were prepared several days in advance at union locals for distribution to pickets who were to be posted at plant gates the minute the three-year contract expired.

When the UAW pinpointed Chrysler as its No. 1 strike target, it agreed to extend the current contract nine days beyond its original Aug. 31 expiration date.

Agreements with General Motors and Ford, the other members of the auto industry's Big Three, also were continued to Sept. 9. Upon their expiration at 11:59 p.m. these contracts presumably will be renewed on a day-to-day basis.

UAW President Walter Reuther said that after the Chrysler agreement is reached, the union will turn its attention to Ford. GM will be the last of the big three to be faced with a strike ultimatum.

Chrysler, GM and Ford last month offered the UAW virtually identical contracts, embracing higher wages, improved pension benefits, more vacation and holiday pay, and other fringe benefits.

Industry spokesmen described the proposals as "generous". But the union rejected the offer as "unfair, inadequate, unrealistic and inequitable."

A union source said the UAW has a strike benefit fund of $67 million that would underwrite a walkout at Chrysler for 35 weeks.

President, Aides Confer On New Viet Nam Moves

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson summoned his top military and diplomatic advisers to a White House conference today to consider new moves the United States might make to strengthen the anti-Communist war effort in srtife-torn South Viet Nam.

Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, who returned from Saigon Monday, has already held two days of discussions with State and Defense department leaders on the South Vietnamese crisis.

The White House meeting was called for midmorning with Taylor, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara as principal participants.

Taylor held a private discussion with Johnson Tuesday night, presumably to lay the groundwork for today's session.

Informants said the consensus developed so far in the policy re-examination occasioned by Taylor's return to Washington is that the situation in South Viet Nam continues to be precarious due to the prolonged government crisis.

The crisis began in August and has brought several changes in top South Vietnamese government personnel. In the U.S. view, Premier Nguyen Khanh continues to provide the best hope for bringing order out of the political chaos in the country.

Taylor and top Washington officials are reported to feel that the highest priority in U.S. policy must still be assigned to the task of encouraging South Vietnamese leaders to create political stability and to concentrate their major military efforts in South Viet Nam itself.

It is also reported on excellent authority that Taylor is deeply concerned about the problem of the flow of supplies and reinforcements of trained Communist Viet Cong personnel from Red North Viet Nam into the south through the jungles of southeastern Laos.

The jungle trails led through the staging area in the vicinity of the Lao town of Tchepone, which is about 25 miles from the Lao-Vietnamese border.

Taylor is understood to have told officials here that the U.S. government should consider making air strikes against the Communist concentration points around Tchepone as one means of interdicting the assistance to the Viet Cong of North Viet Nam.

In reports from Saigon, Taylor's position has been represented as one of a desire to broaden the war against the Reds. References to broadening the war ordinarily also embrace the idea of making attacks directly on military centers in North Viet Nam.

Informants here said Taylor has not urged broadening the war. Persons most familiar with his views on strategy and tactics say that Taylor has not in fact pressed for early air assault on the Tchepone area but has said that the question of making such strikes is one which the U.S. government should now consider seriously as a future line of action.

Officials here have been concerned in their talks with the problem of making clear to the Communist side that in spite of the political upheavals in Saigon and periodic talk in this country and abroad about a negotiated settlement, the United States has no intention of weakening its support for South Viet Nam or of withdrawing from the struggle.

HL Plant 7 Kiln Crews Out Again

35 To 40 Leave Job 2nd Time Despite IBOP Policy Talks

About 35 to 40 kilnhands at the Homer Laughlin China Co. walked off the job shortly before noon for the second time in two days in a dispute over working conditions.

A company spokesman said a long meeting was held with the kilnhands this morning at which they were advised by an IBOP representative that grievance procedure set up in the contract must be followed in settling the dispute.

The dispute centered around Plant 7, the spokesman said, and started Tuesday.

The strike continued all day yesterday with the workers finally returning to their jobs this morning after the company refused to meet on the dispute until the kilnhands were back at work, the spokesman said.

5-Foot Waves Hit Beaches At Daytona And St. Petersburg

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Dora, thrashing slowly toward the Florida coast, knocked out telephone service at Marineland today with 81-mile-an-hour gusts and sent gales whistling through the quaint streets of St. Augustine.

Six-foot tides crashed into the beach at Marineland, a tourist spot noted for its collection of living sea creatures, as the giant tropical storm lashed the Atlantic.

This 400-year-old city of 15,000, oldest in the nation, lay in the path of the storm. Dora, slowed down to an eight-mile-an-hour travel, was centered 100 miles east-southeast of the city and moving toward the northwest.

Highest winds were estimated to have dropped from 125 to 115 miles an hour.

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Vero Beach, Fla., to Brunswick, Ga., and gale warnings with a hurricane watch were extended northward to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Eastern Air Lines canceled its flight today from Philadelphia to Jacksonville, Daytona Beach and Melbourne, Fla. The flight was terminated at Washington.

Thirty miles north of St. Augustine, the city of Jacksonville braced for what could be the first head-on blow by a hurricane in its history. Highest wind ever recorded in this city of 250,000 was 86 miles an hour in gusts in 1944.

A five-foot tide topped by crashing waves rolled into the beach along the oceanside of a narrow peninsula just across Matanzas Bay from St. Augustine.

Commissioners OK Tentative Plan For Sanitary Job

Hancock County commissioners gave conditional approval to a plan to provide funds for hiring a third sanitary engineer for the County Health Department at a meeting Tuesday in the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Norman D. Ferrari, chairman of the Board of Health, asked commissioners to transfer $7,000 from the general fund to the Health Department fund to provide for expenses of the third engineer.

Ferrari said the three sanitary engineers will meet jointly with the Board of Health and commissioners to arrange for a health program.

The program, he said, would include food-handling schools for restaurant personnel, in addition to extended testing of water and milk, and checking of septic tanks.

Under the program, two sanitarians would set up the school for food handlers in Weirton, and later the Weirton program would be turned over to the one sanitary engineer. Then a simi-

5,606 Enrolled In City's Schools

Enrollment in East Liverpool schools totaled 5,606 this morning, about 90 less than anticipated and 10 fewer than were registered on the opening day of the 1963-64 term, Supt. Paul H. Blair's office reported.

However, the attendance is expected to pick up gradually the rest of the week with more accurate figures available early next week.

ELEMENTARY schools registered 2,944 pupils, a decline of 100 from the estimated 3,054 while the high school enrollment reached 1,350 in three classes, a dip of 71 from pre-school estimates.

Attendance at the two junior highs totaled 1,312, Blair's office said.

The biggest drop in the elementary grades was at Westgate where 663 were enrolled, including 12 special education students. School officials had anticipated an enrollment of 743.

GARFIELD, 235 including 14 special education students; Glenmoor, 291; Horace Mann, 310; Klondyke, 97; LaCroft, 238; Lincoln, 310; McKinley, 251; Neville, 151; Pleasant Heights, 172, and Taft, 226.

Council Votes Pay Boosts At Sewage Plant

Monthly salary increases for four employes of the sewage treatment plant and a change in the method of computing holiday pay for all salaried city employes except police and firemen were approved Tuesday night by City Council.

Acting on a request made Aug. 17 by the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water and sewage departments, Council unanimously adopted an ordinance establishing the salaries of the four operators at $390 a month, effective Oct. 16.

The $45 monthly boosts place the sewage department employes on a par with the rate paid operators at the water plant.

Although the change in computing the holiday pay also had been requested by the utilities board, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper advised Council in a caucus session that it affects all salaried city employes except police and firemen.

The new formula, included in the same legislation with the pay boosts, provides that employes who work on New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving or Christmas shall receive their regular pay plus an amount to be computed by dividing their monthly salary by 182 — the number of hours worked in an average month.

In the two requests to Council, W. O. Schneider, chairman, said the sewage plant operators began work at a reduced rate when the treatment plant was opened about 1958.

The Council then in office agreed that when the operators completed a "break-in" period they would be granted increases placing them on a par with water works operators but the procedure never was followed, Schneider said.

In the change in computing holiday pay, Schneider said it would affect six water department employes and three at the sewage plant.

Council Hears Protests

Maplewood Group Urges Storm Sewer Extension

A delegation of angry Maplewood residents asked Council Tuesday night to seek extension of a 42-inch storm sewer, part of the drainage system being installed in connection with the St. Clair Ave. improvement, to avoid water collecting in a low-lying area near Azalea Ave. and Cook St.

Council also heard complaints in its "personal privilege" section from Pleasant Heights residents about the need for a sanitary sewer in the Northside - Oakwood - Sunnyside Ave. sector.

Following the meeting, Council conferred in caucus with some of the Maplewood residents and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and Engineer George Bloomgren to investigate what can be done to eliminate what the residents termed both a health and safety threat.

The Maplewood residents said the drainage plans call for all surface water from Riverview Cemetery to Park Blvd. to drain through the 42-inch storm sewer on the west side of St. Clair Ave. At present, water on the east side of St. Clair empties into an open ditch.

Residents said they don't believe they should be required to take care of water running from all the neighborhoods, pointing out it not only threatens their property but constitutes a danger to children attracted by pools.

They said the 42-inch storm sewer would provide drainage at a faster rate than a 24-inch sewer which already has been

Appeal Filed In Sheppard Court Ruling

State Claims Jurist Lacked Authority In Prison Release

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The state of Ohio contended today that U.S. District Judge Carl A. Weinman lacked authority to void Samuel H. Sheppard's wife-murder conviction because the Cleveland osteopath failed to exhaust his remedies in Ohio courts.

The state is appealing Weinman's order permitting Sheppard to walk out of Ohio Penitentiary July 16 under $10,000 bond after nearly 10 years behind bars.

Weinman asserted that excessive publicity denied Sheppard a fair trial and ordered Cuyahoga County to retry him within 60 days or let him remain free.

The circuit court has scheduled an Oct. 8 hearing on the state's appeal. Counsel for Sheppard is expected to file a brief before that date.

Ohio's Supreme Court, which upheld Sheppard's second - degree murder conviction in the bludgeon slaying of his wife, Marilyn, July 4, 19554, dismissed his request for a habeas corpus release in 1961.

Kessler contended that the dismissal was procedural and that the court should act on merits of the action before Sheppard could go into federal court.

The brief said it was not shown that Cuyahoga County common pleas court jurors were prejudiced by widespread publicity at the trial as asserted by Weinman.

Sentenced to a life term, Sheppard has been slated for parole consideration next month.

Vows To Halt Trend

Goldwater Rips Spending Spree

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, in a determined drive to pick up the Western states he sees as his presidential base, promises that if elected he will halt what he calls the "wild spending spree" by the Democrats.

"What will your choice be?" Goldwater asked a roaring crowd in Los Angeles' three-tiered baseball stadium. "More power for Washington? Less power for your home state and your town? More money for wasteful government? Less money for productive, individual uses?

"No. Our choice is progress through freedom!"

Goldwater had his largest crowd Tuesday night — the scoreboard said 53,120 were in the ball park that can seat 56,000 — and he got a rousing welcome, so rousing he couldn't speak until the message was flashed in big lights in leftfield: "Let's hear Barry."

In 1960 Richard M. Nixon carried California, Oregon and Washington. Goldwater hopes to win them, too.

California is the big prize.

It has 40 big electoral votes, and it has special appeal for Goldwater. It was here, in the presidential primaries, that he

Board Member Explains High School Land Needs

Why does East Liverpool need a new high school on a new and larger site?

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, member of the Board of Education, issued a statement today concerning the need for at least 24 acres for the proposed high school, part of a construction project on which school district residents will ballot Tuesday.

MRS. DUNLOP said the need for adequate outside activities for students along with parking areas and — most important of all — the need for future expansion of school programs requires a larger site.

"The National Council on School Construction recommends a site of 30 acres for a school plus one acre for each 100 pupils," she said. "This would mean a 42-acre site for us."

However, because we will continue to use Patterson Field for football and the Memorial Auditorium for basketball, the allotment of acreage for the school itself can be 10 acres, plus one acre for each 100 pupils," she explained.

Mrs. Dunlop spoke of the board's study of the high school need a few years ago during

Patrol Plane Crash Kills 5 In China Sea

MANILA (AP)—A U.S. Navy patrol plane with 13 crewmen on board crashed in the South China Sea Tuesday, the U.S. Navy announced today. A spokesman said five men were killed and the others rescued.

The plane, a twin-engine P2 Neptune, was on an operational patrol flight, the Navy said.

The destroyer Maddox, operating in the vicinity, picked up the survivors, a spokesman at Sangley Point Naval Air Station said. The Maddox was the Navy ship engaged in the Gulf of Tonkin crisis last month.

The cause of the crash is not known and an investigation has been ordered.

The spokesman said the plane was en route to Sangley. He said he did not know where it came from. He said 13 is the normal crew for the aircraft.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The Maplewood residents said the drainage plans call for all surface water from Riverview Cemetery to Park Blvd. to drain through the 42-inch storm sewer on the west side of St. Clair Ave. At present, water on the east side of St. Clair empties into an open ditch.

Residents said they don't believe they should be required to take care of water running from all the neighborhoods, pointing out it not only threatens their property but constitutes a danger to children attracted by pools.

They said the 42-inch storm sewer would provide drainage at a faster rate than a 24-inch sewer which already has been

Council Votes Pay Boosts At Sewage Plant

Monthly salary increases for four employes of the sewage treatment plant and a change in the method of computing holiday pay for all salaried city employes except police and firemen were approved Tuesday night by City Council.

Acting on a request made Aug. 17 by the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water and sewage departments, Council unanimously adopted an ordinance establishing the salaries of the four operators at $390 a month, effective Oct. 16.

The $45 monthly boosts place the sewage department employes on a par with the rate paid operators at the water plant.

Although the change in computing the holiday pay also had been requested by the utilities board, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper advised Council in a caucus session that it affects all salaried city employes except police and firemen.

The new formula, included in the same legislation with the pay boosts, provides that employes who work on New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving or Christmas shall receive their regular pay plus an amount to be computed by dividing their monthly salary by 182 — the number of hours worked in an average month.

In the two requests to Council, W. O. Schneider, chairman, said the sewage plant operators began work at a reduced rate when the treatment plant was opened about 1958.

The Council then in office agreed that when the operators completed a "break-in" period they would be granted increases placing them on a par with water works operators but the procedure never was followed, Schneider said.

In the change in computing holiday pay, Schneider said it would affect six water department employes and three at the sewage plant.

Appeal Filed In Sheppard Court Ruling

State Claims Jurist Lacked Authority In Prison Release

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The state of Ohio contended today that U.S. District Judge Carl A. Weinman lacked authority to void Samuel H. Sheppard's wife-murder conviction because the Cleveland osteopath failed to exhaust his remedies in Ohio courts.

The state is appealing Weinman's order permitting Sheppard to walk out of Ohio Penitentiary July 16 under $10,000 bond after nearly 10 years behind bars.

Weinman asserted that excessive publicity denied Sheppard a fair trial and ordered Cuyahoga County to retry him within 60 days or let him remain free.

The circuit court has scheduled an Oct. 8 hearing on the state's appeal. Counsel for Sheppard is expected to file a brief before that date.

Ohio's Supreme Court, which upheld Sheppard's second - degree murder conviction in the bludgeon slaying of his wife, Marilyn, July 4, 19554, dismissed his request for a habeas corpus release in 1961.

Kessler contended that the dismissal was procedural and that the court should act on merits of the action before Sheppard could go into federal court.

The brief said it was not shown that Cuyahoga County common pleas court jurors were prejudiced by widespread publicity at the trial as asserted by Weinman.

Sentenced to a life term, Sheppard has been slated for parole consideration next month.

Storm 'Tillie' Eases

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today that tropical storm Tillie was weakening off the coast of Lower California. Storm advisories predicted that winds in the area would reach 40 miles an hour.

Vows To Halt Trend

Goldwater Rips Spending Spree

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, in a determined drive to pick up the Western states he sees as his presidential base, promises that if elected he will halt what he calls the "wild spending spree" by the Democrats.

"What will your choice be?" Goldwater asked a roaring crowd in Los Angeles' three-tiered baseball stadium. "More power for Washington? Less power for your home state and your town? More money for wasteful government? Less money for productive, individual uses?

"No. Our choice is progress through freedom!"

Goldwater had his largest crowd Tuesday night — the scoreboard said 53,120 were in the ball park that can seat 56,000 — and he got a rousing welcome, so rousing he couldn't speak until the message was flashed in big lights in leftfield: "Let's hear Barry."

In 1960 Richard M. Nixon carried California, Oregon and Washington. Goldwater hopes to win them, too.

California is the big prize.

It has 40 big electoral votes, and it has special appeal for Goldwater. It was here, in the presidential primaries, that he

Board Member Explains High School Land Needs

Why does East Liverpool need a new high school on a new and larger site?

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, member of the Board of Education, issued a statement today concerning the need for at least 24 acres for the proposed high school, part of a construction project on which school district residents will ballot Tuesday.

MRS. DUNLOP said the need for adequate outside activities for students along with parking areas and — most important of all — the need for future expansion of school programs requires a larger site.

"The National Council on School Construction recommends a site of 30 acres for a school plus one acre for each 100 pupils," she said. "This would mean a 42-acre site for us."

However, because we will continue to use Patterson Field for football and the Memorial Auditorium for basketball, the allotment of acreage for the school itself can be 10 acres, plus one acre for each 100 pupils," she explained.

Mrs. Dunlop spoke of the board's study of the high school need a few years ago during

Printers Union Backs School Bond Proposal

East Liverpool Typographical Union 318 Tuesday night endorsed the proposed city school district bond issue for construction of a new high school and three new elementary schools on which voters will ballot next Tuesday.

The union members supported the issue, Joseph Gebauer, president, said, because they feel the schools are needed to replace the present outmoded buildings and because the state's interest - free loan of nearly $1 million should be utilized for its savings to the district.

Patrol Plane Crash Kills 5 In China Sea

MANILA (AP)—A U.S. Navy patrol plane with 13 crewmen on board crashed in the South China Sea Tuesday, the U.S. Navy announced today. A spokesman said five men were killed and the others rescued.

The plane, a twin-engine P2 Neptune, was on an operational patrol flight, the Navy said.

The destroyer Maddox, operating in the vicinity, picked up the survivors, a spokesman at Sangley Point Naval Air Station said. The Maddox was the Navy ship engaged in the Gulf of Tonkin crisis last month.

The cause of the crash is not known and an investigation has been ordered.

The spokesman said the plane was en route to Sangley. He said he did not know where it came from. He said 13 is the normal crew for the aircraft.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Beaver Local Board Rejects 2 Pupil Shifts

Six requests for transfer of pupils were acted on by the Beaver Local Board of Education Tuesday night, with two rejected.

The board denied permission for the children of Dr. S. G. Sinclair of the Calcutta area to attend Taft School in the East Liverpool district. The request was filed by Dr. Sinclair in a letter.

Terry Burton, son of John Burton of Signal, was denied permission to attend Crestview High School.

Approval was given for Terry Lee Barker to attend special classes for the physically handicapped in Youngstown, for the son of Richard Barnhouse of Signal to attend kindergarten in New Waterford as Beaver Local has none, and four children in Liverpool Township to attend Beaver Local.

Roy Cashdollar, executive head, explained the four youngsters reside in the Stagecoach Rd. area in the East Liverpool district. However, East Liverpool does not send a bus into that area and Beaver Local does. East Liverpool will pay tuition of all four students who will attend Beaver Local although they normally would attend schools in their home district.

As a "professional courtesy," the Board extended permission to Samuel Linger to enroll his daughter in Wellsville schools, where he is a principal.

The board also approved 30 bus drivers and their salary schedules for the new school term.

Hired as new teachers were Mrs. Wilma Guy, seventh grade English; Mrs. Joycelyn Stevens, sixth grade, both at Public School, and Mrs. Wilma Mason, fifth grade at Calcutta.

Richard Parsons, assistant football coach, was approved as high school wrestling coach on a "voluntary basis." The wrestling program was eliminated from athletics at Beaver Local earlier for lack of funds for a coach. Parsons volunteered and will serve at no expense to the board.

Permission was given the Beaver Local Boosters Club to use the high school gym and stage Sept. 26 for a style show and crowning of a Tri-State Harvest Queen.

Calvin Graber, principal, reported on installation of a public address system in the Calcutta School. The equipment was paid for by the school activity fund with no expense to the board, the executive head reported.

A change was made in the policy of allowing use of the Public School to civic groups on Tuesday nights. All groups are to use the Public School on Friday nights in the future instead of Tuesday, for public meetings.

Rail Union Asks PUC To Reserve Directive

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen wants the Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission to reverse a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad directive last April which removed flagmen from behind trains on the railroad's tracks from Youngstown, Ohio, to Brownsville, Pa.

School Bonds Endorsed By Realty Group

The school bond issue received the unanimous endorsement of the East Liverpool Board of Realtors at a special meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Besides unanimous endorsement, the board went on record as actively supporting the $3,380,000 bond issue for a building program in the East Liverpool School District.

To be decided in a special election Tuesday, the bond issue would provide funds for a new high school and three new elementary schools for the district. The state has authorized an interest - free loan of nearly $1 million for the $4.3 million construction project.

Assistant Supt. George Hargraves was a guest. Plans were made to consider sending representatives to the state convention of realtors late in September in Cincinnati.

Goldwater

Goldwater's speech, in the stadium where the Dodgers and Angels play their home games, was billed as his California kickoff, and his fans paid $1 apiece to sit in on a show that ran for almost three hours.

Bands played. Movie and television personalities were introduced. Goldwater rode all the way around the stadium in his convertible, while the crowd applauded, before going to the speaker's platform over second base. Hundreds of yellow and gold balloons were released.

The cheers rolled in when Goldwater said:

"I will, as one of my first actions in the White House, ask the Congress to enact a regular and considered program of tax reduction. I will also ask that Congress stop the wild spending spree begun by this administration."

Goldwater contended it is possible to cut income taxes five per cent a year for five years and, with a growing economy, still keep the budget in balance.

Man Given Jail Term In Molestine Woman

A 23-year-old West Point man, who accosted a young medical receptionist Tuesday morning on W. 5th St., was sentenced to four months in the County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who denounced the assault as "a dastardly trick."

Darrell E. Wallace entered a plea of guilty when arraigned on the the charge filed by Mrs. Vicky L. Lane of W. 5th St. He also was ordered to pay court costs.

Mrs. Lane identified Wallace yesterday afternoon at police headquarters after he was taken into custody.

Lisbon Sets Coal Supply

LISBON — A contract was awarded by the Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night to the Industrial Mining Co. to supply coal for the David Anderson High School and Lincoln School.

The firm was the lowest bidder, offering $5.65 a ton for coal for the Lincoln School and $6.56 a ton for the high school.

Other bidders were the D. W. Dickey & Son which bid $7.25 and the Mineral Fuel & Supply Co. which bid $8.80 a ton for both schools.

In other business the board continued membership in the Ohio High School Athletic Association, and discussed the insurance premium raise of $98.02 this period.

The board discussed the hiring a lay - helper to supervise one or more junior high study halls, but took no action.

Superintendent Oliver Payne reported on a proposal for industrial arts classes to join Leetonia. He said two girls had schedules adjusted this year to permit them to take cooperative office education next year.

He discussed poles at the stadium, which the board indicated needed replacement. Test borings are being taken and it was reported that nothing had to be done at the present.

The board set Oct. 7 as the first date to begin visiting the three schools.

Bills of $31,765.11 for salaries and $9,480.86 for operation were approved. Next meeting will be Oct. 6.

Kaycees Back School Bonds

Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, went on record as supporting the school bond issue at a meeting Tuesday night at the K. of C. Hall.

Harry McConville, a member of the Board of Education, spoke on behalf of the school bond issue on next Tuesday's ballot.

Fr. John Cunningham, an assistant at St. Aloysius Catholic Church, and council chaplain, spoke on the 10 points of a lay Catholic. Ralph McNicol, grand knight, presided.

Plans were made to sponsor a bake sale Sept. 20 following Masses. Corporate Communion will be held Sept. 27 at the 7:30 a. m. Mass.

Next meeting is Tuesday night.

School Report Given For Pughtown PTA

Mrs. Robert Golden, president, reported on a leadership training school she attended at Jackson's Mill when the executive board of the Pughtown Parent - Teacher Association met Tuesday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. Doris Cameron and Mrs. James Beagle also attended the event. Mrs. J. K. Allison announced pre - school children will report to special classes Oct. 1 from 1 to 2 p. m.

The board decided to change its meeting time from 1:30 to 3:15 p. m. The regular PTA meetings start at 8 p. m.

Next meeting of the executive board will be Sept. 28. The PTA will meet Sept. 14 at 8 p.m.

Chester Motorists Warned On Licenses

"This is absolutely the last warning, and those few who have not renewed their licenses are subject to arrest," Chief Davis declared. He indicated road checks are planned.

The deadline for renewing the city licenses was July 1. Renewals cost $2 at City Hall.

Court 'Visit' Costs Man In Old Case

A River Rd. man was given a suspended 10-day jail term today on a 7-month-old charge of driving while his operator's permit was suspended after being recognized by police as a spectator in Municipal Court.

Elijah J. Farnsworth also was ordered to pay the costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the charge filed Feb. 15.

A bench warrant was ordered Feb. 17 by Judge Chertoff when the defendant failed to appear.

Attending the court session, Police Lt. William E. McDaniel recognized Farnsworth and went to the adjoining court office where he learned the warrant never had been served.

The affidavit was handed Judge Chertoff, who called the case.

Two motorists were fined on speeding charges by Judge Chertoff, who lectured both sternly, recalling that school opened today and pleading with them to drive more carefully.

Donald Smith, 317 Burrows Ave., was fined $15 and costs and John W. Balogac of Toronto drew a fine of $10 and costs.

Smith was cited Sept. 1 on Route 7 by the State Highway Patrol for traveling 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. Balogac was cited in a radar check by city police the same day on W. 8th St. for hitting 51 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Wellsville Club Maps Projects

General committee reports were heard and future projects discussed when the Wellsville Women's Civic Club resumed meetings Tuesday night at the O'Hara law office.

Mrs. Jean Broderick, president, conducted business. She read a letter from the Bethia Southwick Chapter of the DAR in regards to the 177th anniversary observance of the Constitution Sept. 17-23.

Mrs. Broderick discussed the Constitution and plans for the observance.

The club voted to assist the Hammond Park Commission in the sale of tickets for the Mills Brothers Circus Oct. 2 at Central Park.

Mrs. Zeta Penn was named to head the ticket sales for the club.

The club will sell fruit cakes and candles as a fund - raising project. Lunch was served by Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill, Mrs. Marjorie Dysert and Mrs. Virginia Gitschier.

A white elephant sale will be held at the next meeting Oct. 14. Mrs. Broderick, Miss Marjorie Harkins and Mrs. Bette Jackson will serve lunch.

Superintendent Due At Midland PTA Event

Supt. Edgar Richards will be guest speaker at the first fall meeting of the 4th St. Parent-Teacher Association Thursday at 3 p. m. at the Midland school.

Salem Man Fined

LISBON — Michael Albert Foreman, 18, of Salem was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail Tuesday night by Mayor Dean Stockman for driving while intoxicated. He was cited by police Monday night.

Rail Union Asks PUC To Reserve Directive

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen wants the Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission to reverse a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad directive last April which removed flagmen from behind trains on the railroad's tracks from Youngstown, Ohio, to Brownsville, Pa.

School Bonds Endorsed By Realty Group

The school bond issue received the unanimous endorsement of the East Liverpool Board of Realtors at a special meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Besides unanimous endorsement, the board went on record as actively supporting the $3,380,000 bond issue for a building program in the East Liverpool School District.

To be decided in a special election Tuesday, the bond issue would provide funds for a new high school and three new elementary schools for the district. The state has authorized an interest - free loan of nearly $1 million for the $4.3 million construction project.

Assistant Supt. George Hargraves was a guest. Plans were made to consider sending representatives to the state convention of realtors late in September in Cincinnati.

Goldwater

Goldwater's speech, in the stadium where the Dodgers and Angels play their home games, was billed as his California kickoff, and his fans paid $1 apiece to sit in on a show that ran for almost three hours.

Bands played. Movie and television personalities were introduced. Goldwater rode all the way around the stadium in his convertible, while the crowd applauded, before going to the speaker's platform over second base. Hundreds of yellow and gold balloons were released.

The cheers rolled in when Goldwater said:

"I will, as one of my first actions in the White House, ask the Congress to enact a regular and considered program of tax reduction. I will also ask that Congress stop the wild spending spree begun by this administration."

Goldwater contended it is possible to cut income taxes five per cent a year for five years and, with a growing economy, still keep the budget in balance.

Man Given Jail Term In Molestine Woman

A 23-year-old West Point man, who accosted a young medical receptionist Tuesday morning on W. 5th St., was sentenced to four months in the County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who denounced the assault as "a dastardly trick."

Darrell E. Wallace entered a plea of guilty when arraigned on the the charge filed by Mrs. Vicky L. Lane of W. 5th St. He also was ordered to pay court costs.

Mrs. Lane identified Wallace yesterday afternoon at police headquarters after he was taken into custody.

Lisbon Sets Coal Supply

LISBON — A contract was awarded by the Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night to the Industrial Mining Co. to supply coal for the David Anderson High School and Lincoln School.

The firm was the lowest bidder, offering $5.65 a ton for coal for the Lincoln School and $6.56 a ton for the high school.

Other bidders were the D. W. Dickey & Son which bid $7.25 and the Mineral Fuel & Supply Co. which bid $8.80 a ton for both schools.

In other business the board continued membership in the Ohio High School Athletic Association, and discussed the insurance premium raise of $98.02 this period.

The board discussed the hiring a lay - helper to supervise one or more junior high study halls, but took no action.

Superintendent Oliver Payne reported on a proposal for industrial arts classes to join Leetonia. He said two girls had schedules adjusted this year to permit them to take cooperative office education next year.

He discussed poles at the stadium, which the board indicated needed replacement. Test borings are being taken and it was reported that nothing had to be done at the present.

The board set Oct. 7 as the first date to begin visiting the three schools.

Bills of $31,765.11 for salaries and $9,480.86 for operation were approved. Next meeting will be Oct. 6.

Kaycees Back School Bonds

Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, went on record as supporting the school bond issue at a meeting Tuesday night at the K. of C. Hall.

Harry McConville, a member of the Board of Education, spoke on behalf of the school bond issue on next Tuesday's ballot.

Fr. John Cunningham, an assistant at St. Aloysius Catholic Church, and council chaplain, spoke on the 10 points of a lay Catholic. Ralph McNicol, grand knight, presided.

Plans were made to sponsor a bake sale Sept. 20 following Masses. Corporate Communion will be held Sept. 27 at the 7:30 a. m. Mass.

Next meeting is Tuesday night.

School Report Given For Pughtown PTA

Mrs. Robert Golden, president, reported on a leadership training school she attended at Jackson's Mill when the executive board of the Pughtown Parent - Teacher Association met Tuesday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. Doris Cameron and Mrs. James Beagle also attended the event. Mrs. J. K. Allison announced pre - school children will report to special classes Oct. 1 from 1 to 2 p. m.

The board decided to change its meeting time from 1:30 to 3:15 p. m. The regular PTA meetings start at 8 p. m.

Next meeting of the executive board will be Sept. 28. The PTA will meet Sept. 14 at 8 p.m.

Chester Motorists Warned On Licenses

Chester Police Chief Harold Davis today issued a "last warning" to city residents who have yet to renew their city driver's licenses.

"This is absolutely the last warning, and those few who have not renewed their licenses are subject to arrest," Chief Davis declared. He indicated road checks are planned.

The deadline for renewing the city licenses was July 1. Renewals cost $2 at City Hall.

Court 'Visit' Costs Man In Old Case

A River Rd. man was given a suspended 10-day jail term today on a 7-month-old charge of driving while his operator's permit was suspended after being recognized by police as a spectator in Municipal Court.

Elijah J. Farnsworth also was ordered to pay the costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the charge filed Feb. 15.

A bench warrant was ordered Feb. 17 by Judge Chertoff when the defendant failed to appear.

Attending the court session, Police Lt. William E. McDaniel recognized Farnsworth and went to the adjoining court office where he learned the warrant never had been served.

The affidavit was handed Judge Chertoff, who called the case.

Two motorists were fined on speeding charges by Judge Chertoff, who lectured both sternly, recalling that school opened today and pleading with them to drive more carefully.

Donald Smith, 317 Burrows Ave., was fined $15 and costs and John W. Balogac of Toronto drew a fine of $10 and costs.

Smith was cited Sept. 1 on Route 7 by the State Highway Patrol for traveling 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. Balogac was cited in a radar check by city police the same day on W. 8th St. for hitting 51 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Wellsville Club Maps Projects

General committee reports were heard and future projects discussed when the Wellsville Women's Civic Club resumed meetings Tuesday night at the O'Hara law office.

Mrs. Jean Broderick, president, conducted business. She read a letter from the Bethia Southwick Chapter of the DAR in regards to the 177th anniversary observance of the Constitution Sept. 17-23.

Mrs. Broderick discussed the Constitution and plans for the observance.

The club voted to assist the Hammond Park Commission in the sale of tickets for the Mills Brothers Circus Oct. 2 at Central Park.

Mrs. Zeta Penn was named to head the ticket sales for the club.

The club will sell fruit cakes and candles as a fund - raising project. Lunch was served by Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill, Mrs. Marjorie Dysert and Mrs. Virginia Gitschier.

A white elephant sale will be held at the next meeting Oct. 14. Mrs. Broderick, Miss Marjorie Harkins and Mrs. Bette Jackson will serve lunch.

Superintendent Due At Midland PTA Event

Supt. Edgar Richards will be guest speaker at the first fall meeting of the 4th St. Parent-Teacher Association Thursday at 3 p. m. at the Midland school.

Salem Man Fined

LISBON — Michael Albert Foreman, 18, of Salem was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail Tuesday night by Mayor Dean Stockman for driving while intoxicated. He was cited by police Monday night.

GOP Credo On Spending

In the opening address of his presidential campaign at Prescott, Ariz., Sen. Barry M. Goldwater compressed his creed of government into one comprehensive statement.

The purpose of any opening address in any presidential campaign is to set the tone of the candidate's appeal, in the same way a president sets the tone of his administration in an inaugural address.

With this in mind, Sen. Goldwater's Prescott address will be studied for key passages that convey the spirit of his message. This is one key passage:

"Today we begin a great campaign to return the government of this nation to the people of this nation."

And herewith another:

"I ask that you join me in proving that every American can stand on his own, make up his own mind, chart his own future, keep and control his own family, asking for help and getting help only when truly overwhelming problems, beyond his control, beset him. I ask you to join with me in finding 20th-century answers for 20th-century problems, rather than relying on the old-disproved doctrine of turning our problems, our lives and our liberties over to a supposed elite in an all-powerful central government. The campaign we launch today is dedicated to that."

ANOTHER KEY passage is this statement at the end of a passage promising that a Goldwater administration would honor all government commitments previously made and would not abandon the helpless:

"We know that a true and lasting solution of those problems cannot be found in degrading, capricious and politically motivated handouts from the White House. It must ultimately be found in a thriving and compassionate economy and in programs principally handled by the levels of government closest to the people."

The single exception to his insistence on trimming back the federal government is military expenditures.

He thus must carry the handicap of having to convert members of the Republican party to his point of view before he can expect them to convert voters. He is literally asking for a reversal of government evolution.

HE IS ASKING all Republicans to seek no further federal aid, except what can be funneled through state government. He is asking his party to oppose all federal spending, except for military purposes, no matter how the money is to be handled. This will not be easy for Republican congressmen, governors and local party authorities.

Sen. Goldwater's Prescott address should be in the mind of every Republican throughout the 1964 campaign. It is a clear statement of principle by the party's nominee.

All federal spending not designed to strengthen the national military posture must be resisted and whatever spending survives must be funneled through state governments. Anything else is a betrayal of the party's official credo, as enunciated at Prescott by Sen. Goldwater.

Opening Day

Because of the special issue which will face voters Sept. 15, today's opening of classes for the 1964-65 term in the East Liverpool School District takes on added significance.

The contrast between the physical facilities at the newer buildings and those at the too-long-used old structures comes to mind immediately.

And with the contrast, comes the realization that because of more modern facilities students in the newer buildings have a certain advantage over those forced to make the best of outmoded equipment in the old buildings.

The one encouraging factor is that such an undesirable situation can be brought to an end with a favorable vote on Tuesday.

Regardless of the ultimate outcome of the special issue, however, the opening of schools is here — and it still brings those many, many moments to remember to the thousands wending their way to classes.

Some moments will be happy and some will be almost terrifying. It's all part of getting an education.

Worrying About Unemployables

Another thing about the unemployment total that keeps getting more baffling is the inclusion of young persons who never have been employed.

When unemployment dropped below 5 per cent in July — to 4.9 of the theoretical labor force—everybody had a sense of improvement.

In August, the statistic went back up again, this time to 5.1.

Heads of families and other adults are at the lowest level of joblessness in the last seven years. What causes the national statistic to look bad is that teen-age joblessness did not decline as much as usual.

THERE ARE three times as many unemployed teen-agers as there are any other classification of job-seekers. And this is what gets more baffling as time goes on.

When does a teen-ager become a bona fide jobless American?

At what age does a young person who would take a job if he could find one become a job-hunter in the same sense as a middle-aged man who is the head of a family and has just been automated out of a good job he has held down for the last 15 years?

Is a high school dropout looking for a job in the same category as a stay-in who has finished school? Is a student looking for a way to pick up vacation money in the same category as a widow who is the sole support of several small children and has been registered as a job-seeker?

Conversely, is a housewife who would take a job part-time to pick up a few extra dollars in the same category as a college graduate who is ready to start his earning career?

UNTIL unemployment statistics are broken down into clear categories of capability and intent, they will be meaningless. The fact is, employment of employables is now at a record level in the United States.

In other days, this would have been all that mattered. The condition of unemployables would not have been a matter of public concern.

In a statistic that is nothing but a projection based on samples, inclusion of people who never worked and probably never will is absurd.

Paint Swishes

And — as always — the results have been most gratifying. It's amazing how a good paint job brightens things.

To those property owners who have seen fit to improve their investments—another well done. To those who may be lagging in this direction — why not get the paint brushes swishing!

The No-Sayers

By Truman Twill

Back to a favorite perplexity:

What makes my fellow human beings bare their teeth and fight fang and claw against every proposal for progress?

What makes them cling to this dog-in-the-manger policy even though they know they are blocking their own self-interest?

What gets twisted up in the human mind that makes people say they want to be sticks in the mud for the sake of being sticks in the mud? What's the attraction of being a stick in the mud?

Every new road ever built, except the first ones, has been opposed. Come to think of it, the first ones were opposed too—by the Indians, who said they were trying to preserve the wilderness.

EVERY BUILDING, every housing project has been resisted to the bitter end by people who insisted it would destroy values. What they meant was that it would change values, not destroy values. And the change usually was for the better, as far as money was concerned.

Every highway that has been widened, every river that has been deepened has brought forth clenched-fist, jut-jawed last-ditchers willing to fight to the bitter end to keep the improvement from being made.

The same thing has happened in every social change, every break-through in human health, every reform, every law. There has been an automatic flareup of "aginners"—people who balk for the sake of balking.

Is this the way they assert their individuality, like children who assert themselves by saying No? Is this the way they ever share the thrill of being a living part of the fabric of human society—this endless No-saying, to thwart the irresistible pulse of progress?

Just once, why can't someone suggest something that would be greeted with approval by all concerned? Not in a mood of blind, unthinking compliance but in a mood of considered judgment? Why can't it happen? Why Not? Huh? Why not?

THERE'S ONLY one way to get around the "aginners."

This is why they are my favorite perplexity—because I know what the one way is to get around them. It's kooky.

You think through the proposition that will make them plank their feet, then turn it around and make it sound as if it's what you did not want to do.

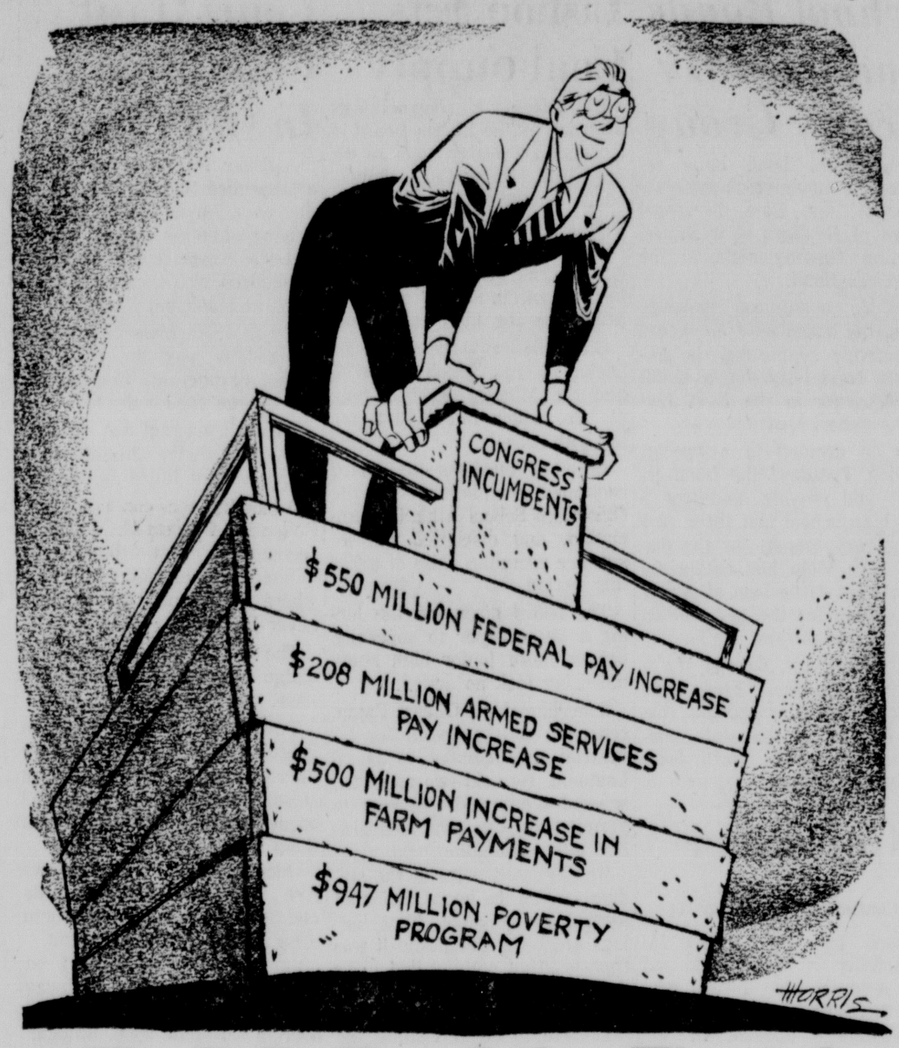
The "aginners" then will be against you and will do everything in their power to force you to "change" your mind. They will fight your negativism as violently as they would have fought your positivism.

Do you want to build a dam, a highway, a memorial, obliterate a landmark for the sake of public convenience, plant flowers where weeds are browing, create a lake? Just say it can't be done? The dogs in the manger will jump out and yap until you tell them you will do what you wanted to do in the first place.

It's that simple.

Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche (1844-1900), the famed German philosopher, promulgated the doctrine of the "superman," and the suppression of the weak, which was later followed by Hitler. Paradoxically, Nietzsche was later compelled to resign his professorship at the University of Basel because of ill health!

Vote-Getting Platform



The Polls Have Labor Worried

By Victor Riesel

There are in President Johnson's desk a batch of reports he received on the morning of Sept. 1 which reveal the results of political polls taken among the Irish and the Jews, Catholics and Protestants, Poles and Germans, white collar and blue collar workers, inner sanctum corporation executives and labor people, Negroes and white Southerners, people of industrial cities and those on the farms. They were taken in August and most of them please him.

Victor Riesel

But the result of one poll certainly does not.

And even more important than this possible loss — with all its emotional and political overtones — is the fact that the poll indicates he will suffer heavy defections among the 17 million organized union members throughout the land.

THE POLL, which has built-in uneasiness for the nation's labor chiefs as well as the White House, was taken a few weeks ago among Texas unionists by their own state leaders, whose headquarters are in Austin. Its results were reported by word of mouth at the meeting of leaders of 131 national AFL - CIO unions in what they refer to as their general board session.

The figures disquieted many. The canvass of labor rank-and-file in Texas, as reported to many union chiefs, disclosed that 57 per cent of those questioned said they would vote for Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The reaction among those who were briefed was swift: "Backlash!"

In the heart of Texas it may spring from racial antagonism, but the labor chiefs glumly saw it as basically a rank-and-file fear that their unions—and available jobs — would be opened wide to Mexican-American workers as well as Negroes.

As quiet discussion moved into corridors of the conference hotel it became apparent that all eyes need not be focused on Texas. Backlash is whiplashing other states. Labor polls in at least 25 big cities prove this.

THERE WERE similar reports from labor men whose jurisdictions are southern Illinois, northern Indiana, central Ohio, western Pennsylvania, the border states, Southern states and the big towns, especially New York, Chicago and Detroit.

So the national labor chiefs decided to launch a massive counter-offensive. Special concentration areas have been seected. The worried word among the men who thrive on organization like babies on pablum was that above all "Texas had to be saved" for their good friend Lyndon Johnson.

It's not yet clear what "concentration" means. The full strategy is being developed by these labor leaders. Their first step was to alert every union coast-to-coast to assign one of its national officers as the political executive.

IT WAS requested that he be freed of all other duties for the duration so he can dash into "sensitive" and "insecure" districts.

Since the troubleshooter will be a national officer, the AFL-CIO will be creating a network of at least 131 top offcers right across the land. Beneath this echelon there certainly will be thousands of others, moving with traditional precision in scores of cities and using techniques learned in many a unionizing campaign.

In addition, there will be a huge distribution of literature. The national AFL-CIO headquarters will attempt to get "tranquillizing" booklets into the hands of every union member. This means the dissemination of more than 13 million for AFL-CIO members alone. The first distribution will go to 3 million men and women in the next few weeks.

IT WILL BE costly, but labor considers this campaign a make or break push. One booklet, a two - color job, has 11 pages. There will be other pieces. All, in effect, will say that the new civil rights program does not mean the sharing of jobs or the loss of seniority to Negroes and other minorities or the need to share housing with them.

Never has there been anything like this concentrated push by all the forces known as "labor." But never have they so unitedly declared war on any one candidate as they have on Barry Goldwater. And never have they faced such an issue.

If they lose the fight on this issue, they'll lose more than an election. They'll lose face — and lose political influence in and out of their unions for a long time.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 9, the 253rd day of 1964. There are 113 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1919, the Boston police strike began. A few days later Massachusetts Gov. Calvin Coolidge coined the phrase which brought him national political prominence, saying, "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, any time."

In 1776, the Continental Congress approved a resolution that all continental commissions use the words "United States" instead of "United Colinies," establishing the name of the government-to-be.

In 1850, California became the first state on the Pacific Coast to be admitted to the Union.

Also in 1850, New Mexico and Utah were organized as territories.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur laid down his occupation policy of Japan, ordering his troops to respect the personal and property rights of the Japanese.

Ten years ago — Some 1,460 persons were killed in an earthquake in Algeria, North Africa's worst quake in 40 years.

Five years ago — The exiled Dalai Lama of Tibet appealed to the United Nations to save the Tibetan race from extenction by the Chinese Communists.

One year ago — Five federal judges issued an injunction to block Alabama Gov. George Wallace's efforts to prevent the integration of public schools in Birmingham, Tuskegee and Mobile.

The Religious Issue

By David Lawrence

Aid To Parochial Schools Discussed Again

A religious issue has suddenly been catapulted into the presidential campaign. This is not novel, because the late President Kennedy faced it also in the 1960 campaign.

David Lawrence

The Baptist Standard — through its editor, Dr. E. S. James, of Dallas, Texas —asked President Johnson and Sen. Goldwater, respectively, just what position each takes on the subject of federal aid to parochial schools.

Mr. Johnson responded that he "would oppose any federal program, including assistance to schools, which does not strictly conform to the "American tradition of separation of church and state . . . as expressed in the First Amendment" to the Constitution.

Sen. Goldwater, on the other hand, said that he is opposed to federal aid to education as a general thing because he feels it is an "improper intervention by the central government" into a public sphere "which both traditionally and constitutionally falls within the exclusive jurisdiction" of the states. But he has insisted, he said, that if such federal aid is deemed essential "it should be made available to all our children by giving it to non-profit schools, whether public or private," since "millions of children in non-public schools need such aid just as much as do these in the public schools."

THE POSITION of many of the Catholic authorities who feel that federal aid to parochial schools is constitutional was set forth by the Rev. Virgil Blum, S.J., chairman of the Department of Political Science at Marquette University, in an article in Our Sunday Visitor, published in June 1962. He had made an extensive analysis of then-pending legislation, and he cited authorities to support his contention that federal aid to all schools for the teaching of non-religious subjects is constitutional.

"Why then," asked Father Blum, "does the Kennedy administration insist on discriminating against the nation's independent school children? . . .

"The answer, it seems to me, is simple. President Kennedy, like the congressmen, is a politician. Politics is his basis of action. He is a political realist. Hence, political considerations, not constitutional, are the decisive factors in his education policy.

"Politics is the art of the possible. Mr. Kennedy fully realizes this. He could not have been elected on a platform which promised freedom of religion in education, so he ran on a platform which promised to discriminate against church-related school children. Assuming Mr. Kennedy believes in equality and freedom of religion in education, an unequivocal statement in support of these civil rights would have been political suicide."

FATHER BLUM discussed the "practicalities of politics" and pointed out that the movement for "civil rights for colored school children" is stimulated by pressure groups who influence the voting. He called, therefore, for the organization of pressure groups throughout the country to get behind what he termed the "civil rights of Independent Children" numbering about 7 million.

Among the precedents cited for federal aid is the legislation passed by Congress known as the "GI Bill of Rights" under which federal funds were used for education in church-related schools and colleges. More than a million veterans were given tuition grants by the federal government, and they used these to attend Protestant, Catholic and Jewish as well as public institutions of higher education.

They enjoyed freedom of choice, and the funds were available even to those who chose to study theology. Dr. Blum wrote:

"If such direct grants with freedom of choice are legal on the college level, they are all the more legal on the elementary and secondary level. This was made emphatically clear by the United States Supreme Court in the Barnette Case of 1943. Since children attend school under compulsion, said the court, the Constitution guarantees them greater freedom in education than college students whose attendance is optional."

THERE IS no doubt that the issue is a burning one among Catholics in the United States. In recent years, with the growth of population, the Catholic churches have been faced with a problem of expansion requiring a bigger drain on the financial resources of church members than ever before in history.

The feeling among many of the church leaders is that certain federal loans and grants for the construction of facilities and classrooms in which non-religious subjects would be taught are in line with grants and loans made to non-denominational schools and colleges.

It would appear from the emergence of a new discussion on this whole issue that there may be some "cross-over" voting in the presidential election on the question of federal aid to education as it relates to parochial schools.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This is another letter concerning the desperate need for a new school buildings in our city.

There are people who claim that the present buildings can be fixed to last another few years. I have seen the terrible condition of Central Building and that was all I needed to be convinced that we must have the bond issue passed.

When people say that a burden will fall on property owners who live on social security I wonder if they realize that the children who need new schools now are the ones who will work very hard in their adulthood at making it easier for future social security folk to receive more benefits and an easier way of life for all aged people.

We middle-aged and older people cannot expect tomorrow's adults to make life a little easier for us if we fail to educate them now in the modern way.

I have in mind an incident that happened in the city of Chicago a few years back. It was when a school building that was in a far more tolerable condition than our Central Building burned, with a loss of a hundred or more children's lives. I wonder how many lives would be lost if the fire trap they call Central Building should catch fire? And I also wonder how those people against the bond issue would feel? A terrible thought, I know, but it can be prevented by seeing that the bond issue is passed next week.

There will be an open house to tour the high school and Central buildings. If anyone has doubts as to how serious the condition is, he or she should go see for themselves. A tour of Central Building should convince any mature person that the bond issue has to be passed now.

I have children in school, but they will all have finished high school by the time any new school would be built. I am not appealing for my children, but for those who will follow. They should not have to contend with the same deplorable conditions.

Pass the bond issue and let us strive for a city that will be second to none with education. Then whatever else we strive for will follow with today's children.

The White Rino

A gun that captures without killing is helping to save the rare white rhinoceros in Africa.

The rifle fires drug darts that can put to sleep a four-ton rhino, largest land animal next to the elephant. The projectile, a needle - tipped syringe containing synthetic morphine, paralyzes the animal — temporarily and harmlessly.

The white rhino is vanishing from parts of Africa where it used to be common while at the same time paradoxically overpopulating one small area where it used to be rare. Only 20 roamed the Umfolozi Game Reserve in South Africa a few decades ago. Now, the 100-square-mile sanctuary bulges with 700 white rhinos.

The two rhino species in Africa are called "white" and "black" though both animals are the same grey color, the National Geographic Society says.

GOP Credo On Spending

The purpose of any opening address in any presidential campaign is to set the tone of the candidate's appeal, in the same way a president sets the tone of his administration in an inaugural address.

With this in mind, Sen. Goldwater's Prescott address will be studied for key passages that convey the spirit of his message. This is one key passage:

"Today we begin a great campaign to return the government of this nation to the people of this nation."

And herewith another:

"I ask that you join me in proving that every American can stand on his own, make up his own mind, chart his own future, keep and control his own family, asking for help and getting help only when truly overwhelming problems, beyond his control, beset him. I ask you to join with me in finding 20th-century answers for 20th-century problems, rather than relying on the old-disproved doctrine of turning our problems, our lives and our liberties over to a supposed elite in an all-powerful central government. The campaign we launch today is dedicated to that."

ANOTHER KEY passage is this statement at the end of a passage promising that a Goldwater administration would honor all government commitments previously made and would not abandon the helpless:

"We know that a true and lasting solution of those problems cannot be found in degrading, capricious and politically motivated handouts from the White House. It must ultimately be found in a thriving and compassionate economy and in programs principally handled by the levels of government closest to the people."

The single exception to his insistence on trimming back the federal government is military expenditures.

He thus must carry the handicap of having to convert members of the Republican party to his point of view before he can expect them to convert voters. He is literally asking for a reversal of government evolution.

HE IS ASKING all Republicans to seek no further federal aid, except what can be funneled through state government. He is asking his party to oppose all federal spending, except for military purposes, no matter how the money is to be handled. This will not be easy for Republican congressmen, governors and local party authorities.

Sen. Goldwater's Prescott address should be in the mind of every Republican throughout the 1964 campaign. It is a clear statement of principle by the party's nominee.

All federal spending not designed to strengthen the national military posture must be resisted and whatever spending survives must be funneled through state governments. Anything else is a betrayal of the party's official credo, as enunciated at Prescott by Sen. Goldwater.

Opening Day

Because of the special issue which will face voters Sept. 15, today's opening of classes for the 1964-65 term in the East Liverpool School District takes on added significance.

The contrast between the physical facilities at the newer buildings and those at the too-long-used old structures comes to mind immediately.

And with the contrast, comes the realization that because of more modern facilities students in the newer buildings have a certain advantage over those forced to make the best of outmoded equipment in the old buildings.

The one encouraging factor is that such an undesirable situation can be brought to an end with a favorable vote on Tuesday.

Regardless of the ultimate outcome of the special issue, however, the opening of schools is here — and it still brings those many, many moments to remember to the thousands wending their way to classes.

Some moments will be happy and some will be almost terrifying. It's all part of getting an education.

Worrying About Unemployables

Another thing about the unemployment total that keeps getting more baffling is the inclusion of young persons who never have been employed.

When unemployment dropped below 5 per cent in July — to 4.9 of the theoretical labor force—everybody had a sense of improvement.

In August, the statistic went back up again, this time to 5.1.

Heads of families and other adults are at the lowest level of joblessness in the last seven years. What causes the national statistic to look bad is that teen-age joblessness did not decline as much as usual.

THERE ARE three times as many unemployed teen-agers as there are any other classification of job-seekers. And this is what gets more baffling as time goes on.

When does a teen-ager become a bona fide jobless American?

At what age does a young person who would take a job if he could find one become a job-hunter in the same sense as a middle-aged man who is the head of a family and has just been automated out of a good job he has held down for the last 15 years?

Is a high school dropout looking for a job in the same category as a stay-in who has finished school? Is a student looking for a way to pick up vacation money in the same category as a widow who is the sole support of several small children and has been registered as a job-seeker?

Conversely, is a housewife who would take a job part-time to pick up a few extra dollars in the same category as a college graduate who is ready to start his earning career?

UNTIL unemployment statistics are broken down into clear categories of capability and intent, they will be meaningless. The fact is, employment of employables is now at a record level in the United States.

In other days, this would have been all that mattered. The condition of unemployables would not have been a matter of public concern.

In a statistic that is nothing but a projection based on samples, inclusion of people who never worked and probably never will is absurd.

Paint Swishes

And — as always — the results have been most gratifying. It's amazing how a good paint job brightens things.

To those property owners who have seen fit to improve their investments—another well done. To those who may be lagging in this direction — why not get the paint brushes swishing!

The No-Sayers

By Truman Twill

Back to a favorite perplexity:

What makes my fellow human beings bare their teeth and fight fang and claw against every proposal for progress?

What makes them cling to this dog-in-the-manger policy even though they know they are blocking their own self-interest?

What gets twisted up in the human mind that makes people say they want to be sticks in the mud for the sake of being sticks in the mud? What's the attraction of being a stick in the mud?

Every new road ever built, except the first ones, has been opposed. Come to think of it, the first ones were opposed too—by the Indians, who said they were trying to preserve the wilderness.

EVERY BUILDING, every housing project has been resisted to the bitter end by people who insisted it would destroy values. What they meant was that it would change values, not destroy values. And the change usually was for the better, as far as money was concerned.

Every highway that has been widened, every river that has been deepened has brought forth clenched-fist, jut-jawed last-ditchers willing to fight to the bitter end to keep the improvement from being made.

The same thing has happened in every social change, every break-through in human health, every reform, every law. There has been an automatic flareup of "aginners"—people who balk for the sake of balking.

Is this the way they assert their individuality, like children who assert themselves by saying No? Is this the way they ever share the thrill of being a living part of the fabric of human society—this endless No-saying, to thwart the irresistible pulse of progress?

Just once, why can't someone suggest something that would be greeted with approval by all concerned? Not in a mood of blind, unthinking compliance but in a mood of considered judgment? Why can't it happen? Why Not? Huh? Why not?

THERE'S ONLY one way to get around the "aginners."

This is why they are my favorite perplexity—because I know what the one way is to get around them. It's kooky.

You think through the proposition that will make them plank their feet, then turn it around and make it sound as if it's what you did not want to do.

The "aginners" then will be against you and will do everything in their power to force you to "change" your mind. They will fight your negativism as violently as they would have fought your positivism.

Do you want to build a dam, a highway, a memorial, obliterate a landmark for the sake of public convenience, plant flowers where weeds are browing, create a lake? Just say it can't be done? The dogs in the manger will jump out and yap until you tell them you will do what you wanted to do in the first place.

It's that simple.

Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche (1844-1900), the famed German philosopher, promulgated the doctrine of the "superman," and the suppression of the weak, which was later followed by Hitler. Paradoxically, Nietzsche was later compelled to resign his professorship at the University of Basel because of ill health!

Vote-Getting Platform

The Polls Have Labor Worried

By Victor Riesel

There are in President Johnson's desk a batch of reports he received on the morning of Sept. 1 which reveal the results of political polls taken among the Irish and the Jews, Catholics and Protestants, Poles and Germans, white collar and blue collar workers, inner sanctum corporation executives and labor people, Negroes and white Southerners, people of industrial cities and those on the farms. They were taken in August and most of them please him.

Victor Riesel

But the result of one poll certainly does not.

And even more important than this possible loss — with all its emotional and political overtones — is the fact that the poll indicates he will suffer heavy defections among the 17 million organized union members throughout the land.

THE POLL, which has built-in uneasiness for the nation's labor chiefs as well as the White House, was taken a few weeks ago among Texas unionists by their own state leaders, whose headquarters are in Austin. Its results were reported by word of mouth at the meeting of leaders of 131 national AFL - CIO unions in what they refer to as their general board session.

The figures disquieted many. The canvass of labor rank-and-file in Texas, as reported to many union chiefs, disclosed that 57 per cent of those questioned said they would vote for Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The reaction among those who were briefed was swift: "Backlash!"

In the heart of Texas it may spring from racial antagonism, but the labor chiefs glumly saw it as basically a rank-and-file fear that their unions—and available jobs — would be opened wide to Mexican-American workers as well as Negroes.

As quiet discussion moved into corridors of the conference hotel it became apparent that all eyes need not be focused on Texas. Backlash is whiplashing other states. Labor polls in at least 25 big cities prove this.

THERE WERE similar reports from labor men whose jurisdictions are southern Illinois, northern Indiana, central Ohio, western Pennsylvania, the border states, Southern states and the big towns, especially New York, Chicago and Detroit.

So the national labor chiefs decided to launch a massive counter-offensive. Special concentration areas have been seected. The worried word among the men who thrive on organization like babies on pablum was that above all "Texas had to be saved" for their good friend Lyndon Johnson.

It's not yet clear what "concentration" means. The full strategy is being developed by these labor leaders. Their first step was to alert every union coast-to-coast to assign one of its national officers as the political executive.

IT WAS requested that he be freed of all other duties for the duration so he can dash into "sensitive" and "insecure" districts.

Since the troubleshooter will be a national officer, the AFL-CIO will be creating a network of at least 131 top offcers right across the land. Beneath this echelon there certainly will be thousands of others, moving with traditional precision in scores of cities and using techniques learned in many a unionizing campaign.

In addition, there will be a huge distribution of literature. The national AFL-CIO headquarters will attempt to get "tranquillizing" booklets into the hands of every union member. This means the dissemination of more than 13 million for AFL-CIO members alone. The first distribution will go to 3 million men and women in the next few weeks.

IT WILL BE costly, but labor considers this campaign a make or break push. One booklet, a two - color job, has 11 pages. There will be other pieces. All, in effect, will say that the new civil rights program does not mean the sharing of jobs or the loss of seniority to Negroes and other minorities or the need to share housing with them.

Never has there been anything like this concentrated push by all the forces known as "labor." But never have they so unitedly declared war on any one candidate as they have on Barry Goldwater. And never have they faced such an issue.

If they lose the fight on this issue, they'll lose more than an election. They'll lose face — and lose political influence in and out of their unions for a long time.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 9, the 253rd day of 1964. There are 113 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1919, the Boston police strike began. A few days later Massachusetts Gov. Calvin Coolidge coined the phrase which brought him national political prominence, saying, "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, any time."

In 1776, the Continental Congress approved a resolution that all continental commissions use the words "United States" instead of "United Colinies," establishing the name of the government-to-be.

In 1850, California became the first state on the Pacific Coast to be admitted to the Union.

Also in 1850, New Mexico and Utah were organized as territories.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur laid down his occupation policy of Japan, ordering his troops to respect the personal and property rights of the Japanese.

Ten years ago — Some 1,460 persons were killed in an earthquake in Algeria, North Africa's worst quake in 40 years.

Five years ago — The exiled Dalai Lama of Tibet appealed to the United Nations to save the Tibetan race from extention by the Chinese Communists.

One year ago — Five federal judges issued an injunction to block Alabama Gov. George Wallace's efforts to prevent the integration of public schools in Birmingham, Tuskegee and Mobile.

The Religious Issue

By David Lawrence

Aid To Parochial Schools Discussed Again

A religious issue has suddenly been catapulted into the presidential campaign. This is not novel, because the late President Kennedy faced it also in the 1960 campaign.

David Lawrence

The Baptist Standard — through its editor, Dr. E. S. James, of Dallas, Texas —asked President Johnson and Sen. Goldwater, respectively, just what position each takes on the subject of federal aid to parochial schools.

Mr. Johnson responded that he "would oppose any federal program, including assistance to schools, which does not strictly conform to the "American tradition of separation of church and state . . . as expressed in the First Amendment" to the Constitution.

Sen. Goldwater, on the other hand, said that he is opposed to federal aid to education as a general thing because he feels it is an "improper intervention by the central government" into a public sphere "which both traditionally and constitutionally falls within the exclusive jurisdiction" of the states. But he has insisted, he said, that if such federal aid is deemed essential "it should be made available to all our children by giving it to non-profit schools, whether public or private," since "millions of children in non-public schools need such aid just as much as do these in the public schools."

THE POSITION of many of the Catholic authorities who feel that federal aid to parochial schools is constitutional was set forth by the Rev. Virgil Blum, S.J., chairman of the Department of Political Science at Marquette University, in an article in Our Sunday Visitor, published in June 1962. He had made an extensive analysis of then-pending legislation, and he cited authorities to support his contention that federal aid to all schools for the teaching of non-religious subjects is constitutional.

"Why then," asked Father Blum, "does the Kennedy administration insist on discriminating against the nation's independent school children? . . .

"The answer, it seems to me, is simple. President Kennedy, like the congressmen, is a politician. Politics is his basis of action. He is a political realist. Hence, political considerations, not constitutional, are the decisive factors in his education policy.

"Politics is the art of the possible. Mr. Kennedy fully realizes this. He could not have been elected on a platform which promised freedom of religion in education, so he ran on a platform which promised to discriminate against church-related school children. Assuming Mr. Kennedy believes in equality and freedom of religion in education, an unequivocal statement in support of these civil rights would have been political suicide."

FATHER BLUM discussed the "practicalities of politics" and pointed out that the movement for "civil rights for colored school children" is stimulated by pressure groups who influence the voting. He called, therefore, for the organization of pressure groups throughout the country to get behind what he termed the "civil rights of Independent Children" numbering about 7 million.

Among the precedents cited for federal aid is the legislation passed by Congress known as the "GI Bill of Rights" under which federal funds were used for education in church-related schools and colleges. More than a million veterans were given tuition grants by the federal government, and they used these to attend Protestant, Catholic and Jewish as well as public institutions of higher education.

They enjoyed freedom of choice, and the funds were available even to those who chose to study theology. Dr. Blum wrote:

"If such direct grants with freedom of choice are legal on the college level, they are all the more legal on the elementary and secondary level. This was made emphatically clear by the United States Supreme Court in the Barnette Case of 1943. Since children attend school under compulsion, said the court, the Constitution guarantees them greater freedom in education than college students whose attendance is optional."

THERE IS no doubt that the issue is a burning one among Catholics in the United States. In recent years, with the growth of population, the Catholic churches have been faced with a problem of expansion requiring a bigger drain on the financial resources of church members than ever before in history.

The feeling among many of the church leaders is that certain federal loans and grants for the construction of facilities and classrooms in which non-religious subjects would be taught are in line with grants and loans made to non-denominational schools and colleges.

It would appear from the emergence of a new discussion on this whole issue that there may be some "cross-over" voting in the presidential election on the question of federal aid to education as it relates to parochial schools.

Board

"WE WEIGHED the continued use of the existing buildings with added adjacent sites. The advantages would have been continuing the tradition of a downtown high school, use of present buildings and to upgrade some nearby depressed areas of the city."

"The disadvantages, however, would be the high land costs; the expensive three-floor construction; the lack of areas outside the school for instruction such as biology, physical training; the crowded flow of students inside the buildings, the traffic problems and noises outside; lack of parking areas, and the questionable investment of much money to get a few more years of service from buildings which cannot be made satisfactory.

"THE board, after a state survey and consulting others, agreed that the need is for a new, modern, functional high school on a new site.

"Allowance for future space needs is important," Mrs. Dunlop declared, "and the school should be planned so that addition of new programs can be made.

"The board and Supt. Paul Blair with the advice of the faculty and citizens plan to develop a comprehensive high school program, including certain training programs to aid not just the college students or slow learner but the average student."

She said there is a need to prepare student for industries and trades in which the high school can improve its program.

"THE board has only the welfare of the young people in mind. We have seen vast changes made in education during the first part of the century, and there will doubtless be many more in the next 40 years.

"It would be wise to choose the building sites to allow for these changes and expansions.

"The program will be the largest we will ever undertake in this century, but the final realization must come from the people.

"What greater heritage can the citizens leave for the future citizens of East Liverpool than a sound education, adequate classrooms, strong buildings erected to meet the changes of the future," she concluded.

"WE WEIGHED the continued use of the existing buildings with added adjacent sites. The advantages would have been continuing the tradition of a downtown high school, use of present buildings and to upgrade some nearby depressed areas of the city."

"The disadvantages, however, would be the high land costs; the expensive three-floor construction; the lack of areas outside the school for instruction such as biology, physical training; the crowded flow of students inside the buildings, the traffic problems and noises outside; lack of parking areas, and the questionable investment of much money to get a few more years of service from buildings which cannot be made satisfactory.

"THE board, after a state survey and consulting others, agreed that the need is for a new, modern, functional high school on a new site.

"Allowance for future space needs is important," Mrs. Dunlop declared, "and the school should be planned so that addition of new programs can be made.

"The board and Supt. Paul Blair with the advice of the faculty and citizens plan to develop a comprehensive high school program, including certain training programs to aid not just the college students or slow learner but the average student."

She said there is a need to prepare student for industries and trades in which the high school can improve its program.

"THE board has only the welfare of the young people in mind. We have seen vast changes made in education during the first part of the century, and there will doubtless be many more in the next 40 years.

"It would be wise to choose the building sites to allow for these changes and expansions.

"The program will be the largest we will ever undertake in this century, but the final realization must come from the people.

"What greater heritage can the citizens leave for the future citizens of East Liverpool than a sound education, adequate classrooms, strong buildings erected to meet the changes of the future," she concluded.

Chamber Board Goes On Record For School Issue

The Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce endorsed the school bond issue which will go to the voters next Tuesday during a dinner meeting last night with committee chairmen at the Travelers Hotel.

W. E. Williams, district manager of the Ohio Power Co., was elected Chamber treasurer to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Wendell H. Vodrey.

PLANS FOR the fall program were discussed and the group reviewed summer activities.

The fall program will include an outing and visit to a rural community, which will be arranged by the agriculture and conservation committee.

The fall membership meeting has been planned for the last week in October.

E. R. Chandler, executive manager, announced the annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber will be held Nov. 10-11 at the Columbus Plaza Hotel.

Donald U. Honicky reported for a special committee named to study a revision of the by-laws.

DAYTON ALLEN, chairman of the East Liverpool Merchants Association, reported on the group's fall plans.

H. James Allison, chairman of the civic affairs and community development committee, reported on the summer river outing held last month and reviewed recommendations presented to City Council last night for civic improvements.

A report on the program held early in August to officially mark the opening of the lake-river freeway from the city limits to Route 170 was given by Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the highways committee.

Lang also reported on the data for construction of the next section of the freeway from Route 170 to a point just west of the intersection of Routes 7 and 30.

PLANS FOR a reception and tour for new teachers in the East Liverpool and Beaver Local school districts and in the Chester-Newell area, including Oak Glen High Schools, next Wednesday were reviewed by Edwin Maloney, chairman of the public education committee.

Maloney also reported on a coffee hour for city teachers held Tuesday morning. It was sponsored by the committee and the East Liverpool Teachers Association.

Industrial development activities were reviewed by Alvin T. Babb, president of the Community Improvement Corp. Babb reported on contacts made and sites inspected and announced the annual meeting will be held early in October.

Samuel W. Brown, chairman of the safety committee, discussed plans for the annual observance of Fire Prevention Week in October and reviewed a study which was made of traffic problems.

The committee also is cooperating with the county industrial safety program, he announced.

GEORGE SHAW, membership chairman, reviewed the new members added and resignations received. The committee now is planning its membership renewal drive.

A forum for some high school students on economic understanding is being planned by the business relations committee, R. R. Emmerling, chairman, reported.

The committee also plans to offer a freedom versus communism course to those interested, Emmerling said.

Reporting for H. J. English, chairman, of the tourist promotion committee, Chandler said several group tours were held this summer and reported on progress in assembling material for a tourist brochure.

The dinner was the first session of the board since June. Continuing an annual custom, regular meetings in July and August were suspended because of the vacation season.

Glenmoor's PTA Gives Its Support To School Issue

School Supt. Paul Blair addressed members of the Glenmoor Parent - Teacher Association on behalf of the school bond issue at the group's first meeting of the new term Tuesday night.

The association then went on record as supporting the issue.

Miss Elizabeth Coleman, principal, introduced the faculty members, including five new teachers — Mrs. Elizabeth Tuttle, first grade; Mrs. Sally Bluestone and Mrs. Beth Steiner, third; Mrs. Keith Langdon, second, and Mrs. Evelyn Bibbee, fifth.

Business was conducted by Richard Mattern, president, when the 1964-65 budget was approved. The Rev. James F. Donald, pastor of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church, conducted the devotions.

Refreshments were served by the teachers.

The next meeting will be Oct. 20.

Area Orchardmen's Event Set Thursday

LISBON — The annual fall meeting of the orchardmen of Columbiana and Mahoning Counties will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Salem Fruit Growers Association storage plant at Greenford.

Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture, said the meeting is open to all orchardmen of the area, as well as interested fruit buyers and suppliers.

There will be presentation of awards to the Columbiana-Mahoning apple queen contestants; a buyer's point of view regarding apple buying will be discussed and Pat Casey of the Farm Bureau Federation will advise on activities and plans of the OAMA and apple crop outlook for the year.

Refreshments will be served.

12 Fined, 11 Forfeit In Patrol Cases

LISBON — Twelve motorists were fined, with one's penalty suspended, and 11 others forfeited bonds in State Highway Patrol cases before County Judge James L. MacDonald Tuesday.

Lester A. Westover, 29, of R. D. 4, received a suspended $5 fine for failing to yield the right-of-way. Others fined were:

Robert Gorby, 22, of R. D. 4, $100 and costs and 30 days in the County Jail for operating a motor vehicle while his driver's license was under suspension.

James L. Anderson, 22, of Hanoverton, $20 and costs for operating a motor vehicle at night without lights.

Robert L. Morrison, 18, of East Rochester and Nancy E. Medved, 27, of Minerva, $10 and costs each for driving left of center. Morrison was also fined $20 and costs for failing to stop after an accident. A 30-day jail sentence was suspended on good behavior.

Gale Plumm, 32, and Jesse Dilling, 44, both of R. D. 5, $5 and costs each for parking on the highway.

James H. May, 19, of R. D. 4 and Carl J. Horner, 18, of M.C. Route 20, East Liverpool, $5 and costs each for no mufflers.

Kenneth V. Hole, 30, of R. D. 2, $5 and costs for failure to obey a stop sign.

George Stuckey, 56, of 227 N. Beaver St., Lisbon, and Wayne S. Hawkins, 30, of Hopedale, $5 and costs each for speeding.

Forfeiting were:

William Crooks, 18, of 587 Sturgis Ave., East Liverpool; Timothy Andrick, 23, and Robert L. Andrews, 19, both of Cleveland; Clifford O. Rosenlieb, 20, of Toronto; Marilyn J. Lis, 18, of Euclid; J. Donald Presley, 20, of Willoughby; John T. McGuire, 44, of Niles; Leland C. Hersman, 18, of Parsons, W. Va.; Richard P. Parker, 26, of Cleveland, and Dominick Casarcia, 23, of Follansbee, $15 each for speeding.

Lisbon Boy Assigned

LISBON — Airman Lawrence R. Williams, ward of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams of R. D. 5, has been assigned to a Strategic Air Command unit at Malmstrom (Mont.) Air Force Base, following competition of basic military training. He will train as an air policeman. He is a 1964 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Beaver Local Group Gives OK To Levies

The Association for Advancement of Beaver Local Education (ABLE) held a two - hour discussion before voting to back school district levies at a reorganizational meeting Tuesday night at the Public School.

The discussion was on the proposed levy renewal, the new levy and some of the proposed cutbacks by the Board of Education.

Members of the board attended the session, asking that ABLE serve as a working group to promote the levies in the district.

The group went on record to serve as a "working group" after the lengthy discussion.

Dr. Arthur Cloran, chairman, presided. Twenty-five attended.

All chairmen will be contacted relative to a meeting Monday night, the place to be announced later.

Sponsored By Quota

Free Travelogue Slated For Public Tuesday Night

The public is invited to attend a free Travelogue to be presented at 8 p. m. Tuesday at Westgate School as an introductory film to the "Travel and Adventure Series" sponsored by the Quota Club.

Plans were made for the project at the opening fall luncheon meeting of the club Tuesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Mrs. Laura Reinacher, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced James Forshee will narrate the free filmstrip entitled, "Holiday in the Canadian Rockies." The scenic sights will include Banff National Park, the Bow River, Mount Eisenhower, Lake Louise, Columbia Icefields and many other interesting sights.

Complimentary tickets have been mailed to those who purchased season tickets in the past; however, anyone interested may attend.

Tickets will be sold to the remaining films of the series, "Hunter of Brazil," to be shown Oct. 6; "This Is Egypt," Oct. 13; "Hunza Land," Oct. 20, and "Hawaii, The State," Oct. 27.

Dr. Edith Gilmore is handling publicity and Miss Mildred McGregor, arrangements for the auditorium. Members of the club will act as ticket takers and ushers.

Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner will preview the forthcoming series at the introductory night and explain the work of the Speech and Hearing Clinic for which proceeds will be used.

Mrs. Marie Hays, president, introduced Supt. Paul Blair, who spoke on the proposed school bond issue. Facts sheets were distributed and a question-and-answer period followed. The club voted endorsement of the bond issue.

New members introduced were Mrs. Veda Rochette, dietician at City Hospital; Mrs. Ethel Webb, executive secretary at the Mary Patterson Memorial Home; Miss Judy Kozar, home economist for the Ohio Valley Gas Co., and Mrs. Wilma Mason, executive secretary of the City Hospital Auxiliary Hospitality Center.

Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Mildred McKim were named delegates to the 6th District conference Sept. 25-27 at the Netherlands Hotel in Cincinnati. Mrs. Reinacher and Mrs. Boice are alternates. Miss Gladys DeBolt, district governor, briefly reviewed the program she has arranged for the annual event.

Correspondence read by Mrs. Boice included thank-you notes from Mrs. Dolores Gerbert, Mrs. Marie Higgins and Mrs. Dorothy Patterson Sayre, and an invitation to a card party Sept. 16 at Elyria.

Mrs. Edna Jones reported on the immunization program in which the club is interested as a project. Mrs. Reinacher spoke on knives the group is selling.

A vote of thanks was extended Miss Luella Thompson, chairman, for the recent membership drive.

Mrs. Doris Locke read the minutes and Mrs. Ola Weaver, the financial report.

A gift was presented Mrs. Lila Belle Brooks, who is moving to Terra Haute, Ind. Mrs. Margaret Duffy was named to her unexpired term of program chairman.

Midland Unit In Concert At Steubenville

The Dr. Laza Kostich Choir of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church of Midland, under the directoin of Fr. Milorad Dobrota, participated in a concert Sunday aftrenoon at the CIO Building in Steubenville, sponsored the Petar Krstich Choir of Steubenville.

The Midland choir will meet Monday night in the Serbian National Home for rehearsal, followed with a business session. Plans will be discussed for coming events. The choir will participate in a concert Oct. 4 at Wilmerding, Pa., and Oct. 10-11 will go to Milwaukee to participate in another church concert.

Peter Roknich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Roknich of Beaver Ave., vice president of the choir, left Friday for basic training at Lackland (Tex.) Air Force Base. The choir held a farewell party for him last week.

Three other members of the choir are leaving this week for college studies — Nicholas Vosovic of Darlington R. D. 1, a junior at Youngstown University; James Linta of New Brighton, freshman at Pitt University's Medical School, and Theodore Popovich of Patterson Township, a freshman at the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland.

Stranded Drivers Get Volunteer Patrol Help

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)— Motorists stranded on Interstate 75 during the long Labor Day weekend got a helping hand from the Middletown Area Citizens' Radio Patrol Inc., a voluntary organization.

Thirty-five members of the patrol covered 3,746 miles in assisting 320 motorists on a stretch of the highway, project chairman Bill Billett Jr. said. Flat tires and running out of gasoline were the most frequent causes of troubles, Billett said.

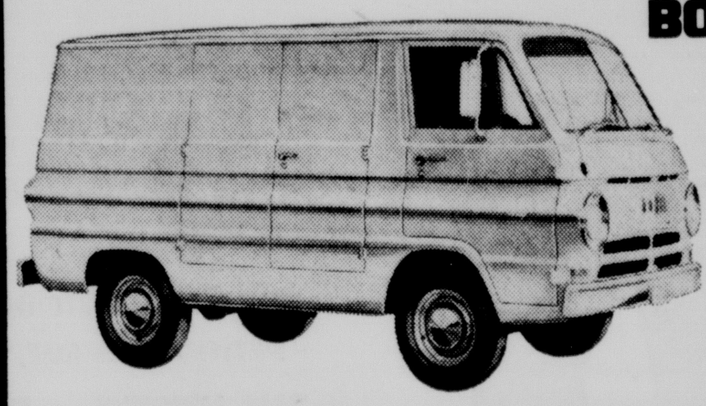
THE DODGE BOYS

There are thirteen reasons why the Dodge A100 Compact van is a better buy:

1. More power. 2. More durability. 3. Bigger payload. 4. Bigger brakes. 5. More comfortable seats. 6. More insulation. 7. Larger wheels. 8. More accessible service. 9. Better corrosion protection. 10. Tougher transmission. 11. Larger fuel tank. 12. A 5-year/50,000 mile warranty*. 13. The heater works!

Are these unsubstantiated claims of superiority? You can get all the proof from any one of the Dodge Boys. Stop in today.



*Here's how Dodge Truck's 5-year/50,000-mile Engine and Drive Train Warranty protects you: Chrysler Corporation warrants for 5 years or 50,000 miles or 1500 hours of operation, whichever comes first, against defects in materials and workmanship and will replace or repair at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business gasoline and Perkins diesel engines (i.e., block, head(s), and internal parts), intake manifold, water pump, flywheel, flywheel housing, clutch housing, torque converter, transmission (i.e., case and internal parts, excluding manual clutch), transfer case and all internal parts, drive shafts, center bearings, universal joints, driving axles and differentials, and drive wheel bearings of its new Dodge trucks, provided the owner has (1) the engine oil changed and universal joints (except sealed-type) lubricated every 2 months or 2000 miles, whichever comes first, (2) the engine oil filter replaced and the carburetor air filter cleaned every second oil change and dry-type carburetor air filter element replaced every 32,000 miles, (3) the closed crankcase vent system cleaned and serviced every 8000 miles, and (4) the transmission, transfer case, driving axle and sealed-type universal joint lubricants changed every 20,000 miles. The foregoing services must be performed more often when reasonably required due to severe dust or regular "stop and go" operation. Every 6 months the owner must furnish to such a dealer evidence of performance of the required service and request the dealer to certify (1) receipt of such evidence and (2) the truck's then current mileage.

Free Travelogue Slated For Public Tuesday Night

The public is invited to attend a free Travelogue to be presented at 8 p. m. Tuesday at Westgate School as an introductory film to the "Travel and Adventure Series" sponsored by the Quota Club.

Plans were made for the project at the opening fall luncheon meeting of the club Tuesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Mrs. Laura Reinacher, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced James Forshee will narrate the free filmstrip entitled, "Holiday in the Canadian Rockies." The scenic sights will include Banff National Park, the Bow River, Mount Eisenhower, Lake Louise, Columbia Icefields and many other interesting sights.

Complimentary tickets have been mailed to those who purchased season tickets in the past; however, anyone interested may attend.

Tickets will be sold to the remaining films of the series, "Hunter of Brazil," to be shown Oct. 6; "This Is Egypt," Oct. 13; "Hunza Land," Oct. 20, and "Hawaii, The State," Oct. 27.

Dr. Edith Gilmore is handling publicity and Miss Mildred McGregor, arrangements for the auditorium. Members of the club will act as ticket takers and ushers.

Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner will preview the forthcoming series at the introductory night and explain the work of the Speech and Hearing Clinic for which proceeds will be used.

Mrs. Marie Hays, president, introduced Supt. Paul Blair, who spoke on the proposed school bond issue. Facts sheets were distributed and a question-and-answer period followed. The club voted endorsement of the bond issue.

New members introduced were Mrs. Veda Rochette, dietician at City Hospital; Mrs. Ethel Webb, executive secretary at the Mary Patterson Memorial Home; Miss Judy Kozar, home economist for the Ohio Valley Gas Co., and Mrs. Wilma Mason, executive secretary of the City Hospital Auxiliary Hospitality Center.

Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Mildred McKim were named delegates to the 6th District conference Sept. 25-27 at the Netherlands Hotel in Cincinnati. Mrs. Reinacher and Mrs. Boice are alternates. Miss Gladys DeBolt, district governor, briefly reviewed the program she has arranged for the annual event.

Correspondence read by Mrs. Boice included thank-you notes from Mrs. Dolores Gerbert, Mrs. Marie Higgins and Mrs. Dorothy Patterson Sayre, and an invitation to a card party Sept. 16 at Elyria.

Mrs. Edna Jones reported on the immunization program in which the club is interested as a project. Mrs. Reinacher spoke on knives the group is selling.

A vote of thanks was extended Miss Luella Thompson, chairman, for the recent membership drive.

Mrs. Doris Locke read the minutes and Mrs. Ola Weaver, the financial report.

A gift was presented Mrs. Lila Belle Brooks, who is moving to Terra Haute, Ind. Mrs. Margaret Duffy was named to her unexpired term of program chairman.

Covers were arranged for 26 at tables centered with fall flowers. The group read the Club Collect.

Next session is Sept. 22 at the home of Dr. Gilmore on Manor Ln. T. R. Price of Charleston will speak on "Investments."

The Social -:- -:- Notebook

Plans to "adopt" two sisters from the Grundy Mountain Mission in Virginia were discussed when the Women's Fellowship of the Second Church of Christ met Monday night in the social rooms.

The group decided on the project after the reading of a letter from the mission. New and homemade clothing, to be displayed at the Mission Rally in Columbiana during October, was shown. This clothing will be sent to Grundy.

Worship was conducted by Mrs. Carman, who read an article, "Queer or Different," and a poem, "A Washerwoman's Friend." The group sang "To the Work."

Refreshments were served 18 by Mrs. Landfried and Mrs. Jennie Rough.

James Snyder, 295 Haywood St., was honored with a party Sunday celebrating his 72nd birthday anniversary.

He received gifts and cards. Games and music were enjoyed.

Signs Of Middle Age

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs of middle age:

You're busier fighting old bad habits than acquiring new ones.

If anyone asks is it hot enough for you, you have an almost irresistible urge to grab him by the lapels and tell him about the heat wave back in 1935.

Teen-agers look a lot bigger than they did when you were one.

Every year you admire your own parents more as you realize how much smarter they were about raising children than you are.

You wouldn't buy a ticket to the moon if they were selling at three for a quarter.

Getting to work on time isn't much trouble anymore because you rather like to get up earlier in the morning.

The bright new young comedians on television don't seem very funny — half the time you don't understand what they are joking about.

Instead of thinking of old age as beginning around 60, you push its onset up to 70 or 75.

There don't seem to be as many bluebirds around as there were years ago.

Next year, you decide, you'll set out fewer tomato plants in the garden — and plant a shorter row of string beans.

At cocktail parties you ration yourself to two martinis, and give up betting strangers that you can beat them at Indian hand wrestling.

Being caught in a sudden rain makes you grumpy the rest of the day.

You can think of many more reasons for staying home than going on a picnic.

Everybody on the highway drives like an idiot except you.

When you see two young people in love you thank heaven you didn't act that silly when you were that age.

A letter from an old friend makes you feel sentimental — after you have opened it and found he isn't trying to borrow money — and you save it for days and read it over and over.

You got along fine with your old neighbors, but when they move away you make up your mind to put up a picket fence. Never can tell what the new neighbors will be like.

Everybody seems so neurotic and full of strange prejudices nowadays. You're glad you're not that way at all.

That's middle age. At least these are ways to tell it — in the other fellow.

"Unexpected medical bills aren't going to ruin my retirement,"

says 65-year-old Fred W. Haase

"I've just heard about a new kind of health insurance for people 65 and over," says Mr. Haase of Bay Village, Ohio.

"It's called Ohio 65. Many leading insurance companies have joined together to offer it, thanks to a new state law passed recently by the Ohio Legislature."

Ohio 65 is a unique program. It provides broad medical, hospital and surgical coverage, but for a very reasonable premium. There's no physical examination. No health questionnaire. No upper age limit. Sons and daughters may enroll their parents without their signatures. Coverage cannot be cancelled because of long or repeated illness.

Act now! Initial enrollment period begins Oct. 1, ends Oct. 31. Call your insurance agent or mail coupon!

Bond Issue Gets Endorsement Of PTA At Neville

Harry Greenwood of the Citizens Committee For Better Schools discussed the proposed school bond issue at the first fall meeting of the Neville School Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night at the school.

The association voted to endorse the issue. Greenwood was introduced by Keith Dunlevy, principal.

William Bennett, president, presided. Devotions were led by the Rev. Paul George, pastor of the Boyce Methodist Church. Lunch was served by the executive committee. The next meeting will be Oct. 13.

River Pact Unit Sets Parely In Huntington

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —The 16th annual meeting of the eight-state Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) will be held here Thursday.

Barton A. Holl of Logan, Ohio, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, will be installed as ORSANCO chairman. States in the organization are New York, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

Police, Fire Alarm Plan Told Council

A plan by which the city would lease a consolidated police and fire alarm emergency reporting system was explanied to City Council Tuesday night in a caucus by a representative of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Under the proposal suggested by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey following the resignation of Fred Kane as city electrician effective Sept. 15, the city could contract for the emergency reporting system and also contract for maintenance of traffic lights and various pumps at the water and sewage plants rather than seek a replacement for the electrician.

Robert Brooks, a commercial sales representative for Ohio Bell, said the firm has two types of emergency reporting systems which it leases.

The most sophisticated system, which includes a voice recording of all calls, would cost approximately $1,000 a month for 50 stations while a manual system, without the voice recording and some other features, can be furnished for approximately $700 a month.

The better system would require about a year for installation while the other could be installed in 60 days, he told Council. Both contracts would run for five years.

Brooks explained that under the present system the fire department receives its alarms from some 40 stations through a Gamewell alarm system. There is no police alarm system although the desk officer can summon officers through signal lights in the downtown and East End sections.

Under the present fire alarm system, there are no stations on Pleasant Heights or North Side north of Grant St., Brooks explained.

The service representative estimated about 90 per cent of the alarms now are phoned to the fire department with an average of about 20 box alarms a year.

The present alarm boxes are on two circuits and an entire circuit can be knocked out by damage to one alarm box, he said. The stations included in the leased equipment would be on separate circuits and would be monitored constantly through indicator lights on a central switchboard which would inform the operator if a station was out of service.

In response to a question, Vodrey said a contractor has agreed to handle maintenance of traffic lights until Council can decide whether to hire a new electrician or contract for electrical work and alarm systems.

Teen-Age GOP Club Formed At Chester

Mike Cashdollar was elected temporary chairman. Six attended and suggestions on organization were offered by Richard Johnson of Chester, Grant District Republican committeeman.

The club has adopted the name of the "T. A. R. Club" the initials standing for teen-age Republicans. The meeting will be Tuesday night at 6:30 in the GOP headquarters on Carolina Ave. Interested youths are asked to attend.

Nuclear Ship Begins Return From Sweden

MALMOE, Sweden (AP) — The U.S. nuclear ship Savannah is en route home after being delayed by technical trouble.

It had been scheduled to sail Monday. A statement from the ship said its nuclear reactor was shut down to check for a possible malfunction. It was later discovered that the fault lay with instruments used to sample air near the reactor, the statement said, and "the nuclear aspects of the ship were not involved in any way."

Firm Picked For TV Cable

Rego Industries of Hoboken, N. J., was designated by City Council Tuesday night to erect a television cable service to provide "all band" reception for East Liverpool residents.

Council unanimously approved the recommendation of the planning committee, headed by Councilman William Davis, who said the committee felt the New Jersey firm was the most suited of four applicants for the franchise.

James R. Palmer, a representative of the Central Video Corp. of State College, Pa., who earlier had addressed Council on his firm's application during the "personal privilege" session, sought permission to speak when the motion was on the floor, but was refused by Council President George E. Willshaw.

Following the meeting, James V. Coffey, Rego systems manager, estimated the firm will invest between $350,000 and $400,000 in providing the service over telephone trunk lines to subscribers.

Coffey said the company's proposal to Council provided the fee for subscribers will be "not less than $4.50 nor more than $4.95 per month."

The company will start with nine VHF channels, but eventually will provide programs from 12 channels, the representative said, adding that programs broadcast by UHF stations would be converted for relay over the cables.

Field tests for antenna sites now are under way, the Rego representative said, and engineers probably will begin their first surveys next week.

Rego primarily is a manufacturer of TV equipment and cables, but has been in the community antenna service for 10 years, Coffeey said.

Turnpike Crash Kills Wickliffe Trucker, 26

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Lynn Allen Jenkins, 26, of Wickliffe, died in South Side Hospital here today about four hours after his truck was involved in a crash on the Ohio Turnpike.

The Turnpike Patrol said Jenkins, traveling east, crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer rig which had stopped in the driving lane after hitting a bridge railing two miles east of the Niles - Youngstown interchange.

Charles Smith, 31, of Chesterland, driver of the tractor-trailer, was not in his truck when Jenkins crashed into it. He also escaped injury when his truck hit the bridge.

Struck Firm To Seek Injunction On Pickets

CLEVELAND (AP) — A spokesman for the struck Auer Register Co. says it will ask Common Pleas Court for a temporary injunction limiting the number of pickets at its plant and banning further violence.

The plant, on Cleveland's east side, was the scene of trouble Tuesday for the second time since Friday.

Twenty patrolmen, aided by five mounted police, moved in to quell a disturbance that resulted when a crowd of 300 persons showered non-strikers with eggs, tomatoes and fruit.

One workman was cut by flying glass and four persons were arrested.

Man Held In Shooting Death Of Former Wife

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Robert Whetstone, 29, is being held in the Erie County jail pending a further investigation into the fatal shooting of his ex-wife, Mrs. Joyce Carico, 31.

Whetstone told police that Mrs. Carico was hit by a bullet that ricocheted while they were target shooting Sunday at Rest Haven Wildlife Preserve west of here. Whetstone then changed his story, claiming Mrs. Carico shot herself with a pistol as she sat in his car at the wildlife haven, according to Sheriff Alton T. Young.

Inexperience Marks Beaver Local

Beavers Open Season Here On Saturday

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The football picture at Beaver Local could be brighter if it weren't for inexperience, a small group of players and the loss of three lettermen who should have been returning this season.

Ed Stevens and his staff have found a few problems to overcome as they put the Beavers through their final paces to prepare for Saturday's opener with rival East Liverpool.

INEXPERIENCE, especially in the backfield, has cropped up this season. Also Stevens has been working with 26 players from a starting group of 38 which reported on Aug. 21.

The Beaver Local coach explained "that although the squad is small in numbers we have the kids left who want to play football for Beaver Local and have taken pride in the fact that they have stayed with us."

The group of 26 is young with only eight seniors, six juniors and 12 sophomores.

BEAVER Local has five lettermen returning but should have had eight. George Rizer who lettered at end in 1963 underwent an operation and probably won't see any action until the last half of the season.

Pete Burnett, a lineman who lettered as a sophomore is attending a private school and Jim Nulph, another letter winner, joined the Armed Forces.

Stevens will build his attack this season around quarterback Norm Gaydos, a 155 - pound senior who lettered last season and showed a lot of potential.

Stevens said "Norm is the most experienced and does a good job of directing the team."

THE OTHER letter winner in the backfield will be Arnie McLaughlin a 150-pound junior halfback. "Arnie has the potential to be a good running back but has been slow getting started this season," Stevens pointed out.

At left halfback, Stevens plans to use Larry Stiteler, 150-pound senior. "He has never played before but has impressed us. He is a tough kid."

The fullback job is up for grabs between Bill Green, a 175-pound junior and Harry Matheny, 165-pound sophomore. Both are running even, Stevens said.

THE BEAVERS have good size at the tackles. With Copestick at the other slot will be 220-pound Wince McFarland who was injured last season.

The other end will be Rich Shilling, 160-pound junior while Art Doak, a junior weighing 175, has cracked the starting lineup at guard along with Dale Moore, 180-pound junior.

The Beaver Local mentor pointed out three other gridders he will be counting on this fall. Gary Beagle, 165 - pound senior, and Bruce Karger, 165 - pound sophomore, will be used at guards going both ways while Dick Rudibaugh, recovering from a knee injury is scheduled to see some action at a terminal spot. Rudibaugh is a 180-pound senior.

In his first season, Stevens compiled a 3-7 record and lost 10 boys through graduation.

LOOKING over the 1964 schedule Stevens said "East Liverpool poses a big threat since they are the largest school we play and a rival. They have more potential than any other team on our schedule and have made some coaching changes to show that the community is concerned about the football program."

Beaver Local will compete in the Buckeye Border Conference again this season after finishing third last year. Stevens looks for the league to be stronger this year and that Toronto will be the team to beat for the title.

The only change on the Beaver Local schedule is the addition of Ed Oliver's Southern Local eleven.

The 1964 schedule follows:

Sept.	12	East Liverpool, away
Sept.	18	Leetonia, away
Sept.	25	Springfield Local, home
Oct.	2	Jefferson Union, away
Oct.	10	United, home
Oct.	17	East Palestine, home
Oct.	23	Carrollton, away
Oct.	31	Southern Local, away
Nov.	7	Toronto, home
Nov.	14	Wellsville, away

Washington May Surprise Some In NFL

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Washington Redskins may have a few surprises ready for their National Football League opponents if coach Bill McPeak can generate his enthusiasm into the ranks.

The Redskins host the Cleveland Browns in their opener Sunday.

Washington finished sixth in the Eastern conference last season with a 3-11 record. McPeak was given the green light to start trading in an effort to bolster the club. Since then he has been busier than a yeast salesman at a bakers' convention.

First McPeak went hunting for a quarterback to replace Norman Snead. He landed Sonny Jurgensen from the Philadelphia Eagles along with Jimmy Carr for Snead and defensive back Claude Crabb.

Then came linebacker Sam Huff from the New York Giants, who McPeak labels "a good leader, a helluva guy." McPeak gave up tackle Andy Stynchula and halfback Dick James for Huff and rookie end George Seals.

With Jurgensen and Huff in the stable, McPeak feels he has the horses to make it an interesting race in the east.

"I'll tell you this," he said, "it's the best team in my six years here."

Like most pro teams, the Redskins need a clicking passing attack to move. Jurgensen will have ex-Brown Bobby Mitchell as flanker, one of the best runners in the game. Pat Richter, a 6-foot-5 end from Wisconsin has a year's experience under his belt.

Alabama's football team has 21 lettermen.

Salem Nine Gains Finals At Chester

Kelly Hill Atlantic of Salem moved into the finals of the Chester Softball tournament by defeating Aliquippa CIO, 7-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Charlie Biddle of Youngstown.

Biddle faced only 22 batters, one over the limit. One man was tossed out stealing and another was called out for leaving the base too soon.

Kelly Hill will meet Chester VFW tonight at 7:30 for the title. If the Chester nine loses another game will be played Thursday in the double elimination tournament.

Don't Count Out Yankees, Bombers Only Game Behind

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American League pennant contenders have gone through four fifths, but each day makes it more difficult for one of them to break out the champagne.

With less than one-fifth of the season remaining, Baltimore leads the see-saw battle, but Chicago is only one-half game behind and New York is just one game back. Only six percentage points separate the Orioles from the Yankees.

The race became the tightest it's been since Aug. 5 when the Yankees edged Minnesota 2-1 Tuesday night.

Only 18 days ago, even many of the most astute baseball observers were counting out the Yankees. They were in third place then, too, but they were 5½ games from the top.

Since that time, they have won 12, the last five in a row, and lost just four. In the same period, the Orioles won eight of 17 while the White Sox were 9-10.

The Yankees now have two more games remaining than the Orioles —25 to 23 — and are even in losses. In other words, if the Yankees win their two extra games, they would have the same record as Baltimore.

The White Sox, on the other hand, have 20 games left and have lost two more games than the other contenders, putting them at a statistical disadvantage.

None of the teams plays each other the rest of the season. That is, unless they meet in a playoff.

The Yankees nosed out Minnesota on Elston Howard's run-scoring single in the seventh inning. Roger Maris started the rally with a double and eventually reached third on a sacrifice bunt by Joe Pepitone. Howard brought him home with a single to center field.

Maris also figured in the Yankees' first-inning run. He singled Tony Kubek to third from where he scored on Mickey Mantle's sacrifice fly. The Twins tied it in their half of the first on singles by Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles and a pair of force plays.

In the National League's only game, Los Angeles nipped first-place Philadelphia 3-2 on run-scoring doubles by Jim Gilliam and John Roseboro in the first inning.

Maury Wills started the first with a single and stole second. Gilliam doubled in Wills and went to third as Willie Davis singled. Both runners then came home on Roseboro's double.

The Phillies scored a run in the second on a sacrifice fly by Gus Triandos and one in the seventh on Ruben Amaro's single following a double by Triandos.

Inexperience Marks Beaver Local

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The football picture at Beaver Local could be brighter if it weren't for inexperience, a small group of players and the loss of three lettermen who should have been returning this season.

Ed Stevens and his staff have found a few problems to overcome as they put the Beavers through their final paces to prepare for Saturday's opener with rival East Liverpool.

INEXPERIENCE, especially in the backfield, has cropped up this season. Also Stevens has been working with 26 players from a starting group of 38 which reported on Aug. 21.

The Beaver Local coach explained "that although the squad is small in numbers we have the kids left who want to play football for Beaver Local and have taken pride in the fact that they have stayed with us."

The group of 26 is young with only eight seniors, six juniors and 12 sophomores.

BEAVER Local has five lettermen returning but should have had eight. George Rizer who lettered at end in 1963 underwent an operation and probably won't see any action until the last half of the season.

Pete Burnett, a lineman who lettered as a sophomore is attending a private school and Jim Nulph, another letter winner, joined the Armed Forces.

Stevens will build his attack this season around quarterback Norm Gaydos, a 155 - pound senior who lettered last season and showed a lot of potential.

THE OTHER letter winner in the backfield will be Arnie McLaughlin a 150-pound junior halfback. "Arnie has the potential to be a good running back but has been slow getting started this season," Stevens pointed out.

At left halfback, Stevens plans to use Larry Stiteler, 150-pound senior. "He has never played before but has impressed us. He is a tough kid."

The fullback job is up for grabs between Bill Green, a 175-pound junior and Harry Matheny, 165-pound sophomore. Both are running even, Stevens said.

THE BEAVERS have good size at the tackles. With Copestick at the other slot will be 220-pound Wince McFarland who was injured last season.

The other end will be Rich Shilling, 160-pound junior while Art Doak, a junior weighing 175, has cracked the starting lineup at guard along with Dale Moore, 180-pound junior.

The Beaver Local mentor pointed out three other gridders he will be counting on this fall. Gary Beagle, 165 - pound senior, and Bruce Karger, 165 - pound sophomore, will be used at guards going both ways while Dick Rudibaugh, recovering from a knee injury is scheduled to see some action at a terminal spot. Rudibaugh is a 180-pound senior.

In his first season, Stevens compiled a 3-7 record and lost 10 boys through graduation.

LOOKING over the 1964 schedule Stevens said "East Liverpool poses a big threat since they are the largest school we play and a rival. They have more potential than any other team on our schedule and have made some coaching changes to show that the community is concerned about the football program."

Beaver Local will compete in the Buckeye Border Conference again this season after finishing third last year. Stevens looks for the league to be stronger this year and that Toronto will be the team to beat for the title.

The only change on the Beaver Local schedule is the addition of Ed Oliver's Southern Local eleven.

The 1964 schedule follows:

Sept.	12	East Liverpool, away
Sept.	18	Leetonia, away
Sept.	25	Springfield Local, home
Oct.	2	Jefferson Union, away
Oct.	10	United, home
Oct.	17	East Palestine, home
Oct.	23	Carrollton, away
Oct.	31	Southern Local, away
Nov.	7	Toronto, home
Nov.	14	Wellsville, away

Washington May Surprise Some In NFL

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Washington Redskins may have a few surprises ready for their National Football League opponents if coach Bill McPeak can generate his enthusiasm into the ranks.

Washington finished sixth in the Eastern conference last season with a 3-11 record. McPeak was given the green light to start trading in an effort to bolster the club. Since then he has been busier than a yeast salesman at a bakers' convention.

First McPeak went hunting for a quarterback to replace Norman Snead. He landed Sonny Jurgensen from the Philadelphia Eagles along with Jimmy Carr for Snead and defensive back Claude Crabb.

Then came linebacker Sam Huff from the New York Giants, who McPeak labels "a good leader, a helluva guy." McPeak gave up tackle Andy Stynchula and halfback Dick James for Huff and rookie end George Seals.

With Jurgensen and Huff in the stable, McPeak feels he has the horses to make it an interesting race in the east.

"I'll tell you this," he said, "it's the best team in my six years here."

Like most pro teams, the Redskins need a clicking passing attack to move. Jurgensen will have ex-Brown Bobby Mitchell as flanker, one of the best runners in the game. Pat Richter, a 6-foot-5 end from Wisconsin has a year's experience under his belt.

Raiders Gain Cannon, Miller In Late Trade

By The Associated Press

The Oakland Raiders were looking forward today to an all-out assault on the American Football League's Western Division throne after making two big scores in the circuit's final pre-season scramble for talent.

The Raiders, by acquiring both Billy Cannon, former Heisman Trophy winner, and pass-catching star Bill Miller Tuesday, appear to have made the biggest gain in the wheeling and dealing that accompanied 11th-hour roster revisions in the American and National pro leagues.

With season openers only a few days away, AFL clubs trimmed their squads to the legal limit of 34 and NFL teams to 40 via waiver and trade routes.

Oakland figured in two of the more prominent transactions, obtaining Cannon from Houston in exchange for three players and luring Miller from Buffalo for a future draft choice.

Houston General Manager Carrol Martin said, "We're having our troubles with the line and that's what we were trying to do with this trade—get help up front."

Veteran guard Sonny Bishop was the key man in the three-for-one swap. Bob Jackson, a 6-foot-2, 240-pound fullback, and flanker Dobie Craig completed the deal.

The addition of Miller, a second-year pro from Miami U., gives Oakland quarterback Tom Flores two of the AFL's leading pass-receivers. Art Powell second in the league with 73 receptions in 1963, is the other. Miller was fourth on the receiving list with 69, setting a Buffalo club record.

An NFL trade sent placekicker Lou Michaels, whose 26 field goals in 1962 set a league record, from Pittsburgh to Baltimore for linebacker Bill Saul and rookie back Marv Woodson, the Colts' No. 1 draft choice.

The Colts also traded 40-year-old specialist Jim Martin to Washington for a future draft pick while the Steelers obtained tackle Ray Mansfield from Philadelphia in a cash deal.

The New York Giants placed two injured regulars—linebacker Jerry Hillebrand and end Joe Walton and two rookies—on waivers.

Several clubs refused to announce the players cut. There is a 48-hour grace period in which further deals can be made and the maneuvering is likely to continue up to the deadline.

Frick Advised League May Risk Suit On Sale

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick has been advised by his attorneys that baseball would be taking a "calculated risk" of a possible antitrust suit if the American League club owners formally approve the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The league club owners, with their representatives, met with President Joe Cronin and a battery of lawyers today to vote on the sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees to CBS for $11,200,000 last month.

The vote of eight of the 10 owners is needed for approval.

Frick, from his home in Scarsdale, N.Y., declined to comment on the report given exclusively to the Associated Press.

According to the informant, attorneys Paul Porter of the commissioner's office and Lou Carroll of the National League advised Frick that "there was inherent danger" in welcoming a public service such as CBS into the inner confines of baseball.

"There could be a danger of antitrust suits," Frick was advised. "We think there is a calculated risk."

At the time of the sale, last Aug. 14, a storm of criticism, both from people in government as well as in baseball, developed over the entry of the television and radio networks into big league ownership. Congressmen promised they would press for a closer scrutiny into baseball's exemption from antitrust laws.

Owners Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics and Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox, the only dissenters in a telegraphic vote of the league club owners to approve the sale, charged that such a vote was contrary to the league's constitution and demanded a formal meeting.

In this way they were surprisingly supported by co-owner Dan Topping of the Yankees who said he felt it was in the best interest of the league that such a meeting be held.

Another supporter was Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president, who stated he felt it imperative that whatever action is necessary be taken to set the record straight.

Stanton maintained that the network had entered the transaction "in a spirit of good will and motivated by genuine and constructive interest in the future of baseball." He added that before signing the contract, CBS officials had been assured by the American and its legal counsel that the process by which the sale was made satisfied all legal requirements.

Tad Schroeder, a Cincinnati native who helped coach Army's Plebes in football the last two years, is handling the quarterbacks for the Cadet varsity this season.

Raiders Gain Cannon, Miller In Late Trade

By The Associated Press

The Oakland Raiders were looking forward today to an all-out assault on the American Football League's Western Division throne after making two big scores in the circuit's final pre-season scramble for talent.

The Raiders, by acquiring both Billy Cannon, former Heisman Trophy winner, and pass-catching star Bill Miller Tuesday, appear to have made the biggest gain in the wheeling and dealing that accompanied 11th-hour roster revisions in the American and National pro leagues.

With season openers only a few days away, AFL clubs trimmed their squads to the legal limit of 34 and NFL teams to 40 via waiver and trade routes.

Oakland figured in two of the more prominent transactions, obtaining Cannon from Houston in exchange for three players and luring Miller from Buffalo for a future draft choice.

Houston General Manager Carrol Martin said, "We're having our troubles with the line and that's what we were trying to do with this trade—get help up front."

Veteran guard Sonny Bishop was the key man in the three-for-one swap. Bob Jackson, a 6-foot-2, 240-pound fullback, and flanker Dobie Craig completed the deal.

The addition of Miller, a second-year pro from Miami U., gives Oakland quarterback Tom Flores two of the AFL's leading pass-receivers. Art Powell second in the league with 73 receptions in 1963, is the other. Miller was fourth on the receiving list with 69, setting a Buffalo club record.

An NFL trade sent placekicker Lou Michaels, whose 26 field goals in 1962 set a league record, from Pittsburgh to Baltimore for linebacker Bill Saul and rookie back Marv Woodson, the Colts' No. 1 draft choice.

The Colts also traded 40-year-old specialist Jim Martin to Washington for a future draft pick while the Steelers obtained tackle Ray Mansfield from Philadelphia in a cash deal.

The New York Giants placed two injured regulars—linebacker Jerry Hillebrand and end Joe Walton and two rookies—on waivers.

Several clubs refused to announce the players cut. There is a 48-hour grace period in which further deals can be made and the maneuvering is likely to continue up to the deadline.

Frick Advised League May Risk Suit On Sale

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick has been advised by his attorneys that baseball would be taking a "calculated risk" of a possible antitrust suit if the American League club owners formally approve the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The league club owners, with their representatives, met with President Joe Cronin and a battery of lawyers today to vote on the sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees to CBS for $11,200,000 last month.

The vote of eight of the 10 owners is needed for approval.

Frick, from his home in Scarsdale, N.Y., declined to comment on the report given exclusively to the Associated Press.

According to the informant, attorneys Paul Porter of the commissioner's office and Lou Carroll of the National League advised Frick that "there was inherent danger" in welcoming a public service such as CBS into the inner confines of baseball.

"There could be a danger of antitrust suits," Frick was advised. "We think there is a calculated risk."

At the time of the sale, last Aug. 14, a storm of criticism, both from people in government as well as in baseball, developed over the entry of the television and radio networks into big league ownership. Congressmen promised they would press for a closer scrutiny into baseball's exemption from antitrust laws.

Owners Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics and Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox, the only dissenters in a telegraphic vote of the league club owners to approve the sale, charged that such a vote was contrary to the league's constitution and demanded a formal meeting.

In this way they were surprisingly supported by co-owner Dan Topping of the Yankees who said he felt it was in the best interest of the league that such a meeting be held.

Another supporter was Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president, who stated he felt it imperative that whatever action is necessary be taken to set the record straight.

Stanton maintained that the network had entered the transaction "in a spirit of good will and motivated by genuine and constructive interest in the future of baseball." He added that before signing the contract, CBS officials had been assured by the American and its legal counsel that the process by which the sale was made satisfied all legal requirements.

Oklahoma Team Of 1950 For Gomer Jones

Gomer Jones, author of the following, was captain and center of the 1935 Ohio State grid team which lost 18-13 to Notre Dame in the most publicized game in Buckeye history. He served 17 years as top assistant to Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma, and this season moved up to the head coaching job there.

By GOMER JONES
For The Associated Press

Oklahoma's last-minute victory over Texas A. & M. in 1950 helped my morale.

As an Ohio State player I had gone 60 minutes in the 1935 game the Buckeyes lost to Notre Dame in the final seconds after we led 13-0.

I thought I would never hear the last of it!

But Oklahoma's fighting come-from-behind win over a strong, experienced Texas Aggie outfit 15 years later wiped out most of the personal sting of that Ohio State loss.

It felt great to help coach a team that could do the same thing.

We had a new team at Oklahome in 1950. Only one starter returned, fullback Leon "Mule Train" Heath, a rugged lightish (for a fullback) farm boy from Hollis, Okla.

But this Oklahoma team had a 22-game winning streak to protect. In this game with the Aggies it learned to pour our every ounce of effort to keep that streak alive. Despite its greenness, it was so long on courage that it went all-victorious and won the national championship.

All the drama came in the fourth quarter. The Cadets of Coach Harry Stiteler had gone ahead 28-21 on a 50-yard power sweep by Bob Smith, their big fullback.

That put it up to our young team. Our long winning skein was on the block. With our excited crowd of 40,000 urging us on, we scored a touchdown on a 32-yard pass from quarterback Claude Arnold to sophomore halfback Billy Vessels, with only 3:36 to play.

Then something tragic happened. Jim Weatherall, our big, blond junior tackle, missed the conversion kick. We trailed 28-27, time was nearly up, and we had to kick off—surrendering the ball.

I was proud of our crowd, then. As Weatherall came off the field sobbing, our fans stood and gave him a roaring ovation. It was a wonderful, generous thing to do—a thing that cuts such a cleavage between college football and any professional sport I know. The crowd knew Jim's miss sealed our defeat, yet it cheered him anyhow.

That testure of loyalty fired our team supremely. Buck McPhil, now the Illinois assistant coach, kicked off. Still fighting savagely, our line threw the Aggies back three times, forcing a punt. It curved out of bounds on our 31, and there was just 1:46 to play.

The situation looked impossible, but our team went to work. Arnold, our lanky quarterback whom he had taken off the intramural field as a freshman, began to pass that football.

Oklahoma teams are known for their strong rushing and lacklustre passing—but not that day!

Arnold hit Vessels for 30 yards to the Cadet 39. He hit Heath, but Leon lost the ball in the sun. He hit Tommy Gray for 11 to the 28, Gray running out of bounds to stop the clock. He passed to Heath for 14, and to Gray for 10, and we had a first down on the Cadet 4.

There were 44 seconds left to play, and this time Arnold took our offense out of the air and onto the ground. He faked a buck inside, then scooped a long pitchout to Heath speeding around our left flank. Heath tore around end, ran around one tackler and hurled himself across the goal line in the corner of the field for the winning touchdown.

Weatherall, beaming now, came off the bench and kicked the extra point as we won it 34-28.

After that finish, I knew how Notre Dame felt after they beat us in the last 33 seconds at Ohio State in 1935. It's a great Feeling!

It felt great to help coach a team that could do the same thing.

We had a new team at Oklahome in 1950. Only one starter returned, fullback Leon "Mule Train" Heath, a rugged lightish (for a fullback) farm boy from Hollis, Okla.

But this Oklahoma team had a 22-game winning streak to protect. In this game with the Aggies it learned to pour our every ounce of effort to keep that streak alive. Despite its greenness, it was so long on courage that it went all-victorious and won the national championship.

All the drama came in the fourth quarter. The Cadets of Coach Harry Stiteler had gone ahead 28-21 on a 50-yard power sweep by Bob Smith, their big fullback.

That put it up to our young team. Our long winning skein was on the block. With our excited crowd of 40,000 urging us on, we scored a touchdown on a 32-yard pass from quarterback Claude Arnold to sophomore halfback Billy Vessels, with only 3:36 to play.

Then something tragic happened. Jim Weatherall, our big, blond junior tackle, missed the conversion kick. We trailed 28-27, time was nearly up, and we had to kick off—surrendering the ball.

I was proud of our crowd, then. As Weatherall came off the field sobbing, our fans stood and gave him a roaring ovation. It was a wonderful, generous thing to do—a thing that cuts such a cleavage between college football and any professional sport I know. The crowd knew Jim's miss sealed our defeat, yet it cheered him anyhow.

That testure of loyalty fired our team supremely. Buck McPhil, now the Illinois assistant coach, kicked off. Still fighting savagely, our line threw the Aggies back three times, forcing a punt. It curved out of bounds on our 31, and there was just 1:46 to play.

The situation looked impossible, but our team went to work. Arnold, our lanky quarterback whom he had taken off the intramural field as a freshman, began to pass that football.

Oklahoma teams are known for their strong rushing and lacklustre passing—but not that day!

Arnold hit Vessels for 30 yards to the Cadet 39. He hit Heath, but Leon lost the ball in the sun. He hit Tommy Gray for 11 to the 28, Gray running out of bounds to stop the clock. He passed to Heath for 14, and to Gray for 10, and we had a first down on the Cadet 4.

There were 44 seconds left to play, and this time Arnold took our offense out of the air and onto the ground. He faked a buck inside, then scooped a long pitchout to Heath speeding around our left flank. Heath tore around end, ran around one tackler and hurled himself across the goal line in the corner of the field for the winning touchdown.

Weatherall, beaming now, came off the bench and kicked the extra point as we won it 34-28.

After that finish, I knew how Notre Dame felt after they beat us in the last 33 seconds at Ohio State in 1935. It's a great Feeling!

Stopped Patrol Car

Wellsville Man Arrested For Mask And Gun Caper

A Wellsville man, who allegedly made the mistake of stopping a State Highway Patrolman while wearing a mask over his face and carrying a gun, was bound to the Jefferson County Grand Jury after waiving a preliminary hearing Tuesday night.

Clifford VanTilburg, 36, of 319 2nd St., Wellsville, was being held in Jefferson County Jail at Steubenville today in lieu of $1,000 bond set by Judge A. H. Evans Jr. of Toronto.

VanTilburg was arrested Friday night about 10:30 on Jefferson County Highway 68 — Sugar Grove Rd.—outside of Toronto.

Patrolman D. J. Pierce of the Wintersville Barracks was patroling the road alone at the time. He observed a car parked on the right berm and then spotted a man standing behind the vehicle.

Pierce halted his cruiser and got out. He approached the man cautiously and advised him not to move.

VanTilburg then took off the mask, a white handkerchief, and dropped it to the ground. He was told to drop whatever he had in his hand and it turned out to be a .32-20 caliber pistol, the patrol said.

The patrolman then spotted two other men in the parked car. One was identified William Furbee, 61, of Toronto R. D. 2, a Saline Township police constable, and a passenger, George Westbrook, 81, of Bergholz.

Furbee was behind the wheel of the car, while Westbrook was asleep in the rear seat.

It was later determined the car and the gun, a Spanish make, both are owned by Furbee.

VanTilburg had been a passenger in the car but was not under arrest.

VanTilburg told officers he was just pulling a prank. They said he had been drinking.

No charges were filed against the other two.

Deaths and Funerals

Former Mill Employe Dies

John J. Lynch, 1054 Railroad St., a retired employe of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died this morning at 12:05 at the Fox Nursing Home in Chester, after a long illness. He was 87.

Mr. Lynch was born in Newfoundland May 14, 1877, to Mr. and Mrs. James Lynch, and resided in the vicinity for 30 years. He retired 10 years ago from the Midland plant. He was a member of St. Ann's Catholic Church in East End.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Lynch at home; four step-daughters, Mrs. Gladys Blondell, Mrs. Phyllis Allison and Mrs. Sally Unger, all of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Alice Watkin of Cleveland, and a step-son, Howard Lisk of Lisbon.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

Henry P. Cole

CARROLLTON — Henry P. Cole, 343 N. High St., a retired Carroll County highway employe and a former potter, died Tuesday at his home after a year's illness. He was 74.

He was a native of Washington County and resided here for 55 years. He was a potter in Carrollton for 35 years before working for the county.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Helen Cole at home; a daughter, Mrs. Dean (Betty) Roof of Carrollton; five sons, Russell Cole, Jack Cole and Henry Cole Jr., all of Carrollton, Robert Cole of East Palestine and Kenneth Cole of Beloit, and 18 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. A son, Harold Cole, preceded him in death.

Services will be held Friday at 1:30 p. m. at the Sweeney Funeral Home by the Rev. Lawrence Holmer, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

James V. Gulutz

James V. Gulutz, 52, of Swickhard Dr., Glenmoor, a welder for the Adamson & Co. of East Palestine, died Tuesday at 3:45 p. m. at home after a long illness.

Mr. Gulutz was born in California, Pa., March 19, 1912, to Guy Gulutz and Mary Sapienza Gulutz now of East Liverpool. He resided here since 1927. He was a member of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Ironworkers Local 3 of Pittsburgh and Steelworkers Local 1429 of East Palestine.

In addition to his parents, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Thelma Anson Gulutz at home; two sons, James E. Gulutz of East Liverpool and Thomas L. Gulutz at home; two daughters, Miss Thelma Jean Gulutz of Bradenton, Fla., and Miss Gina L. Gulutz at home; four brothers, Louis Gulutz of La Puente Calif., Elgie Gulutz, Frank Gulutz and Anthony Gulutz, all of East Liverpool; three sisters, Mrs. Anthony Scafide of East Liverpool, Mrs. Herman Acon of Rochester and Mrs. William Kauffman of Glenmoor, and one grandchild. A sister, Mrs. Angela Galipo, died Jan. 21.

Services will be held Friday at 9 a. m. at the church. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the Dawson Funeral Home Thursday.

Wellsville Turnout Is Below Estimates

A slight dip in the anticipated enrollment was registered when Wellsville schools opened this morning for the 1964-65 term.

The total reached 1,872, about 30 less than expected. But this is an increase over the 1,847 actual enrollment at the last official count taken just before the end of the 1963-64 term the past spring, school officials said.

Officials said the figures will change somewhat within the next week.

This is the second consecutive year the total enrollment has increased over the previous year.

The new teachers were feted at a breakfast Tuesday morning and a meeting of all the teachers was held at noon. The teachers then went to their individual buildings for conferences with the principals in the afternoon.

Maplewood

covered by the contractor. A heavy rain now would be disastrous, they said, and might wash out Burroughs Ave. unless the sewer is extended underneath it.

Among those protesting about the condition were Earl Chapman of Blackmore St., who also owns property in the affected neighborhood, Lester Echols and Robert H. Pyle of Cook St. and Howard Treleven of Burroughs Ave.

Chapman and Pyle were the principal spokesman for the delegation.

Pyle said an engineer on the job told him it was "poor planning" and said Bloomgren agreed the line should be extended.

The city engineer said the first step is for Council to determine if it wants to extend the line and if the city can pay 50 per cent of the cost.

Council then would have to contact the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, which is paying 50 per cent of the cost, to see if it will provide the additional money before a change order is written.

Bloomgren pointed out approximately 350 feet of concrete pipe would be required. The contract price for the pipe is $28 a foot, he said.

The meeting with the engineer was arranged by Councilman James Cunningham, who said he has been investigating the complaints.

Cunningham urged that Council be given time to make further investigations but Chapman said the work must be done before the contractor begins paving. He said the paving is expected to start within two months.

Urging construction of the sanitary sewer were Kenneth Ensinger, 604 Northside Ave., William Gibbs of Oakwood Ave., Mrs. James Curry of Dorothy St. and Hilbert Wright of Sunnyside Ave.

Wright told Council that past Councils have made several investigations but nothing ever was done.

The property owners expressed willingness to help finance the cost of the sanitary sewer, pointing out basements are flooded many times.

Council President George E. Willshaw said Council was ready to proceed with the sewer at one time but was unable to get an easement across one piece of property.

Councilman William Davis suggested the property owners turn in a petition to Council requesting the sewer installation.

Council finally agreed to turn the problem over to the streets committee and engineer.

Dean Bennett, 560 Fisher Ave., said it was proposed one time to have property owners clear vacant lots.

"If we are to progress and have civic pride, then the ordinance committee should bring in an ordinance making it mandatory for property owners to clear vacant lots," he declared.

Mike Sweeney of W. 7th St. commended Council for installation of a street light at W. 7th St. and Persimmon Alley but said a street light also is needed at the pedestrian ramp on W. 7th St.

Grid Outlook Improving, Oak Glen Coach Reports

Although Oak Glen High School's football team had a losing record last year, the team has retained "good spirit" for the new season, Coach Bob Starkey told the Newell Lions Club Tuesday night.

Starkey said the transition of Chester, Newell and New Cumberland gridders has been "very satisfactory" and he pointed out 71 candidates reported this year, compared with only 44 in 1963.

Movies of Oak Glen's opening loss at St. Mary's also were screened when the club met with J. Fred Allison, 535 Washington St. Oak Glen will play Wellsville Friday night at Newell.

Roger Cline reported on plans for organizing a club bowling league and asked participants to report to Terrace Lanes near Chester next Monday night at 6:30. A meeting of the Board of Directors is set for Thursday night at 7, with Ed Fahnert, 421 Grant St., president.

Six couples will attend the Lions fall conference Saturday in Weirton.

Lunch was served by Allison, Lawrence Rush and Cline. The next meeting will be Sept. 21.

Palmer Retains Lead

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — The $110,743 winnings of Arnold Palmer kept him ahead in the Professional Golfers' Association dollar standings today.

Palmer's total came from 22 tournaments. Jack Nicklaus, who played in 21 tournaments, was second with $101,917, followed by Tony Lema with $72,555.

The total reached 1,872, about 30 less than expected. But this is an increase over the 1,847 actual enrollment at the last official count taken just before the end of the 1963-64 term the past spring, school officials said.

Officials said the figures will change somewhat within the next week.

This is the second consecutive year the total enrollment has increased over the previous year.

The new teachers were feted at a breakfast Tuesday morning and a meeting of all the teachers was held at noon. The teachers then went to their individual buildings for conferences with the principals in the afternoon.

covered by the contractor. A heavy rain now would be disastrous, they said, and might wash out Burroughs Ave. unless the sewer is extended underneath it.

Among those protesting about the condition were Earl Chapman of Blackmore St., who also owns property in the affected neighborhood, Lester Echols and Robert H. Pyle of Cook St. and Howard Treleven of Burroughs Ave.

Chapman and Pyle were the principal spokesman for the delegation.

Pyle said an engineer on the job told him it was "poor planning" and said Bloomgren agreed the line should be extended.

The city engineer said the first step is for Council to determine if it wants to extend the line and if the city can pay 50 per cent of the cost.

Council then would have to contact the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, which is paying 50 per cent of the cost, to see if it will provide the additional money before a change order is written.

Bloomgren pointed out approximately 350 feet of concrete pipe would be required. The contract price for the pipe is $28 a foot, he said.

The meeting with the engineer was arranged by Councilman James Cunningham, who said he has been investigating the complaints.

Cunningham urged that Council be given time to make further investigations but Chapman said the work must be done before the contractor begins paving. He said the paving is expected to start within two months.

Urging construction of the sanitary sewer were Kenneth Ensinger, 604 Northside Ave., William Gibbs of Oakwood Ave., Mrs. James Curry of Dorothy St. and Hilbert Wright of Sunnyside Ave.

Wright told Council that past Councils have made several investigations but nothing ever was done.

The property owners expressed willingness to help finance the cost of the sanitary sewer, pointing out basements are flooded many times.

Council President George E. Willshaw said Council was ready to proceed with the sewer at one time but was unable to get an easement across one piece of property.

Councilman William Davis suggested the property owners turn in a petition to Council requesting the sewer installation.

Council finally agreed to turn the problem over to the streets committee and engineer.

Dean Bennett, 560 Fisher Ave., said it was proposed one time to have property owners clear vacant lots.

"If we are to progress and have civic pride, then the ordinance committee should bring in an ordinance making it mandatory for property owners to clear vacant lots," he declared.

Mike Sweeney of W. 7th St. commended Council for installation of a street light at W. 7th St. and Persimmon Alley but said a street light also is needed at the pedestrian ramp on W. 7th St.

Grid Outlook Improving, Oak Glen Coach Reports

Although Oak Glen High School's football team had a losing record last year, the team has retained "good spirit" for the new season, Coach Bob Starkey told the Newell Lions Club Tuesday night.

Starkey said the transition of Chester, Newell and New Cumberland gridders has been "very satisfactory" and he pointed out 71 candidates reported this year, compared with only 44 in 1963.

Movies of Oak Glen's opening loss at St. Mary's also were screened when the club met with J. Fred Allison, 535 Washington St. Oak Glen will play Wellsville Friday night at Newell.

Roger Cline reported on plans for organizing a club bowling league and asked participants to report to Terrace Lanes near Chester next Monday night at 6:30. A meeting of the Board of Directors is set for Thursday night at 7, with Ed Fahnert, 421 Grant St., president.

Six couples will attend the Lions fall conference Saturday in Weirton.

Lunch was served by Allison, Lawrence Rush and Cline. The next meeting will be Sept. 21.

Palmer Retains Lead

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — The $110,743 winnings of Arnold Palmer kept him ahead in the Professional Golfers' Association dollar standings today.

Palmer's total came from 22 tournaments. Jack Nicklaus, who played in 21 tournaments, was second with $101,917, followed by Tony Lema with $72,555.

Crash Injury Takes Salem Area Woman

County's 1964 Traffic Toll
18 KILLED
This date in 1963—16 killed!
LOWER THE SCORE IN '64

A Salem area woman died Tuesday in Salem Central Clinic with injuries suffered last month in an auto accident, marking the 18th traffic fatality in Columbiana County.

Mrs. Adline M. Bell, 64, of Salem R. D. 1 was injured in the mishap Aug. 27. She suffered head injuries and fractured ribs when her car and another driven by Frederick E. Sommers, 36, of Salem collided on the Damascus Rd. about three miles west of Salem.

The county had a traffic toll of 16 for the corresponding period in 1963.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon meanwhile completed its report today on the series of accidents involving 10 vehicles on Route 39 during the heavy fog yesterday morning.

The first was at 7:45 a. m. about 2.2 miles west of Wellsville. It involved a tractor-trailer driven by Warren Dunn, 43, of Magnolia R. D. 3 and a car operated by Adam Frischkorn, 74, of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Frischkorn slowed for the fog and was hit in the rear by Dunn, who was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Frischkorn was treated at City Hospital for chest, shoulder and lower back injuries.

At 8 a. m. near the scene of the first mishap, a farm truck driven by Edwin Bettis, 46, of Salineville R. D. 1 hit the rear of another tractor trailer rig driven by James Cramnblett of Carrollton R. D. 5, who had stopped for the first accident. Pettis was cited for failure to stop.

Two women were cited after a crash involving four vehicles at the scene at 8:30 a. m.

Wallace Walters, 35, of Newcomerstown halted his truck for the other accidents. Homer Roush, 23, of 318 Campground Rd., Wellsville, halted his car behind Walters. Roush was then struck by Mrs. Martha Sprague, 41, of Salineville R. D. 1. Mrs. Sprague's car was hit a few minutes later by one driven by Mrs. Laura Meyers, 32, of Wellsville R. D. 1. The impact of the crashes knocked Roush's car into the Walters truck.

The two women were cited for failure to stop.

At 8:35 a. m., a car driven by Edson Hart Jr., 43, of Salineville was rammed in the rear by another operated by John Kuhar, 41, of Hammondsville R. D. 1. Kuhar also was cited for failure to stop.

Mrs. Sprague was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night at 10 for a chest injury suffered in the crash.

Cars driven by Joy Snyder, 37, of East End and Deno Goleno, 38, of 407 McLain Rd., Wellsville, were involved in a crash at the intersection of Kountz Ave. and Route 7 near Wellsville Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Snyder was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way, officers said.

A. T. Knabb and Glen Montgomery are the present sanitary engineers employed by the county.

Commissioners received a letter from the State Road Commission advising that their request for installation of a traffic signal in Pughtown has been denied. The SRC said it conducted a survey, and found only an average of 10 cars an hour use the main intersection in the village from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. At least 55 cars an hour must use the intersection on State Route 2 to warrant a traffic light, the state advised.

Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny was asked to assign a deputy at the intersection to direct traffic on Sunday mornings.

Commissioners agreed to pay $90 as their half of the cost of paving a brick walkway from the New Cumberland school on a bluff to the business area of the county seat. The Board of Education will pay the remainder.

Purchase of 15 new windows and heavy screens for the County Jail, costing between $600 to $800, was approved on request of Chief Deputy Gerald Rainey.

Crash Injury Takes Salem Area Woman

County's 1964 Traffic Toll
18 KILLED
This date in 1963—16 killed!
LOWER THE SCORE IN '64

A Salem area woman died Tuesday in Salem Central Clinic with injuries suffered last month in an auto accident, marking the 18th traffic fatality in Columbiana County.

Mrs. Adline M. Bell, 64, of Salem R. D. 1 was injured in the mishap Aug. 27. She suffered head injuries and fractured ribs when her car and another driven by Frederick E. Sommers, 36, of Salem collided on the Damascus Rd. about three miles west of Salem.

The county had a traffic toll of 16 for the corresponding period in 1963.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon meanwhile completed its report today on the series of accidents involving 10 vehicles on Route 39 during the heavy fog yesterday morning.

The first was at 7:45 a. m. about 2.2 miles west of Wellsville. It involved a tractor-trailer driven by Warren Dunn, 43, of Magnolia R. D. 3 and a car operated by Adam Frischkorn, 74, of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Frischkorn slowed for the fog and was hit in the rear by Dunn, who was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Frischkorn was treated at City Hospital for chest, shoulder and lower back injuries.

At 8 a. m. near the scene of the first mishap, a farm truck driven by Edwin Bettis, 46, of Salineville R. D. 1 hit the rear of another tractor trailer rig driven by James Cramnblett of Carrollton R. D. 5, who had stopped for the first accident. Pettis was cited for failure to stop.

Two women were cited after a crash involving four vehicles at the scene at 8:30 a. m.

Wallace Walters, 35, of Newcomerstown halted his truck for the other accidents. Homer Roush, 23, of 318 Campground Rd., Wellsville, halted his car behind Walters. Roush was then struck by Mrs. Martha Sprague, 41, of Salineville R. D. 1. Mrs. Sprague's car was hit a few minutes later by one driven by Mrs. Laura Meyers, 32, of Wellsville R. D. 1. The impact of the crashes knocked Roush's car into the Walters truck.

The two women were cited for failure to stop.

At 8:35 a. m., a car driven by Edson Hart Jr., 43, of Salineville was rammed in the rear by another operated by John Kuhar, 41, of Hammondsville R. D. 1. Kuhar also was cited for failure to stop.

Mrs. Sprague was treated at City Hospital Tuesday night at 10 for a chest injury suffered in the crash.

Cars driven by Joy Snyder, 37, of East End and Deno Goleno, 38, of 407 McLain Rd., Wellsville, were involved in a crash at the intersection of Kountz Ave. and Route 7 near Wellsville Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Snyder was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way, officers said.

A. T. Knabb and Glen Montgomery are the present sanitary engineers employed by the county.

Commissioners received a letter from the State Road Commission advising that their request for installation of a traffic signal in Pughtown has been denied. The SRC said it conducted a survey, and found only an average of 10 cars an hour use the main intersection in the village from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. At least 55 cars an hour must use the intersection on State Route 2 to warrant a traffic light, the state advised.

Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny was asked to assign a deputy at the intersection to direct traffic on Sunday mornings.

Commissioners agreed to pay $90 as their half of the cost of paving a brick walkway from the New Cumberland school on a bluff to the business area of the county seat. The Board of Education will pay the remainder.

Purchase of 15 new windows and heavy screens for the County Jail, costing between $600 to $800, was approved on request of Chief Deputy Gerald Rainey.

Beaver Local Boosters Hear Reports On Various Projects

Mrs. George Green said the group will paint bleachers at the football field Thursday. A report was heard on the Tri-State Fall Festival to be held by the club. Sept. 23 William Roberts is chairman. He said someone is needed to obtain cake donations. It will open with a pony pull.

Mrs. Warren Bradley, queen contest chairman, introduced two of the contestants, Mary Jane Jackson and Mary Jane Martin. Five have entered.

Coach Ed Stevens discussed purchase of films for the football games. The club approved purchase of 4,800 feet of film for all Beaver Local games. The coach thanked the club for sending the team to the Football Hall of Fame at Canton and providing a lunch.

Theodore Taylor, high school principal, thanked those who erected and painted the bleachers. He asked for volunteers to collect tickets at the home games. Due to a policy by the Board of Education, there is no free admission to the games.

A vote of thanks was given Mrs. George Gaydos and committee for feeding the football players during summer practice.

The club will serve a dinner for 150 to 200 for the East Liverpool Shrine Club Oct. 5. The club will serve IBOP Local 9, but no date was set. Mrs. Mildred Emmerling will check the arrangements.

Bills totaling $226.59 were paid. George Dunn, past president, conducted business and discussed the football programs. Mrs. Gale Williams, treasurer, was reported a patient at City Hospital. Next meeting is Sept. 22 at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

South Beaver Cook Chosen

Several personnel changes in the school cafeteria were approved by the Southern Beaver County Board of Education Tuesday night at the high school near Hookstown.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Florence Caler as a fulltime cook and named Mrs. Alice Graham to replace her.

Mrs. Charlotte Johnson was granted a leave of absence and Mrs. Anna Allison was named a part-time cook.

Salary committee reports for non-professional employes, and for professional employes for extra-curricular activities, were tabled for further study and recommendation at a future meeting.

John Didich, elementary teacher and president of the local chapter of the Pennsylvania Education Association, was authorized to attend a public relations workshop of the association Sept. 18-19 in Harrisburg.

The South Side Citizens Association was granted permission to use the school gym and kitchen facilities for a wrestling show Nov. 21.

Robert Taft Jr. To Address Rally At Fairgrounds

A major campaign address by Congressman-At-Large, Robert Taft, Jr., Republica candidate for U.S. Senator, will highlight a countywide GOP "Campaign Kickoff" rally to be held at the Fairgrounds in Lisbon Tuesday evening.

Jointly sponsored by the Columbiana County Young Republicans Club and the Columbiana County Republican Central Committee, it will be open to the public without charge.

Taft, a member of the House Banking and Currency, and Education and Labor Committees, will address the rally at 7 p. m. from the grandstand platform.

Prior to his election to Congress in 1962, "Young Bob," son of Ohio's late Sen. Robert A. Taft, served four terms in the Ohio House of Representatives, concluding his tenure as Republican floor leader.

In addition to his legislative achievements, Taft was an officer in the Navy, 1942-46, and participated in the invasions of Sicily, Salerno and Normandy, as well as those of Guadalcanal and Okinawa.

Sharing the speaker's platform with Taft will be Atty. Allen Dalrymple of Wellsville, Republican candidate for Congress of the 18th District. Local and district candidates will be introduced by Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, county GOP chairman.

The rally will begin at 6:30 with a program of entertainment, "hootenanny style." A buffet luncheon will be served following Taft's appearance by members of the Columbiana County Women's Republican Clubs.

W. Va. High Court Studies Hancock Dispute Involving 2

CHARLESTON (AP) — A 2-year-old dispute over salaries of two women employes of the Hancock County sheriff has been taken under consideration by the State Supreme Court.

The case, in which William C. Graham, president of the Hancock County Court, is appealing from a Hancock County Circuit Court order, was on the Supreme Court argument docket Tuesday but was submitted on written briefs, without oral argument.

The Circuit Court order, obtained by Hancock Sheriff Joseph Manypenny, directed Graham to issue an order for payment of 1962-63 fiscal year salaries in amounts of $385 a month to Eleanor Patterson and $335 a month to June Cullen. The amounts represented raises of $25 a month in each case over the previous fiscal year.

A brief presented to the Supreme Court in support of Graham's appeal maintained Manypenny failed to fulfill requirements of law, including filing of a verified budget and verified payroll, that were necessary before the salaries could be paid.

However, a brief on behalf of Manypenny contended Graham was barred from raising these issues on appeal because he did not raise them in the trial court prior to an unsuccessful motion for reversal of the Circuit Court order.

The sheriff argued that Graham's refusal to approve the raises sought by Manypenny for the two women was "based upon the displeasure expressed by employes of other offices at not receiving a similar raise. . ."

X-Ray Unit Sets Hancock Visits

The Hancock County Board of Health reported today a mobile chest X-ray unit will visit the county Sept. 15-Sept. 18 to provide free service.

The unit is owned and operated by the State Department of Health. The local program is carried out through the cooperation of the County Tuberculosis League and the Board of Health.

IT CAN'T BE OURS!

Mrs. Thomas Tonkovich exclaims, shocked as any householder would be, by a monthly electric bill of more than $280,000. That would pay for 34 million kilowatt hours —enough electricity to service 2000 homes in the Midland area for three years and certainly more than Mrs. Tonkovich and her husband (an electrician at Midland works) would use in their entire lifetime.

Actually the tremendous bill is Crucible's for electricity consumed at Midland works during August. The largest industrial resident in the area, Crucible is perhaps the biggest consumer, too. In addition to service such as utilities, the plant buys more than $300,000 worth of goods and materials a month. It contributes to the stability of the area's economy, important to us all.

TWIN BANDS OF GOLD . . . spendid investments in happiness, Shaw's rings to be lifetime symbols of your love!

Shaw's wedding bands are specially hardened 14K and 18K gold, rings generous in weight, carefully detailed and with the seamless construction important for a long and happy life.

Shaw's has Central Ohio's largest selection of wedding bands, each style available as single rings or bride and groom pairs.

Initials and date engraved inside rings without charge!

Smart start for your life together
—Shaw's beauty, Shaw's value!

Shaw's "HEIRLOOM QUALITY" DIAMONDS "shine more." Couples in love say so and often ask the Shaw's Gemologists why Shaw's diamonds have so much more lively brilliance when compared with many other diamonds.

Nature and Shaw's are both responsible. Each "Heirloom Quality" diamond was fine in color and clarity when it was mined. But only MASTERFUL CUTTING can release its full brilliance. Therefore Shaw's selects only diamonds cut and faceted by superior specialists. Their expert touch gives Shaw's diamonds SPECIAL SPARKLE!

IT CAN'T BE OURS!

Mrs. Thomas Tonkovich exclaims, shocked as any householder would be, by a monthly electric bill of more than $280,000. That would pay for 34 million kilowatt hours —enough electricity to service 2000 homes in the Midland area for three years and certainly more than Mrs. Tonkovich and her husband (an electrician at Midland works) would use in their entire lifetime.

Actually the tremendous bill is Crucible's for electricity consumed at Midland works during August. The largest industrial resident in the area, Crucible is perhaps the biggest consumer, too. In addition to service such as utilities, the plant buys more than $300,000 worth of goods and materials a month. It contributes to the stability of the area's economy, important to us all.

Crucible brings you the news daily at 6:55 A.M. over Station WOHI, East Liverpool.

Admirer Booked After Visiting In Kim Novak Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nathaniel Calvin Stegall, an unemployed schoolteacher, told police he had come here by train last week from St. Louis to propose to actress Kim Novak.

Stegall, 41, spent the last of his money on a cab ride to her home in the Bel-Air district. But she wasn't there.

So he climbed through a bathroom window, raided the refrigerator and, when no one turned up, slept in the garage Saturday night — and again Sunday.

Monday evening two of Miss Novak's friends dropped by to use the swimming pool, heard someone stirring, and called police.

Police booked Stegall on suspicion of burglary.

Child Suffocates

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Gregory Drake, 8 months, suffocated in his west side home Tuesday when a plastic bag which had been draped over his crib fell on him, police said. The boy's mother said she had put the bag over the crib to keep flies away.

Falls Injure 4; 5 Others Treated

Clarence King, 29, of 129½ E. 6th St., suffered contusions and abrasions of the right foot and ankle when a steel door fell on him.

Mrs. William Ruble of Wellsville R. D. 1 suffered abrasions and contusions of the left knee when she fell while working.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, 70, of 723 Lincoln Ave., suffered a cut lip, abrasions of the lower legs, an elbow injury and a dislocated upper arm in a fall down steps at home.

N. J. Johnston Jr., 9 - month-old son of Nicholaus Johnston III, E. 3rd St., suffered contusions and abrasions of the forehead when he fell down cement steps.

2 Suspects Captured After Wild Auto Chase

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Two men wanted by the FBI for parole violation have been apprehended and were being held Tuesday night in the Warren County jail.

Ralph E. Sexton, 24, Clarksville, and David P. Mull, Wilmington, were picked up late Monday after an eight-mile high speed auto chase by sheriff's deputies. Mull was charged with reckless driving.

People In News

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni's doctors say there are signs that his speech, impaired by the stroke he suffered 33 days ago, is improving.

Segni, 73, also has shown steady improvement in his general condition, the doctors said, but the paralysis of his right side remains.

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Actress Suzanne Pleshette says that 17 days after she married actor Troy Donahue, 28, she got a hint of trouble in their marriage.

Donahue, she told Superior Court, came in through a bathroom window at 5 a.m., after he had told her he would be home at midnight.

The marriage, began six months ago, ended Tuesday when Miss Pleshette, 24, got a divorce.

The ground: mental cruelty.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the first time he gets a free afternoon he's going to fly to Independence, Mo., to visit ex-President Harry S. Truman.

"I miss him," Johnson told reporters during a short walk around the White House lawn Tuesday.

Johnson said he never fails to learn something when visiting with Truman.

Please 'Em with Pecan Stuffed Breast of Chicken . . .

Frying Chicken BREASTS 5 lb. pkg. $1.98

PECAN STUFFED CHICKEN BREASTS

4 chicken breasts
Lemon juice
6 tablespoons melted butter, divided
3 cups toasted bread crumbs
½ cup finely diced celery
½ cup chopped onion
¾ cup chopped pecans
¼ teaspoon Ac'cent
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup water

Brush chicken breasts on both sides with lemon juice and 2 tablespoons of the melted butter. Combine remaining 4 tablespoons butter with remaining ingredients; toss lightly. Make 4 mounds of stuffing and arrange on 4 squares of double thicknesses of aluminum foil; place on baking sheet. Place a whole chicken breast, skin side up, on mound of stuffing. Fold foil securely around chicken to make individual packages. Bake in a moderate oven, (350°F.) 40 minutes. Increase oven to moderately hot (400°F.). Fold back foil and bake 10 minutes longer, or until chicken is browned. YIELD: 4 servings.

Admirer Booked After Visiting In Kim Novak Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nathaniel Calvin Stegall, an unemployed schoolteacher, told police he had come here by train last week from St. Louis to propose to actress Kim Novak.

Stegall, 41, spent the last of his money on a cab ride to her home in the Bel-Air district. But she wasn't there.

So he climbed through a bathroom window, raided the refrigerator and, when no one turned up, slept in the garage Saturday night — and again Sunday.

Monday evening two of Miss Novak's friends dropped by to use the swimming pool, heard someone stirring, and called police.

Police booked Stegall on suspicion of burglary.

Child Suffocates

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Gregory Drake, 8 months, suffocated in his west side home Tuesday when a plastic bag which had been draped over his crib fell on him, police said. The boy's mother said she had put the bag over the crib to keep flies away.

Falls Injure 4; 5 Others Treated

Clarence King, 29, of 129½ E. 6th St., suffered contusions and abrasions of the right foot and ankle when a steel door fell on him.

Carl McComas, 18, of Oakmont was hit in the forehead with a wrench while working on a car.

Mrs. William Ruble of Wellsville R. D. 1 suffered abrasions and contusions of the left knee when she fell while working.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, 70, of 723 Lincoln Ave., suffered a cut lip, abrasions of the lower legs, an elbow injury and a dislocated upper arm in a fall down steps at home.

N. J. Johnston Jr., 9 - month-old son of Nicholaus Johnston III, E. 3rd St., suffered contusions and abrasions of the forehead when he fell down cement steps.

2 Suspects Captured After Wild Auto Chase

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Two men wanted by the FBI for parole violation have been apprehended and were being held Tuesday night in the Warren County jail.

Ralph E. Sexton, 24, Clarksville, and David P. Mull, Wilmington, were picked up late Monday after an eight-mile high speed auto chase by sheriff's deputies. Mull was charged with reckless driving.

People In News

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni's doctors say there are signs that his speech, impaired by the stroke he suffered 33 days ago, is improving.

Segni, 73, also has shown steady improvement in his general condition, the doctors said, but the paralysis of his right side remains.

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Actress Suzanne Pleshette says that 17 days after she married actor Troy Donahue, 28, she got a hint of trouble in their marriage.

Donahue, she told Superior Court, came in through a bathroom window at 5 a.m., after he had told her he would be home at midnight.

The marriage, began six months ago, ended Tuesday when Miss Pleshette, 24, got a divorce.

The ground: mental cruelty.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the first time he gets a free afternoon he's going to fly to Independence, Mo., to visit ex-President Harry S. Truman.

"I miss him," Johnson told reporters during a short walk around the White House lawn Tuesday.

Please 'Em with Pecan Stuffed Breast of Chicken . . .

PECAN STUFFED CHICKEN BREASTS

4 chicken breasts
Lemon juice
6 tablespoons melted butter, divided
3 cups toasted bread crumbs
½ cup finely diced celery
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped pecans
½ teaspoon Ac'cent
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup water

Brush chicken breasts on both sides with lemon juice and 2 tablespoons of the melted butter. Combine remaining 4 tablespoons butter with remaining ingredients; toss lightly. Make 4 mounds of stuffing and arrange on 4 squares of double thicknesses of aluminum foil; place on baking sheet. Place a whole chicken breast, skin side up, on mound of stuffing. Fold foil securely around chicken to make individual packages. Bake in a moderate oven, (350°F.) 40 minutes. Increase oven to moderately hot (400°F.). Fold back foil and bake 10 minutes longer, or until chicken is browned. YIELD: 4 servings.

Reds And Food Crisis

Premier Shastri Faces Deep Troubles In India

NEW DELHI India (AP) — Deserted by some members of his own party, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri is in deep political trouble just three months after assuming the leadership of India.

The nation's stability will depend on how well this shy, unassuming man fights back against Communist-led opponents of his government and how well he handles a food crisis affecting millions.

Trouble has been mounting rapidly since Shastri succeeded the late Prime Minister Nehru June 9 and then in August fought back from a disabling heart ailment.

Shastri's prestige and position within his own ruling Congress party took its heaviest blow yet Tuesday.

The party's state government in the southern Communist bastion of Kerala collapsed on a no-confidence motion the Reds rammed through the legislature. In New Delhi, a united front of Communists, Socialists and right-wing Hindus stepped up their attack on Shastri's food policies. Parliament will vote later this week on a motion of no confidence against the prime minister.

The Congress party's big majority assures the defeat of the motion, but Congress members themselves were voicing some of the harshest criticism hurled at Shastri.

Congress member A.C. Guha of West Bengal declared the nation's reserves of food grains are gone and the food situation is the worst since the great Bengal famine killed millions in 1943.

The prime minister's opponents in the party hierarchy are grumbling that he is not tough enough to control the situation. This was the main argument of rightwinger Morarji Desai when he contested the selection of Shastri as Nehru's successor.

Food demonstrations continue throughout India. Rival groups of Kashmiri nationalists brawled in the streets of Srinagar.

Much of northern India is covered by the worst floods in 40 years.

By the end of the week he is expected to dissolve the Kerala legislature and set up a state government controlled by New Delhi. The communists are expected to retaliate with demonstrations.

Humphrey Due Farm Policy Speech Opposite Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has decided to pit vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey against GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in a traditional two-party clash on farm policy.

Johnson has assigned the Minnesota senator to present the Democratic viewpoint on farm problems at the annual National Plowing Contest near Fargo, N.D., Sept. 19.

After some indecision over his campaign schedule, Goldwater has told sponsors of the event he will be on hand. He also has agreed to speak at the National Corn Picking Contest in Sioux Falls, S.D., Oct. 16. There is no word whether Johnson or Humphrey will appear for the Democrats.

The plowing contest, held in a different state each year, traditionally has attracted presidential candidates by offering a large audience for the airing of their views. Sponsors expect a crowd of 50,000 to 100,000 farmers and their families Sept. 19.

Johnson is reported to have decided that as a Midwesterner familiar with recent agricultural legislation Humphrey was well equipped to state the administration's position.

Whether his decision indicates a pattern of turning over much of the work-horse campaigning to his second man remains unclear. It seems certain that Humphrey will be seen much oftener in the Midwest than the President.

Humphrey has said he is going to campaign in the South, where his strong stand on civil rights has not been popular.

He got an invitation Tuesday from Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who gained national attention on the other side of the Civil rights fence in the Little Rock controversy, to make two speeches in Arkansas Sept. 17 and 18.

Miller Says ADA Role Is Voter Issue

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the Republican vice presidential candidate, says Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's connection with Americans for Democratic Action is "an area of legitimate discussion as far as the American people are concerned."

"I shall continue to discuss it," said Miller Tuesday night in a television interview.

He fired back at Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who accused Miller Tuesday of "foul-mouthed vituperation and unrestrained misrepresentation" in Miller's continuing attacks on Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, and the ADA.

Miller, describing the ADA as a "radical leftist organization," has cited for the past four days Humphrey's role as a founder, former chairman and vice chairman, and present member of ADA.

Miller said the ADA policies include recognition of Red China and repeal of internal security legislation.

"If he (Humphrey) is not in accord with these positions," Miller said, "he can say so."

Miller flew into Maine Tuesday night to begin a three- day campaign swing that will take him to five New England states and the Westchester County area of New York by Friday night.

Just before departing from Washington on his campaign plane, Miller issued a statement in which he said that Fulbright's comments were "only new proof that Sen. Fulbright continues to live in his own little world of old myths and unrealities."

Miller said his statements about Humphrey "dealt exclusively with his record of virtually 100 per cent agreement with the radically liberal Americans for Democratic Action. I did not deal in name-calling tactics, as did Sen. Fulbright."

The GOP nominee said that "if Sen. Fulbright and the other liberal Democrats now find their record distasteful, I would remind them that it is their record, no one else's."

Fulbright also had charged that the GOP presidential candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater, was advocating foreign policies that could lead to "nuclear conflict that would destroy the world."

Fulbright said that Goldwater's call "for an aggressive new American foreign policy was built on the assumption that communism and freedom cannot continue to exist in the same world."

Educators Selected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six college officials, including Dr. James Read, president of Wilmington (Ohio) College, have been selected for trips abroad to meet foreign educators who will later serve six to nine-month tours as interns in United States educational institutions.

After 14 years on the small club circuit, the 31-year-old Negro vocalist was discovered.

Almost immediately she was booked at outstanding clubs in Chicago and New York. She was asked to appear on television shows. New record albums were cut for release later this year.

Variously described as a second Ella Fitzgerald, Sarah Vaughn or Peggy Lee, Miss Ennis tags herself a "progressive pop singer."

"I hate to sing any song exactly as it's written. That's progressive. But I don't want to sing too far out so that people don't understand it," she said recently at the West Baltimore club where she has worked off and on for the past nine years.

She says she never consciously copied any singer's style.

Although jazz is her forte, Miss Ennis also likes what she calls the better rock 'n roll numbers. "The ones that used to be called rhythm and blues, but since the whites are doing it, we call it rock 'n roll."

"I prefer the ballads, the torchy things, the ones every day people feel."

The daughter of a Baltimore baker, Miss Ennis started her musical career with piano lessons when she was 7.

Her first professional jobs were as a pianist.

"I never thought of singing in a club, only in church. Then one night they asked me to sing. I was well received and decided to hang up a shingle as a singer."

She is no stranger to the big bands. In 1958, Miss Ennis toured Europe with Benny Goodman's orchestra. The tour included appearances at the Brussels World's Fair.

She loved Europe, but she didn't like the big band.

Her husband, Jacques E. Leeds, is a lawyer, the first Negro assistant attorney general in Maryland. They have no children.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes wants Butler County designated as a drought disaster area. The governor asked Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman Tuesday to make such a designation which would permit grazing and harvesting of hay on soil bank land through Oct. 31.

Council Eyes Condition Of Rogers' Lots

Complaints were received against the firemen's lot being not cleaned.

Council also discussed whether or not to permit junk yards within the village limits.

Atty. Donald Elliott, solicitor, has rewritten 23 ordinances, which will be posted 15 days and then become law, it was announced during the meeting.

Bills totaling $375.50 were paid. Albert Starkey, street commissioner, requested lime dust and lime stone for the streets. The request was approved.

Marshal Sidney Cowan turned in $63.20 in bonds and forfeitures.

Mayor Glenn Rhodes presided. The next meeting will be Oct. 5 at 7 p. m.

Youngsters Get Blame For Fire

Firemen went to 920 Alton St. to investigate the blaze, which started in the front room of the house owned by Atty. William S. Foulks.

A second fire was set on the porch, but the time that blaze was started hasn't been determined, firemen said.

They were called to the home of Ralph Burson, 1536 Pennsylvania Ave., at 3:05 p. m. when a short circuit caused an electrical switch to overheat.

The department went to the IOOF Temple on W. 6th St. at 4:54 p. m. when a clogged incinerator filled the basement of the four-story building with smoke.

Firemen said they cleaned out the incinerator and then wet it down with a booster line. There was no damage, they said.

Argentine Pilot Faces Quiz In Flag Venture

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — An Argentine stunt pilot who reportedly flew to the Falkland Islands and unfurled an Argentine flag in the disputed British colony must explain why he didn't let the Air Ministry in on his plans.

A spokesman for Miguel Fitzgerald, 38, a civilian pilot of Irish descent, said he landed Tuesday in Port Stanley, capital of the Falklands, planted the flag at the airfield and presented the local commander with a declaration "reaffirming Argentina's rights to the islands."

Reds And Food Crisis

Premier Shastri Faces Deep Troubles In India

NEW DELHI India (AP) — Deserted by some members of his own party, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri is in deep political trouble just three months after assuming the leadership of India.

The nation's stability will depend on how well this shy, unassuming man fights back against Communist-led opponents of his government and how well he handles a food crisis affecting millions.

Trouble has been mounting rapidly since Shastri succeeded the late Prime Minister Nehru June 9 and then in August fought back from a disabling heart ailment.

The party's state government in the southern Communist bastion of Kerala collapsed on a no-confidence motion the Reds rammed through the legislature. In New Delhi, a united front of Communists, Socialists and right-wing Hindus stepped up their attack on Shastri's food policies. Parliament will vote later this week on a motion of no confidence against the prime minister.

The Congress party's big majority assures the defeat of the motion, but Congress members themselves were voicing some of the harshest criticism hurled at Shastri.

Congress member A.C. Guha of West Bengal declared the nation's reserves of food grains are gone and the food situation is the worst since the great Bengal famine killed millions in 1943.

The prime minister's opponents in the party hierarchy are grumbling that he is not tough enough to control the situation. This was the main argument of rightwinger Morarji Desai when he contested the selection of Shastri as Nehru's successor.

Food demonstrations continue throughout India. Rival groups of Kashmiri nationalists brawled in the streets of Srinagar.

By the end of the week he is expected to dissolve the Kerala legislature and set up a state government controlled by New Delhi. The communists are expected to retaliate with demonstrations.

Drought Aid Asked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes wants Butler County designated as a drought disaster area. The governor asked Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman Tuesday to make such a designation which would permit grazing and harvesting of hay on soil bank land through Oct. 31.

Council Eyes Condition Of Rogers' Lots

Complaints were received against the firemen's lot being not cleaned.

Council also discussed whether or not to permit junk yards within the village limits.

Atty. Donald Elliott, solicitor, has rewritten 23 ordinances, which will be posted 15 days and then become law, it was announced during the meeting.

Bills totaling $375.50 were paid. Albert Starkey, street commissioner, requested lime dust and lime stone for the streets. The request was approved.

Mayor Glenn Rhodes presided. The next meeting will be Oct. 5 at 7 p. m.

Youngsters Get Blame For Fire

Firemen went to 920 Alton St. to investigate the blaze, which started in the front room of the house owned by Atty. William S. Foulks.

A second fire was set on the porch, but the time that blaze was started hasn't been determined, firemen said.

They were called to the home of Ralph Burson, 1536 Pennsylvania Ave., at 3:05 p. m. when a short circuit caused an electrical switch to overheat.

The department went to the IOOF Temple on W. 6th St. at 4:54 p. m. when a clogged incinerator filled the basement of the four-story building with smoke.

Firemen said they cleaned out the incinerator and then wet it down with a booster line. There was no damage, they said.

Argentine Pilot Faces Quiz In Flag Venture

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — An Argentine stunt pilot who reportedly flew to the Falkland Islands and unfurled an Argentine flag in the disputed British colony must explain why he didn't let the Air Ministry in on his plans.

A spokesman for Miguel Fitzgerald, 38, a civilian pilot of Irish descent, said he landed Tuesday in Port Stanley, capital of the Falklands, planted the flag at the airfield and presented the local commander with a declaration "reaffirming Argentina's rights to the islands."

Murder Charge Filed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Delicatessen operator LaFayette Mack, 28, who told police he shot and killed Albert Simpson, 22, when he found him in his apartment Tuesday, has been charged with second degree murder.

4-B Polling Place Shifted To School In Tuesday Vote

Because of a religious holiday, voters in 4-B precinct will cast ballots in the special school district election Tuesday at St. Aloysius School rather than Beth Shalom Temple, the County Election Board said today.

The Rev. Carl Nicolay gave permission for the school auditorium to be used as the polling place after a Jewish holiday prohibited any but religious services in the temple on Tuesday, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

Because of complaints about facilities, the board has decided to relocate the West precinct in Liverpool Township from the Liverpool Grange Hall to the Broadway side of Central Fire Station, O'Hanlon said.

The precinct voted for many years in the fire station, but the Grange Hall had been used in the May primary.

The board has issued 44 absentee, disabled and "soldier" ballots for the special election.

The ballots for absentee and disabled voters will be issued until 4 p. m. Thursday and must be back in the board's hands by noon Friday to be counted at the polls.

Ballots for military personnel, their spouses and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States will be issued until noon Saturday and must be returned by noon Tuesday.

O'Hanlon again cautioned precinct workers, particularly in the Glenmoor, Southwest and West precincts of St. Clair Township which are part of the school district, to permit only qualified voters to vote on the school building program.

The three precincts have a mixture of residents of both the city and Beaver Local school districts, he explained.

Elyria Mishap Claims Pennsylvania Driver

The Turnpike Patrol identified the victim as Baxter Baltz, 44, of Evans City, Pa. The patrol said Baltz apparently went to sleep and his eastbound truck ran off the highway on the right side, crashed through a guardrail and ran down an embankment. The driver was crushed by coils of steel in the truck officers said.

Seniors Face Queen Problem In Kentucky

This year there were only eight seniors—all boys.

More than 40 per cent of American families own dogs.

U.S. Regrets British Credit Given Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department spokesman Robert McCloskey said Tuesday that "we regret the action taken by the British" in extending long-term credit to the Soviet Union.

McCloskey said the U.S. position against long-term credits to Communist countries is unchanged.

The British granted the Soviet Union credit for 15 years in signing a contract Monday for the sale of a fiber plant valued at about $85 million.

Big British Bus May Be Forced Onto Train

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A shiny double-decker bus, pride of the London Passenger Transport Board, may make its first trip in America on a train.

The bus arrived by boat Tuesday en route to a British import fair display at Cincinnati. There was only one hitch — the bus is 14 feet 5 inches high. Overhead bridge and wire clearance here is 13 feet 6 inches.

New Talks Slated In 'Vindy' Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Negotiations were scheduled to resume today in an effort to settle a strike by American Newspaper Guild Local 11 against the Youngstown Vindicator.

The Guild struck Aug. 18 when it failed to reach an initial contract for 42 newly organized outside circulation department employes. This will be the third round of talks since the walkout began. Two previous sessions produced no results, according to a federal mediator.

Tuesday the National Labor Relations Board dropped its request for an injunction which would have banned the Guild from picketing at the Vindicator. The NLRB had sought to ban all picketing on the ground it interfered with other union employes.

Other unions at the newspaper have honored the guild picket lines since the strike began.

The Guild, meanwhile, published the second edition of its strike-duration newspaper, and supervisory personnel of the Vindicator continued turning out a limited edition for over-the-counter sales at the plant.

The Communist Party of Indonesia claims 3,500,000 members.

Suit Filed In Arrest During Assassination

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A picket jailed after the Nov. 22 assassination of President John F. Kennedy filed a false arrest suit against three policemen Tuesday.

Gene A. Guinn, asked $150 damages in the suit against Capt. Pat Gannaway, head of the police department's special service bureau, and detectives T. T. Wardlaw and M. H. Brumley.

Guinn was one of six persons arrested near the Trade Mart shortly after the assassination. Police said they were waving anti-Kennedy signs. They were held four days for investigation.

Guinn said a trespassing charge against him was dismissed and he filed the suit to recover "lost income."

Council Given List

8 Civic Projects Urged By C. Of C.

City Council was asked Tuesday night by the civic and community affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce to give "prompt consideration" to eight recommendations for civic improvements.

In a letter to Council, H. James Allison Jr., chairman, said the committee suggested the following improvements:

CLEANING of vacant lots with the necessary law enforcement by which the cost would be charged back to the property owner if not taken care of in the specified time period;

An effective ordinance under which sidewalks and curbs would be installed and maintained;

Purchase of new parking meters to replace old worn-out meters;

Take the necessary steps to take advantage of the offer for parking lot space made by W. Leland Thompson;

Synchronization of traffic lights in the downtown area and through the main thoroughfare in the East End;

Installation of walk lights, particularly in the business district;

Erection of a band shell in Thompson Park, and

Install and maintain neighborhood playground areas.

DURING the meeting, Councilman Floyd Murray, chairman of the streets committee, commented, "People don't realize that a $10,000 traffic light system is not financially feasbile. Perhaps the merchants might help finance it."

The First Ward councilman also suggested Council adopt and have enforced an ordinance prohibiting jay walking.

Murray reported the committee is continuing its investigation into traffic congestion at the entrance to the First National "auto bank" on E. 4th St.

Council also accepted the committee's recommendation that a request from Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to change a stop sign on an East End street be rejected.

Citing speeders and heavy traffic on several East End streets, Murray said the committee felt it was inadvisable to move the stop sign.

COUNCIL ALSO turned over to the finance committee Murray's recommendation that it investigate the cost of erecting an additional fence at the rear of City Hospital to halt youngsters from going down the hill and across the Freeway en route to Patterson Field or Westgate School.

Murray said the Board of Trustees of City Hospital has agreed to pay half the cost.

The State Highway Department was contacted about erecting the additional fence but advised hospital authorities the work now is the city's responsibility.

Council also ordered legislation to appropriate an additional $2,000 to $3,000 to sealcoat additional streets which were paved under the city's low-cost surfacing program.

THE STREET department has been doing "a good job" on the seal coating, Murray said, but pointed out that it will return later to fix various intersections about which complaints have been received.

A request from Councilman Robert W. Sample for erection of a street light on McKinnon Ave. between Jennings Ave. and Anderson Blvd. was referred to the streets committee.

Councilman William Davis asked Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper whether "yield" signs on the Freeway ramps near Westgate School could be replaced by "stop" signs, pointing out that motorists and truckers have been ignoring the signs. He cited an accident Saturday morning at the southbound ramp and W. 8th St.

The solicitor pointed out there is a law at present under which drivers can be cited for failing to yield the right-of-way.

COUNCILMAN Donald Hancock said the claims committee will report at the Sept. 21 meeting on four claims now being investigated.

Recalling Police Chief Americo Radeschi's warning about vandalism caused by children using pellet guns, Hancock said he was informed by one businessman that $1,000 damage has been caused to his property.

"I don't believe the sale of the guns should be restrictd. Parents should be reminded they are liable for damages and caution their children in the proper use of the guns," he said.

A request from the safety-service director for permission to open a section of N. Shady Ln. Dr. starting at Sturgis Ave. and extending for 200 feet northeast was referred to the streets committee.

Two other letters from the director, advising Council of installation of a street light on the northwest corner of W. 7th St. and a warning to city employes that they will be ticketed for overtime parking were ordered filed.

COUNCIL VOTED to return without objection to the State Liquor Control Board an application from Betty E. Mattern for a C-1 permit at 1300 Dresden Ave.

The application of Dallis Brothers Enterprises, Inc., for transfer of D-2 and D-3 permits from 412 Washington St. to 115 E. 6th St. also was approved and ordered returned to the liquor board.

A request from Fire Chief Charles Bryan asking that $300 be allotted so that he may attend the 91st annual conference of the International Association of Fire Chiefs Oct. 18 - 22 in Houston, Tex., was turned over to the finance committee.

Council also received a copy of a letter from the State Highway Department to the Great Lakes Construction Co., advising the general contractor of the Freeway section from the city limits to Route 170 that the work has bene completed in accordance with the terms of the contract with the exception of satisfactory results of bituminous record samples.

THE LETTER advised the firm it was relieved of further maintenance.

The city will be responsible for future maintenance for the portion inside the city limits and the department will be responsible for the sections in Liverpool and St. Clair Townships, the letter said.

Council also received an invitation from the Veterans City Council to attend its meeting Sept. 18 at 8 p. m. in Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office.

In a letter from Mary E. Wines, secretary, the Veterans Council said it is interested in a project "that will be beneficial to East Liverpool and the surrounding area."

The Veterans Council said it was "disappointed" that no councilmen attended its meeting Aug. 21 after it had extended an invitation through the mayor.

Council also was advised the annual conference and products exhibit of the Ohio Municipal League will be held Sept. 23-25 at the Columbus Plaza Hotel.

Traffic Light Blamed For 2-Car Crash

A defective traffic light was blamed for a two - car collision at 10:45 a. m. Tuesday at E. 5th and Walnut Sts., police reported.

The crash involved an eastbound car driven by William T. Muns, 18, of Beaver R. D. 2 and a northbound auto of George E. Hayes, 68, of 521 W. Washington St., Lisbon.

Muns told officers he was headed east about 25 miles an hour when the light changed suddenly. Hayes said he was headed north with a green light and saw the Muns' car approaching but was unable to stop before the cars hit.

Police said an investigation showed the light on the east side was jumping from red to green without a caution signal.

Three autos were damaged in a collision at 2:30 p. m. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Mulberry St., police were told.

Domara Balco, 34, of 243 Fairlane Dr., Industry, said she had halted her westbound 1964 sedan for turning traffic when it was struck in the rear by a 1963 sedan operated by Samuel B. Kraft of Laurel Heights, Chester, whose auto had been struck from the rear by a car driven by Carl Anderson, 804 Spring Grove Ave.

A 5-year-old East End youngster apparently escaped injury when he ran his bicycle into the rear of a halted car at Mulberry and St. George Sts. Tuesday night.

Elroy Wingett, 57, of 1028 St. George St. said the mother of Greg Yanni, 315 Mulberry St., told him the boy was not hurt and refused a medical examination for the child.

The motorist told officers he had halted for the stop sign at the intersection when the youngster's bike hit the rear of his sedan.

A collision at 9:57 p. m. on E. 4th St. at the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." junction involved eastbound cars operated by Herman Ray Rice, 51, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 and Anthony Lascola, 38, of 923 Phoenix Ave., Chester.

Rice said he had halted for the stop sign and then started to pull out but had to stop because of approaching traffic. Lascola agreed that both were stopped, advising officers that when Rice halted the second time he was unable to avoid the crash.

Lester Hart Elected Palestine Bank Head

EAST PALESTINE — Lester E. Hart was named president of the First National Bank at a meeting of directors Tuesday night. He succeeds G. A. Quay, who died two weeks ago.

Hart has been at the bank since 1963, coming here from Pickerington near Columbus. He is a native of Fairfield County.

Hart, 611 W. Market St., is married and has two children.

Atty. Jack H. Cohen was named chairman of the board. A new member of the board—Michael D. LaBate, vice president of the Insul Co. and Lakewood Chemical Co.—was appointed.

Council Given List

8 Civic Projects Urged By C. Of C.

City Council was asked Tuesday night by the civic and community affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce to give "prompt consideration" to eight recommendations for civic improvements.

In a letter to Council, H. James Allison Jr., chairman, said the committee suggested the following improvements:

CLEANING of vacant lots with the necessary law enforcement by which the cost would be charged back to the property owner if not taken care of in the specified time period;

An effective ordinance under which sidewalks and curbs would be installed and maintained;

Purchase of new parking meters to replace old worn-out meters;

Take the necessary steps to take advantage of the offer for parking lot space made by W. Leland Thompson;

Synchronization of traffic lights in the downtown area and through the main thoroughfare in the East End;

Installation of walk lights, particularly in the business district;

Erection of a band shell in Thompson Park, and

Record-Breaking Year Forecast For Economy

The national economy has risen to new heights for six successive years, and an "early bird" look at 1965 suggests it will be the seventh record-breaking year in a row, a Cleveland economist told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

James M. Dawson, a vice president and economist with the National City Bank of Cleveland, predicted continued prosperity next year, with the economy to continue a "remarkably-steady" climb that started in 1961. He spoke during Rotary's weekly luncheon meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Whether one measures the advance by referring to industrial production or to the gross national product, the U. S. economy has climbed steadily in the last six years, Dawson said.

"FURTHERMORE, it has been a real advance in the sense that gross national product data in constant dollars, adjusted for rising prices, likewise have attained successive new highs."

His conclusion of another record-breaking year for the economy was reached by examining prospects for purchases by consumers, business and government — the three major "purchasing agents" of the economy. "It is a conclusion fortified by tax cuts already scheduled for 1965, plus possible additional cuts in excise taxes," he told the club.

CONSUMERS, who purchase two-thirds of the economy's output, have added to their expenditures for 22 successive years and next year should be No. 23, the Cleveland economist declared. He explained this would be after eliminating the effect of rising prices.

"One has to go all the way back to 1942, in the years of World War II, when there was nothing to buy, to find a year when the real volume of consumer purchases suffered a drop," he said. "Even in the four postwar recession years, consumer spending has moved up," Dawson added.

The outlook also was seen good for the two critical factors in the business cycle — business outlays for inventories and capital goods or plant and equipment.

For two years, inventories have risen less than business activity, thus the inventory to shipments ratio is just about at a 12-year low. A swing in inventory policy strong enough to trigger a significant economic downturn is not in sight, Dawson said. In other words, he explained, inventories are getting lower in relation to the amount of business being done.

"I think at this early stage of the game, we're justified in being optimistic about 1965," he said.

ASSERTING that "the farther we look into the future, the bigger the question mark," Dawson said the second half of fiscal 1965 is likely to be prosperous because of anticipated tax cuts.

He reported the "long - term" outlook favorable, based on studies of industrial production since 1890. The basic trend has been upward. Industrial production tripled between 1890 and 1910, then doubled in each 20-year period since.

The influx of "young people" into the business picture is also a good sign, he said. "They will be consumers of more goods than they produce, as they are in an age bracket where they do a lot of borrowing for houses, cars and appliances."

"There also will be a greater demand for labor," Dawson said in reference to the new crop of consumers.

As for trends within 1965, there is time for conditions to develop which could bring on a business setback later in the year. However, next year will start well above this year's average and prospects for the first half of 1965 are quite good.

For benefit of members who play the stock market, Dawson screened a series of Dow-Jones Industrial Averages showing the average of behavior of 30 common stocks. The idea was to emphasize the importance of knowing what a stock has done or is doing, rather than when will the market go up or down, he said.

FOR EXAMPLE, in the calendar year 1958, U. S. Steel led the list with a gain of 87 per cent and Chrysler Corp. showed a 2 per cent decline.

However, in 1962, Chrysler gained 51 per cent and U. S. Steel dropped 44 per cent. The following year, Chrysler topped the list with a 127 per cent gain and is "leading the pack" again this year, Dawson explained.

A former economist for the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank and a graduate of Wooster University, Dawson was introduced by Gordon E. Starkey, president of the Potters Bank & Trust Co., who was program chairman.

Alvin T. Babb inducted the Rev. D. Ross Salisbury, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church; Jack Allison, treasurer of the National Church Supply Co. of Chester, and W. E. (Pete) Kaiser, local realtor, as new members.

Guests were James A. Reaney, executive vice president, and Roy H. Wilson, trust officer, of the First National Bank, and John Starkey, son of the program chairman.

Maine Girl, 22, Wins Island In Car Contest

SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Like to own a desert island? A South Portland girl has won one.

2 Hang By Belts High Over Chicago's Loop

The men, Juan Mendez, 32, and Curtis Kulzer, 39, fell off a scaffold on the new U.S. courthouse hung in the air.

Authorities Continue Hearing In Job Death

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A hearing on charges against a Youngstown, Ohio painting contractor involving the death of a teen-age employe has been continued to next Monday.

Nick Morakis, owner of Morakis & Sons of Youngstown, is charged with violating state safety and child labor laws arising from the death of 16-year-old Louis Smathrakis of Monessen, Pa.

Smathrakis was killed June 22 when he fell 85 feet from an electric tower in nearby Jefferson Borough. State officials says Morakis violated the Child Labor Act by not requiring the youth to produce working papers and state safety laws by not providing his workers with safety equipment, such as belts, goggles and helmets.

Teen-Ager Learns A Secret

A pre-teener has just found out that the backbone of glamour is posture. It's heartening to hear from a young lady who has what it takes to stand up and prove she has backbone. So all of you 12-year-olds who claim you "just can't" straighten up and fly right, get with it. Here's what she writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"I made it! I feel great, I look great too, and I'm really happy. I slimmed down nine pounds, but what really helped was practicing good posture. I found that posture does shape one's figure! Until I got on the posture beam, I looked as though I had 50 excess pounds on my stomach and hips.

—:—

"BEST OF ALL, I no longer want to stuff. The biggest change I made in my eating was to cut out sweets. Now that I'm eating good meals but not so much, I don't feel hungry the way I used to. I reached my goal more than a month ago, and I've kept my exact weight of 110 pounds for 5' 3". I'll never let myself get heavy again, or let my posture slip or slump either."

Three rousing cheers for you, honey! Now, remember our tall girl, 5' 10", who tipped the scales at 165 pounds? She was the young lady who asked if she could report. Her first report was woeful. . .

"Sorry to say my story follows the same dismal pattern—no progress! When I begin to eat I simply can't stop. I usually get all my calories at one time, for I keep on eating until I'm stuffed! And the sad part is that I fill up on sweets. I really have a sweet tooth!

"This summer I'm baby sitting 10 hours a day with two young babies, so I have nobody to talk with. This all adds up to extreme boredom and drastic overeating. Nearby there is a baked goods store which sells packaged pastry at half price. But I'm beginning to hate my flabby, fat self. So, once again I'm resolved to tackle the problem. More late. . ." Just received

"HURRAH — I'm on a health kick, a good health kick. I have a great goal and a wonderful reward. My mother told me that I should take part of my summer earnings and buy new clothes. No, Ida Jean, what would be the sense in spending all that money on a sloppy figure? I had to work too hard for that money! Besides, if your figure is poor, even new clothes will not look attractive. So, I have a goal. To bring my weight to 145 pounds. . .20 pounds to lose. Every day I plan to record everything I eat. It may sound funny to you, but I have to report this to you so that I will stick it out. Thanks again for a good listening ear. I feel better already."

Sharon, you sound like a wonderful young lady. Remember that heart's desire is of the spirit. Picture yourself the way you want to become. . .go at it with a joyousness. The feeling of elation expressed in your letter promises victory!

President Slates October Speech In Ohio's Capital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Johnson is tentatively scheduled to make a campaign speech here either Oct. 23 or Oct. 28.

State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman made that announcement Tuesday but emphasized that the dates are tentative.

The President is scheduled to make an address in Cleveland on Oct. 8.

White House officials apparently are working with Ohio Democrats on a schedule for the President to campaign on one of the two dates in two or three cities, Columbus, Cincinnati and Dayton.

It was reported that Columbus could be sure of being one of the two stopping points, since eastern Ohioans would find the capital city convenient.

Coleman said Johnson's plans call for flights between the two cities selected, ruling out a motorcade and possible stops at smaller cities en route.

Record-Breaking Year Forecast For Economy

The national economy has risen to new heights for six successive years, and an "early bird" look at 1965 suggests it will be the seventh record-breaking year in a row, a Cleveland economist told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

James M. Dawson, a vice president and economist with the National City Bank of Cleveland, predicted continued prosperity next year, with the economy to continue a "remarkably-steady" climb that started in 1961. He spoke during Rotary's weekly luncheon meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Whether one measures the advance by referring to industrial production or to the gross national product, the U. S. economy has climbed steadily in the last six years, Dawson said.

"FURTHERMORE, it has been a real advance in the sense that gross national product data in constant dollars, adjusted for rising prices, likewise have attained successive new highs."

His conclusion of another record-breaking year for the economy was reached by examining prospects for purchases by consumers, business and government — the three major "purchasing agents" of the economy. "It is a conclusion fortified by tax cuts already scheduled for 1965, plus possible additional cuts in excise taxes," he told the club.

CONSUMERS, who purchase two-thirds of the economy's output, have added to their expenditures for 22 successive years and next year should be No. 23, the Cleveland economist declared. He explained this would be after eliminating the effect of rising prices.

"One has to go all the way back to 1942, in the years of World War II, when there was nothing to buy, to find a year when the real volume of consumer purchases suffered a drop," he said. "Even in the four postwar recession years, consumer spending has moved up," Dawson added.

The outlook also was seen good for the two critical factors in the business cycle — business outlays for inventories and capital goods or plant and equipment.

For two years, inventories have risen less than business activity, thus the inventory to shipments ratio is just about at a 12-year low. A swing in inventory policy strong enough to trigger a significant economic downturn is not in sight, Dawson said. In other words, he explained, inventories are getting lower in relation to the amount of business being done.

"I think at this early stage of the game, we're justified in being optimistic about 1965," he said.

ASSERTING that "the farther we look into the future, the bigger the question mark," Dawson said the second half of fiscal 1965 is likely to be prosperous because of anticipated tax cuts.

He reported the "long - term" outlook favorable, based on studies of industrial production since 1890. The basic trend has been upward. Industrial production tripled between 1890 and 1910, then doubled in each 20-year period since.

The influx of "young people" into the business picture is also a good sign, he said. "They will be consumers of more goods than they produce, as they are in an age bracket where they do a lot of borrowing for houses, cars and appliances."

"There also will be a greater demand for labor," Dawson said in reference to the new crop of consumers.

As for trends within 1965, there is time for conditions to develop which could bring on a business setback later in the year. However, next year will start well above this year's average and prospects for the first half of 1965 are quite good.

For benefit of members who play the stock market, Dawson screened a series of Dow-Jones Industrial Averages showing the average of behavior of 30 common stocks. The idea was to emphasize the importance of knowing what a stock has done or is doing, rather than when will the market go up or down, he said.

FOR EXAMPLE, in the calendar year 1958, U. S. Steel led the list with a gain of 87 per cent and Chrysler Corp. showed a 2 per cent decline.

However, in 1962, Chrysler gained 51 per cent and U. S. Steel dropped 44 per cent. The following year, Chrysler topped the list with a 127 per cent gain and is "leading the pack" again this year, Dawson explained.

A former economist for the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank and a graduate of Wooster University, Dawson was introduced by Gordon E. Starkey, president of the Potters Bank & Trust Co., who was program chairman.

Alvin T. Babb inducted the Rev. D. Ross Salisbury, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church; Jack Allison, treasurer of the National Church Supply Co. of Chester, and W. E. (Pete) Kaiser, local realtor, as new members.

Guests were James A. Reaney, executive vice president, and Roy H. Wilson, trust officer, of the First National Bank, and John Starkey, son of the program chairman.

Maine Girl, 22, Wins Island In Car Contest

SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Like to own a desert island? A South Portland girl has won one.

There isn't even a tree on the two-acre rock. Just grass and scrub growth.

2 Hang By Belts High Over Chicago's Loop

The men, Juan Mendez, 32, and Curtis Kulzer, 39, fell off a scaffold on the new U.S. courthouse hung in the air.

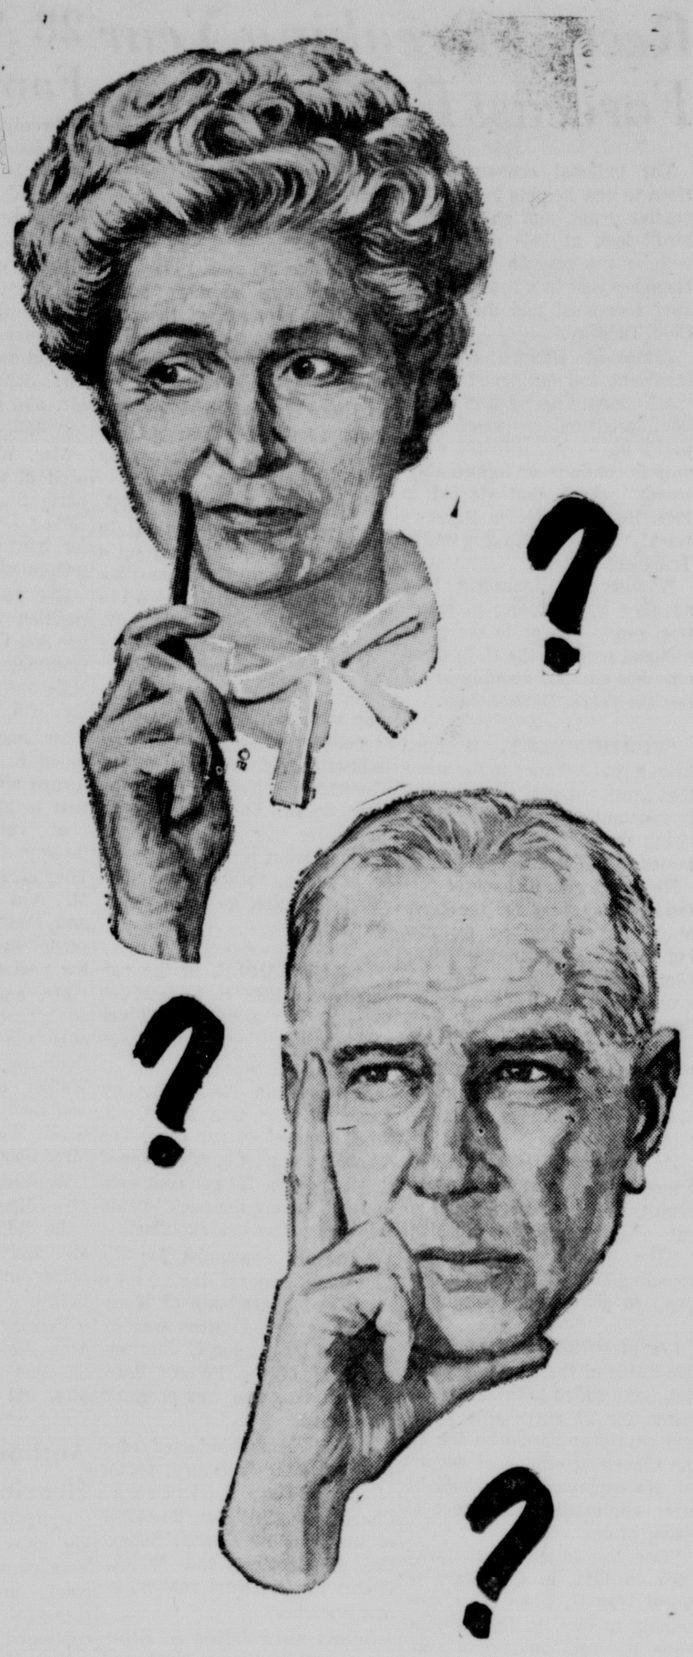
IS THERE ANY DOUBT



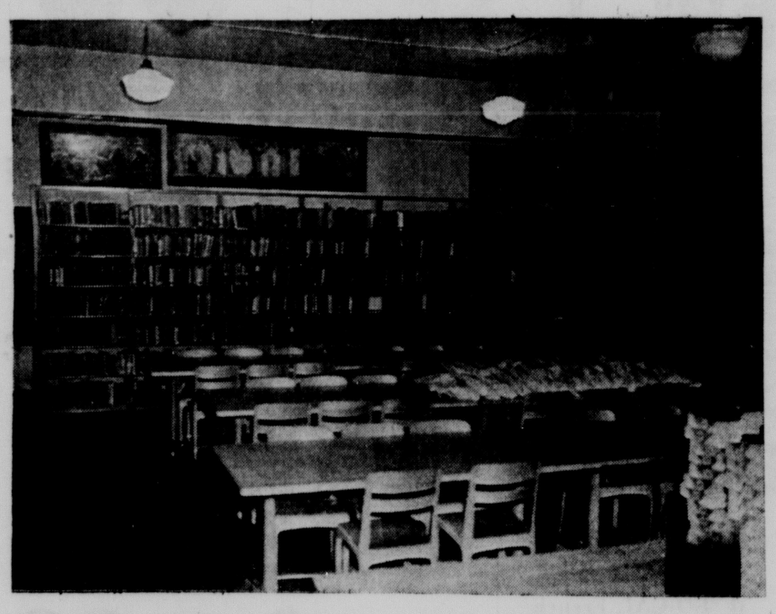
The deterioration of East Liverpool High School (Built in 1914) and the decay of Central Building (Built in 1894) is obvious to any viewer from the outside.

But within lie the outmoded classrooms, crumbling walls, inadequate lighting, inefficient heating, obsolete equipment, fire and health hazards, crowded laboratories, shops and study hall.

See for yourself the conditions under which we are teaching our young people in 1964. Determine whether or not these buildings have outlived their usefulness in educating high school students in an age of rapidly growing technology and new learning.

Don't take anyone's word concerning this vital question on which the proposed school bond issue in next Tuesday's election will be decided. See for yourself!

A sincere study of the school problem will show we need new schools now, we can vote them in now with a savings in construction costs, with a savings on money spent on costly maintenance, and with a clear conscience in knowing we are helping our children, our community and ourselves.



This crowded library is inadequate for proper use by the 1,421 students at the high school.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Several weeks ago my husband's ex-wife ran off with a man. Their daughter, Nola, was instructed to come live with us. We went to court and now have full custody.

Nola likes me and I like her. But many things will have to be changed. She is 11 years old and boy crazy. She wants to wear makeup—eye-goo and the whole bit. She owns two padded bras and has been wearing nylons and heels since she was 10. The girl is lazy, sloppy and mouthy—a carbon copy of her mother.

My patience is wearing thin. What can I do to change this "little darling" into a decent, self-sufficient human being? My husband is on my side and agrees that something must be done. Thank you. — MOTHER NO. 2.

Dear No. 2: The first sentence of the second paragraph conflicts with the views expressed in the rest of your letter. Your hostility toward the girl comes through loud and clear, particularly comparing her with her mother—whom you also despise.

This poor kid probably has been knocked from pillar to post. Small wonder she is boy crazy, sloppy, lazy, mouthy and hostile.

Since your husband is "on your side" (evidence that the war is on) it's apparent that the girl doesn't stand a chance in your home.

Seek professional help through your clergyman and find Nola a foster home where she will be understood and dealt with fairly.

Mail Robbery

Dear Ann: A beautiful young woman who lives in this building has me dizzy. She talks endlessly about three men in her life—all out of town. She tries to create the impression that she is interested in them.

I hope you won't think I'm a sneak, but I know more about this girl than she thinks I know because I have a master key to her mailbox and I've been reading her mail.

Not one of these guys is getting to first base. I can tell from their letters that she doesn't give a hoot about any of them.

A gypsy told me that 1964 would be my year for a big romance. I want this girl to be it. How can I let her know the score without revealing my secret?—ANDY.

Dear Andy: Did the gypsy say you may be taking a long trip—like to Leavenworth? If you don't keep your hands off the neighbor's mail, it could happen.

So far as the girl goes, make a positive pitch on your own and forget about the "competition."

Tie-Breaker

Dear Ann: We need a referee. You are it. My husband and son-in-law are on one side, my daughter and I are on the other.

Marjorie is going to the hospital in about six weeks to have her first child. I want Marjorie and the new baby to come to our home from the hospital so I can help her take care of the infant for two or three weeks.

Marjorie's husband wants his wife and baby to go to their small apartment from the hospital. He says if I want to help out I can come to their place. This means I won't be able to spend the nights there unless I sleep on a cot. I hate cots.

What is your decision?—TWO TO TWO.

Dear Two to Two: It's three to two now—I'm voting with the men.

If you want to help out, fine, but go to Marjorie's apartment for a few hours daily, and sleep in your own bed.

Many new mothers manage to get through the nights in small apartments without mama, and Marjorie can do it, too—if she wants to.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Four Of One Family To Attend Marshall U.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Four members of one family attending Marshall University at once probably isn't a record, but represents a staggering amount of tuition and books.

When classes open Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller of Huntington will have three daughters and a son in attendance—Jim, 17; Donna Kay, 22; Anna, 27, and Sharon, 19.

Jim will be a freshman at Marshall, although he won't be graduated from Huntington High School until next June. By attending summer school, Jim managed to complete high school work a year early and enter Marshall. He plans to study for the ministry.

3 County Courts Pay $3,847 To Treasurer

LISBON — The three County Courts paid the county treasurer $3,847.44 in fines and costs for August, according to the report of Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

Another $1,552.50 went to the state in fines in State Highway Patrol and other state arrests.

The courts in Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon handled 322 criminal cases and 76 civil during the month and the sheriff, constable and city police fees amounted to $269.03.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Lucy's Gimmick Is International

Every television star searches for some gimmick this time of year to let the viewers know that his or her show is about to begin a new season.

Hal Humphrey

Jackie Gleason rented a special train amid much press - agent fanfare to move himself and cast to Miami, where he will do his shows this season. Others are busy traveling to what the industry calls "key rating cities" to be interviewed and hosted by the city fathers.

Biggest of these publicity splashes was made in New York last week by Lucille Ball, who has less need for it than anyone because for 13 years she has had a majority of TV fans watching her.

"LUCY DAY at the New York World's Fair" was her gimmick, nevertheless, and it has paid off handsomely. With a press entourage bigger than a presidential candidate's, Lucy toured the fair and did everything but kiss babies (there were none around).

The reason (as if one was needed) for "Lucy Day" at the fair hinged on the fact that her TV shows now are seen in 44 different countries. On her 14-hour fair tour she visited many of the pavilions representing those countries.

THE SCHEDULE was so tight there frequently wasn't time for the press entourage to follow Lucy everywhere.

"Skip Switzerland and go right to Morocco!" yelled a harassed press agent to the Fourth Estaters at one point.

By the end of the day Lucy was weighted down with awards. She passed up the exotic drinks proffered by each country's official greeter.

"I'd have had the biggest international hangover of all time," she explained later.

At the end of "Lucy Day" she was in considerably better shape than most of her followers, still posing for pictures and generally whooping it up with indefatigable zest.

"THE LUCY SHOW" begins its new season Monday, Sept. 21, at 9 p.m., which is a return to the same time spot she and Desi Arnaz turned into a national institution for six years.

It was this old "I Love Lucy" show which was responsible for inspiring a cycle of situation comedy series on TV. After that came the Western cycle, and now this season the comedy cycle is returning. Except for Red Skelton and Jack Benny, Lucy is the only comic surviving TV from those early days.

On the flight from Los Angeles to New York a preview of Lucy's first show for this season was shown over American Airlines' new Astrovision system, a combination of TV and stereophonic music brought to passengers via 9 - inch screens and headsets at your seat.

WITH THE approaching advent of regular TV transmission by Telstar or Syncom satellites, Astrovision will bring the airline passenger a selection of TV programs from around the world. It is very likely that "The Lucy Show" will still be one of the most popular then also.

At the fair's Indonesian Pavilion we were shown film clips of Lucy episodes which had been dubbed into French, Japanese and Italian for TV viewers in those countries. Lucy's expressive pantomime made translations unnecessary.

As one watches the expansion of TV and its entertainment around the world, and even into airplanes, he becomes more and more impressed with the medium's force. What he doesn't know is whether it is to be for good or evil.

At least we know that Lucy's comedy has not hurt it.

TV Highlights

TONIGHT

7:30, KDKA, CBS Reports: "At Home With Mrs. Goldwater." An informal visit with Mrs. Barry Goldwater at the Goldwater home outside Phoenix. She will conduct a tour of the home.

8, KDKA, The Beatles: "Beatles By The Bay." The program presents films of the arrival, reception and portions of the concert of the Beatles in San Francisco.

8:30, KDKA, Suspense: "Witness to Condemn." Teresa Wright and Warren Stevens co-star in the story of a girl who is fighting to retain her sight following a beating administered by a pair of felons to silence her.

9, KDKA, WSTV, Beverly Hillbillies: When Milburn Drysdale invites the Clampetts to the dignified ground - breaking ceremonies for a new branch of his bank, Jed and his family confuse the event with an old-fashioned "barn raisin'."

9, WIIC, The Real West: The late Gary Cooper is the narrator for this Project 20 program portraying the American West of 1849-1900.

Man In County Traffic Death To Get Patrol

LISBON — The Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission at Columbus has notified Columbiana County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw that a parole from the Ohio Penitentiary will be granted about Oct. 8 to Wayne Hillyer, 35, of Hanoverton.

He was sent up Nov. 12, 1963, for traffic manslaughter in the death of Earl McIntosh, 45, of Hanoverton on Jan. 13, 1962.

Hillyer's car went out of control, striking a bank building then ramming into a tavern in which McIntosh was a patron. Four others in the tavern were injured when the plunging car pushed the bar into the back wall.

Lutz Returns Car In Dispute Over Rhodes' Policies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The battle between the Rhodes administration and Rowland R. Lutz continued today with the ousted parole official minus his office, his state car and — at least temporarily—his job.

The whole thing began last spring when Lutz was transferred as supervisor of Ohio's Bureau of Probation and Parole to the State Pardon and Parole Commission as a hearing officer.

That change—at no cut in pay—followed several instances of Lutz differing with Gov. James A. Rhodes over such thing as Rhodes' austerity program.

Over the weekend, Lutz was removed from his last post on an order signed by Commission Chairman J. Arthur Shuman who alleged that Lutz failed to turn in his state automobile when his jobs changed.

Lutz, terming the action "retaliatory . . . for my having defended the parole system against political intrusion," said he would appeal.

He told newsmen Tuesday he has turned in the car, a 1959 Plymouth which he said is in good condition and has been used by him for five years.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Lucy's Gimmick Is International

Every television star searches for some gimmick this time of year to let the viewers know that his or her show is about to begin a new season.

Hal Humphrey

Jackie Gleason rented a special train amid much press - agent fanfare to move himself and cast to Miami, where he will do his shows this season. Others are busy traveling to what the industry calls "key rating cities" to be interviewed and hosted by the city fathers.

Biggest of these publicity splashes was made in New York last week by Lucille Ball, who has less need for it than anyone because for 13 years she has had a majority of TV fans watching her.

"LUCY DAY at the New York World's Fair" was her gimmick, nevertheless, and it has paid off handsomely. With a press entourage bigger than a presidential candidate's, Lucy toured the fair and did everything but kiss babies (there were none around).

The reason (as if one was needed) for "Lucy Day" at the fair hinged on the fact that her TV shows now are seen in 44 different countries. On her 14-hour fair tour she visited many of the pavilions representing those countries.

THE SCHEDULE was so tight there frequently wasn't time for the press entourage to follow Lucy everywhere.

By the end of the day Lucy was weighted down with awards. She passed up the exotic drinks proffered by each country's official greeter.

"I'd have had the biggest international hangover of all time," she explained later.

At the end of "Lucy Day" she was in considerably better shape than most of her followers, still posing for pictures and generally whooping it up with indefatigable zest.

"THE LUCY SHOW" begins its new season Monday, Sept. 21, at 9 p.m., which is a return to the same time spot she and Desi Arnaz turned into a national institution for six years.

It was this old "I Love Lucy" show which was responsible for inspiring a cycle of situation comedy series on TV. After that came the Western cycle, and now this season the comedy cycle is returning. Except for Red Skelton and Jack Benny, Lucy is the only comic surviving TV from those early days.

On the flight from Los Angeles to New York a preview of Lucy's first show for this season was shown over American Airlines' new Astrovision system, a combination of TV and stereophonic music brought to passengers via 9 - inch screens and headsets at your seat.

WITH THE approaching advent of regular TV transmission by Telstar or Syncom satellites, Astrovision will bring the airline passenger a selection of TV programs from around the world. It is very likely that "The Lucy Show" will still be one of the most popular then also.

At the fair's Indonesian Pavilion we were shown film clips of Lucy episodes which had been dubbed into French, Japanese and Italian for TV viewers in those countries. Lucy's expressive pantomime made translations unnecessary.

As one watches the expansion of TV and its entertainment around the world, and even into airplanes, he becomes more and more impressed with the medium's force. What he doesn't know is whether it is to be for good or evil.

At least we know that Lucy's comedy has not hurt it.

TV Highlights

TONIGHT

7:30, KDKA, CBS Reports: "At Home With Mrs. Goldwater." An informal visit with Mrs. Barry Goldwater at the Goldwater home outside Phoenix. She will conduct a tour of the home.

8, KDKA, The Beatles: "Beatles By The Bay." The program presents films of the arrival, reception and portions of the concert of the Beatles in San Francisco.

8:30, KDKA, Suspense: "Witness to Condemn." Teresa Wright and Warren Stevens co-star in the story of a girl who is fighting to retain her sight following a beating administered by a pair of felons to silence her.

9, KDKA, WSTV, Beverly Hillbillies: When Milburn Drysdale invites the Clampetts to the dignified ground - breaking ceremonies for a new branch of his bank, Jed and his family confuse the event with an old-fashioned "barn raisin'."

9, WIIC, The Real West: The late Gary Cooper is the narrator for this Project 20 program portraying the American West of 1849-1900.

2 Aides Put On 2nd Plane By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who sometimes likes to depart from tradition, flew to Detroit Monday without having a physician or code-carrying military officer aboard his small jet transport.

The doctor and the officer went to Detroit aboard a second plane that flew an identical route. All available space on Johnson's aircraft was occupied by the President and his wife, five Democratic members of Congress from Michigan, two labor union officials, a White House speechwriter and two Secret Service agents.

During the Kennedy administration, and on earlier flights by Johnson, both the physician and the code officer had flown regularly aboard the presidential plane — one available to treat any emergency health problem and the other to hand over top secret codes that the chief executive might urgently need in a national security crisis.

On the Detroit trip, it was learned Tuesday night, the plane that carried the doctor, the military man and other White House aides had a pressurization breakdown and descended from 24,000 feet to 8,000 feet. The White House said this "presented no hazards whatsoever."

The Jetstar was cleared for presidential travel by the Federal Aviation Agency earlier this year, after some modifications were made in the craft.

Some White House and Pentagon officials have expressed unhappiness privately about Johnson's use of a Jetstar, arguing that it lacks the sizable crew, capacity or full range of communications gear available on the regular presidential transport, a Boeing 707.

Ohio Trip Slated For President's Wife Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's First Lady, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, plans to visit Akron and Columbus, Ohio, next week.

The White House said Tuesday she will be the honored guest at a campaign reception in Akron Sept. 17 and will speak at the opening luncheon of the Federated Democratic Women Clubs of Ohio in Columbus Sept. 18.

The reception in Akron will be given by Miss Frances McGovern, 37, an Akron attorney, Democratic candidate for Congress from Ohio's 14th District and a former member of the Ohio Legislature.

The Columbus luncheon, for Democratic women from all over Ohio, will be held in the Neil House at 12:30 p. m. and will kick off a two-day meeting of women at the Ohio State Democratic Convention.

Mrs. Johnson plans to spend the night of Sept. 17 in Akron and return to Washington after the Columbus luncheon the following day.

Fairborn Boy Drowns

2 Aides Put On 2nd Plane By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who sometimes likes to depart from tradition, flew to Detroit Monday without having a physician or code-carrying military officer aboard his small jet transport.

The doctor and the officer went to Detroit aboard a second plane that flew an identical route. All available space on Johnson's aircraft was occupied by the President and his wife, five Democratic members of Congress from Michigan, two labor union officials, a White House speechwriter and two Secret Service agents.

During the Kennedy administration, and on earlier flights by Johnson, both the physician and the code officer had flown regularly aboard the presidential plane — one available to treat any emergency health problem and the other to hand over top secret codes that the chief executive might urgently need in a national security crisis.

On the Detroit trip, it was learned Tuesday night, the plane that carried the doctor, the military man and other White House aides had a pressurization breakdown and descended from 24,000 feet to 8,000 feet. The White House said this "presented no hazards whatsoever."

The Jetstar was cleared for presidential travel by the Federal Aviation Agency earlier this year, after some modifications were made in the craft.

Some White House and Pentagon officials have expressed unhappiness privately about Johnson's use of a Jetstar, arguing that it lacks the sizable crew, capacity or full range of communications gear available on the regular presidential transport, a Boeing 707.

Ohio Trip Slated For President's Wife Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's First Lady, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, plans to visit Akron and Columbus, Ohio, next week.

The White House said Tuesday she will be the honored guest at a campaign reception in Akron Sept. 17 and will speak at the opening luncheon of the Federated Democratic Women Clubs of Ohio in Columbus Sept. 18.

The reception in Akron will be given by Miss Frances McGovern, 37, an Akron attorney, Democratic candidate for Congress from Ohio's 14th District and a former member of the Ohio Legislature.

The Columbus luncheon, for Democratic women from all over Ohio, will be held in the Neil House at 12:30 p. m. and will kick off a two-day meeting of women at the Ohio State Democratic Convention.

Mrs. Johnson plans to spend the night of Sept. 17 in Akron and return to Washington after the Columbus luncheon the following day.

Fairborn Boy Drowns

OFF THE RECORD

"That's a portrait of our firm's founder."

A Stone Wheel

Identified as part of a spinning device, the little round perforated object is the first known Viking household article ever unearthed on this continent. It supports the claim that Norsemen colonized the New World long before Columbus, the National Geographic says.

The artifact was found by Norwegian archeologist Anne Stine Ingstad at L'Anse au Meadow, Newfoundland, a historic site which has been excavated with the support of the society.

Mrs. Ingstad said the 1¼-inch-wide piece of carved soapstone served as a flywheel on a wool-spinning spindle. Technically, it is called a spindle whorl. Iti s the most important single object found at the site.

The find suggests that the New World's adventurous visitors brought women who attended to household talks while their husbands sought — unsuccessfully — to carve out a permanent settlement in "Vinland" some 500 years before Columbus's voyages.

"I am convinced this is a Norse artifact," Mrs. Ingstad said, "because of the material and the way it is shaped—flat at the bottom and rounded at the top. Many similar whorls have been found in Scandinavia and Greenland, dating from Viking times in the Middle Ages."

Du Quoin State Fair Is Family Affair

The Du Quoin Fair has been the scene of the famed Hambletonian Race since 1957.

Gene Hayes' son, Bill, assumes the vice presidency of the fair. D. W. Hayes, Don's son, is secretary.

"It is my sincere hope that the Hambletonian will remain in Du Quoin indefinitely," Hayes said.

Junior Editors Quiz on FUNGUS

QUESTION: Does the bracket fungus live on dead or living trees?

ANSWER: Both Mike (right) and Mark (left) have their own theories on this. Each seems to have found proof to contradict the other. The large group of fungi are simple plants, without the green chlorophyll by which higher plants make their own food. Fungi must live by material supplied by other plants or animal matter. Some fungi are parasites, living on other living things, such as the rusts and moulds which damage wheat plants. But other fungi, like mushrooms and bracket fungi, live on different kinds of dead matter such as rotten wood. It's true Mike has found this fungus on a living tree, but the fungus, is not attacking the living wood; the main part of the fungus, the "mycelium", is inside the trunk and has pentrated to the heartwood of the tree, which is dead; the fungus is breaking this down and digesting it. The outside "bracket" has, underneath, many tiny holes and from these drop "spores" or primitive seeds. These, blown through the air, find some dead tree or gain entrance to a living one by a wound or cut in the surface, when a new mycelium will be formed, which will work its way in until it finds dead wood on which to feed.

FOR YOU TO DO: Go for a walk in the woods and see how many kinds of fungus you can find. Warning: don't try eating wild mushrooms; some are poisonous.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My husband recently devised a perfectly ingenuous way to deflate an air mattress for storage. It is so simple that I cannot imagine why someone has not thought of it before!

After trying for an endless time to pat and flatten the stubborn thing, he connected the vacuum cleaner and placed the nozzle against the plastic opening of the mattress, pressed the switch (sucking all excess air out), and presto. . . the flattest mattress you have ever seen folded neatly with no puffy little corners.

It now lies on the shelf until we will need it again.

TEDDY LAHERTY.

And just what is the matter with deflating miniature swimming pools and swim rings this way? I think it is terrific. Bless you for telling us this hint.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep birds from eating your fresh peaches, plums etc., just cut strips of plastic and tie them in your trees! The wind makes the plastic pop and it scares the birds away.

Also, cow bells (this is a bell you hang on a cow) could be used, but one could substitute any type of bell.

TRYER - OUTER.

DEAR HELOISE: I was about ready to throw away my old bread box, and then I got the bright idea of putting it to good use.

I turned the bread box on it's back. This way it has a divider in it, so I am using it now for storing onions in one side and potatoes in the other side. It makes a very good vegetable bin.

EVELYN W.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who go on picnics and use mustard jars, catsup bottles or just anything trying to weigh down the tablecloth . . . and it just doesn't work . . . here's what we do:

We keep thumb tacks in our picnic basket.

When we arrive we put the cloth on the table and put one thumb tack on each corner and one in the middle of each side of the cloth.

The cloth will never blow away.

When it's time to go home, we just take a knife, remove the thumb tacks and replace them in the basket.

We have also learned, when taking along paper plates and wanting to set the table before the family comes to eat, that we can use one of these thumb tacks to tack the paper plates to the table and then as your plate gets empty . . . you do not have to chase it either!

MRS. MARTINEZ

DEAR HELOISE: For those who live near beaches and have children . . . take along your empty plastic bleach bottles. Cap the top on tightly and throw one in the ocean. It will bob along the waves . . . then try catching it!

You will be surprised how evasive that bottle is and what if it gets lost? All you have to do is pick up another one from your stock of bottles.

IMA FRIEND.

This idea could also be used in any swimming pool! Look at the fun the kiddies would have batting it around! But be SURE the top is glued on tightly as an extra precaution.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't like to use glass ash trays on our patio, because of breakage, so I have painted several tuna fish, pineapple and coffee cans for ash trays. These can't be broken.

Sand, or pebbles, may be put in the bottom for snuffing cigarettes.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: With all the talk about mosquitoes this summer, I thought you would like to know what I do about my house plant which I keep in water.

I simply pour mineral oil in the flower container!

The oil stays on top of the water . . . thus keeping the mosquitoes from breeding. This way you do not have to change the water every week.

DAISY ULMER.

Auditor Raps State Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Financial practices at the Ohio Tubercular Hospital are under fire from the state auditor's office but a hospital spokesman says most of the bookkeeping abuses have already been corrected.

State Auditor Roger W. Tracy made his criticism Tuesday in reporting on an auditor's findings during a 151-week check of the hospital.

Tracy said the practice of treating non-tubercular patients without charge is costing the state $60,000 in revenue and although the hospital has no authority by law to stop the practice it should try to eliminate the revenue loss with insurance and private collections.

Tracy said the state loses $10.50 per patient per day for the non-TB cases. His examiner found 5,371 such patient days in his audit from April 8, 1961 through March 1, 1964.

Other practices criticized included:

—Counties being charged for patients' three-day leaves. The hospital spokesman replied that the patients are given drugs before they leave and their rooms are held for them.

—Employes are taking holiday time off before they work the holidays.

—The hospital is not making prompt deposits to the state's General Revenue Fund. The auditor found deposits made an average of once every three weeks. The law requires weekly deposits.

The hospital is operated by the State Health Department as a facility of the Ohio State University Hospital.

The hospital spokesman said he felt most of the criticism concerned only technical matters.

"They were not critical of our care," he said.

U. S. hospitals employ 1,700,000 persons.

Court Orders 2 To Quit Sales Of Oil Well Leases

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two women have been restrained by a federal court order from conducting what the Securities and Exchange Commission termed fraudulent transactions in worthless Texas oil leases.

Federal Judge James C. Connell issued the temporary order Tuesday and set a preliminary hearing for Sept. 18 at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Jessie McPhee Briggs of Vancouver, B.C., and Mrs. Mary Louise Weichel, wife of a west side osteopath.

The SEC, which requested the order, filed affidavits from nine Cleveland area investors, who claimed they had invested amounts varying from $100 to $6,000 in oil land in Terrell County, Tex. Total loss was set at $11,000.

In its suit the SEC contended that Mrs. Weichel helped sell worthless leases to friends and to medical associates of her husband. The SEC alleged that the woman misrepresented the value of oil leases in Terrell by saying that Standard Oil of Texas was taking vast quantities of oil from a well nearby. Standard Oil actually drilled only one test well in Terrell and plugged it up as a dry hole last year, the SEC said.

Everyone Can Aid In War On Poverty

Most who read this column like to see in it something useful to them directly and personally. But since the launching of the national "War on Poverty," a great many of us are growing aware of the thousands upon thousands of children in various areas of our nation who live with their parents in crowded quarters of a few rooms, sometimes only one.

Dr. Garry Myers

These parents rarely or never have the kind of eating problems we have been writing about in this column — of getting the youngsters to eat what is offered them.

—:—

THESE people have so little to eat and are hungry so often that the main problem is to find enough food. Nor do they have the usual bedtime and sleeping problems. They are lucky to find a place to sleep. There's no problem of teaching tots to be careful of the furniture since there's so little of it.

Most parents who read this column have very little awareness of the great number of parents and children of our own nation denied the comforts and luxuries they themselves enjoy.

In our PTAs, clubs and church groups we think about and talk about people much like ourselves, who know nothing of the deprivations of families of the slums. Naturally we think only about the family problems and school problems which immediately concern us.

It seems to me that we and our children who enjoy comforts and luxuries of life might grow richer inwardly and prove more useful to our fellowmen, more useful to our respective communities and our nation, if we were to acquaint ourselves with and try to do something about some of the problems of the families living in the many deprived areas of our nation.

THEN WE might grow in compassion and consider more ways to help people in the depressed areas to find more opportunities to help themselves.

Perhaps an overlooked opportunity to help those living in deprived slum areas is the development of better educational facilities for them. Very few of them can afford to buy newspapers, magazines and books. Not many of them have good libraries in their local communities, and few of those who have use them well.

As I have reported recently, some college youths are volunteering to help young children in local schools of the slums to read better. And there are high school youths serving voluntarily in nursery schools and local libraries in crowded areas, reading to young children there and guiding them in play. Many of these children continue what they have learned.

In our family conversation with our own children, let us lead them to think about and talk about the needs of the thousands of children in greatly deprived areas of our nation. Let us talk with them about the youths who are volunteering to help many young children in the depressed areas to learn to read, to enjoy books and to develop a desire for a better education.

LET US not feel content until every deprived crowded area has abundant local nursery schools and kindergartens and libraries, with ample volunteers under professional leadership.

It's in the early years that most can be done for the welfare of little children and their parents in the deprived areas.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child" and "Home Helps for Poor Readers —I and II," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

City Woman's Suit Asks For $100,000

A suit for $100,000 for personal injuries and damages resulting from a traffic accident was filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday by Mrs. Abbie Z. Harris, 3230 Curry Rd., East Liverpool.

Robert Adkins of Meadow Rd., East Liverpool, is defendant.

Mrs. Harris claims in her petition that on Oct. 23, 1962, she was driving on St. Clair Ave. and the defendant, without warning, made a left turn, causing their cars to collide. She alleges serious injuries.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My husband recently devised a perfectly ingenuous way to deflate an air mattress for storage. It is so simple that I cannot imagine why someone has not thought of it before!

After trying for an endless time to pat and flatten the stubborn thing, he connected the vacuum cleaner and placed the nozzle against the plastic opening of the mattress, pressed the switch (sucking all excess air out), and presto. . . the flattest mattress you have ever seen folded neatly with no puffy little corners.

It now lies on the shelf until we will need it again.

TEDDY LAHERTY.

And just what is the matter with deflating miniature swimming pools and swim rings this way? I think it is terrific. Bless you for telling us this hint.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep birds from eating your fresh peaches, plums etc., just cut strips of plastic and tie them in your trees! The wind makes the plastic pop and it scares the birds away.

Also, cow bells (this is a bell you hang on a cow) could be used, but one could substitute any type of bell.

TRYER - OUTER.

DEAR HELOISE: I was about ready to throw away my old bread box, and then I got the bright idea of putting it to good use.

I turned the bread box on it's back. This way it has a divider in it, so I am using it now for storing onions in one side and potatoes in the other side. It makes a very good vegetable bin.

EVELYN W.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who go on picnics and use mustard jars, catsup bottles or just anything trying to weigh down the tablecloth . . . and it just doesn't work . . . here's what we do:

We keep thumb tacks in our picnic basket.

When we arrive we put the cloth on the table and put one thumb tack on each corner and one in the middle of each side of the cloth.

The cloth will never blow away.

When it's time to go home, we just take a knife, remove the thumb tacks and replace them in the basket.

We have also learned, when taking along paper plates and wanting to set the table before the family comes to eat, that we can use one of these thumb tacks to tack the paper plates to the table and then as your plate gets empty . . . you do not have to chase it either!

MRS. MARTINEZ

DEAR HELOISE: For those who live near beaches and have children . . . take along your empty plastic bleach bottles. Cap the top on tightly and throw one in the ocean. It will bob along the waves . . . then try catching it!

You will be surprised how evasive that bottle is and what if it gets lost? All you have to do is pick up another one from your stock of bottles.

IMA FRIEND.

This idea could also be used in any swimming pool! Look at the fun the kiddies would have batting it around! But be SURE the top is glued on tightly as an extra precaution.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't like to use glass ash trays on our patio, because of breakage, so I have painted several tuna fish, pineapple and coffee cans for ash trays. These can't be broken.

Sand, or pebbles, may be put in the bottom for snuffing cigarettes.

DEAR HELOISE: With all the talk about mosquitoes this summer, I thought you would like to know what I do about my house plant which I keep in water.

I simply pour mineral oil in the flower container!

The oil stays on top of the water . . . thus keeping the mosquitoes from breeding. This way you do not have to change the water every week.

Auditor Raps State Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Financial practices at the Ohio Tubercular Hospital are under fire from the state auditor's office but a hospital spokesman says most of the bookkeeping abuses have already been corrected.

State Auditor Roger W. Tracy made his criticism Tuesday in reporting on an auditor's findings during a 151-week check of the hospital.

Tracy said the practice of treating non-tubercular patients without charge is costing the state $60,000 in revenue and although the hospital has no authority by law to stop the practice it should try to eliminate the revenue loss with insurance and private collections.

Tracy said the state loses $10.50 per patient per day for the non-TB cases. His examiner found 5,371 such patient days in his audit from April 8, 1961 through March 1, 1964.

Other practices criticized included:

—Counties being charged for patients' three-day leaves. The hospital spokesman replied that the patients are given drugs before they leave and their rooms are held for them.

—The hospital is not making prompt deposits to the state's General Revenue Fund. The auditor found deposits made an average of once every three weeks. The law requires weekly deposits.

The hospital is operated by the State Health Department as a facility of the Ohio State University Hospital.

The hospital spokesman said he felt most of the criticism concerned only technical matters.

"They were not critical of our care," he said.

U. S. hospitals employ 1,700,000 persons.
